

Woman Seeks Presidency Of Venezuela

CARACAS (AP)—A newspaper woman has entered the Venezuelan presidential race promising an administration run almost entirely by women.

The candidate, who joins a field of at least four others, is Maruja Ramirez Dovele, parachutist and former beauty queen. The election will be held in two years.

In announcing her candidacy, sponsored by the Feminine Revolutionary Advance, Miss Ramirez Dovele promised if elected to give 20 governorships to women, found two big cities in the interior of the country and eliminate the slum problem in Caracas.

Woman Judge Dies At 82

CLEVELAND (AP)—Judge Florence E. Allen, 82, the first woman to serve on the common pleas court here, the Ohio Supreme Court and the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, died Monday night.

Judge Allen, who had been in ill health since she fell and suffered a broken hip in April, 1965, died at her home in suburban Waite Hill.

New Rescue For Pilots Is Tested

GEORGETOWN, Del. (AP)—A parachutist falling at 1,100 feet a minute was snatched out of the sky by a hook-trailing plane Tuesday in a demonstration of a new rescue method designed to save pilots of disabled warplanes from enemy capture.

As U.S. Air Force and government officials watched, parachutist Charles M. Alexander, 37, bailed out of a small plane at about 9,000 feet and floated earthward.

The twin-engine recovery plane swooped past at 120 miles an hour, trailing two hooks designed to grab Alexander's billowing parachute canopy.

As the hooks caught the chute, nylon lines spun out of the plane like a giant fishing reel to soften the shock of the sudden halt of descent. Minutes later they were rolled back to bring the parachutist to the plane.

New Financial News Service Is Considered

NEW YORK (AP)—Dow Jones and Co., Inc., announced Tuesday that in conjunction with The Associated Press it is exploring creation of a new business and financial news service that would be distributed outside North America.

The joint study is based on the premise that Dow Jones would assemble and edit a minute-by-minute global economic news report. The report would be delivered overseas by teleprinter service to brokers, banks, newspapers, businessmen and other subscribers.

Discussions have begun with the hope of starting such an overseas service early next year.

The AP distributes a general news report to more than 100 countries. Overseas economic news now available to the AP overseas operation would be incorporated in the service.

Dow Jones publishes the Wall Street Journal, Barron's National Business and Financial Weekly, the National Observer and the Dow Jones instant news service in the United States and a separately-edited business and financial telegraphic news service in Canada.

Law Approving Disobedience Is Proposed

OTTAWA (CP)—Laws to ensure the right to civil disobedience should be enacted, a national conference was told here.

Toronto lawyer Sidney Linden advocated "the right of an individual to disobey a law he thinks bad."

Alan Borovoy, another Toronto lawyer active in the civil liberties area, upheld "a belief in the law as a way to secure human rights" where racial discrimination is involved.

They were among 15 speakers offering suggestions on what Canada can do for the United Nations International Year for Human Rights in 1968.

Mr. Linden is general counsel of the Canadian Civil Liberties Association while Mr. Borovoy represents the national human rights committee of the Canadian Labor Congress.

State Secretary Judy LaMarsh, the keynote speaker, said that in some areas rights are being reduced to privileges by law.

She was among the advocates of a royal commission on the rights of women, particularly in employment. Other speakers proposed a similar commission on Indians; prohibition of child marriages; removal of mental illness as a barrier to immigration; and facilities to educate an estimated 2,000,000 adult Canadians who have less than Grade seven schooling.
