CUTICURA SOAP

IMPORTANT - TO POTATO GROWERS

Late blight is active in potato fields throughout the Island. It can cause serious crop losses if allowed to run. You can do three things that will help to protect your crop and prevent tuber rot.

1. SPRAY or DUST, regularly and thoroughly, with DITHANE or other effective fungicides.
2. USE A TOP KILLER when the plants are mature or when you decide to stop spraying.
3. WAIT two or more weeks before digging.

If still undecided what to do we advise getting in touch with the Plant Pathology Laboratory, Charlottetown, for expert advice from them.
