NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—Queen's weather, yesterday.
—It is semi-officially announced from Madrid that Spain will not consent to the sale of Cuba.
—The people of Ontario, also, are contemplating the prospect of an election before the epidemic subsides.
—The Toronto Globe's Ottawa correspondent intimates that Mr. Laurier may be made an Imperial Privy Councillor at the time of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee celebration.
—The Bank statement for April shows a fairly satisfactory state of trade, though the annual circulation is still considerably below that of 1892 and 1893. We're not all rich yet.

—The Montreal Witness remarks that "a number of the organs of the Liberal party are doing their best to bespeak a vote against prohibition." That is evidently what the leading Liberals in the Government at Ottawa want.
—The Toronto Globe remarks that "at last we have a do-something Government at Ottawa." Yes, the government has tinkered with the tariff, just a little, and thousands of Canadians are out of employment, tobacco has gone up two cents a fig, and other things are higher, while nothing is lower.

—Advices from Ottawa state that there has been a good deal of talk at the capital over a conference which lately took place between Mr. Laurier and Sir Charles Tupper as to the close of the session. It is stated that the Premier waited upon Sir Charles and suggested that with the consent of the Opposition and in order to secure an early prorogation, the Government should drop everything, except the estimates, but subsequently added the prohibition plebiscite bill. Sir Charles Tupper expressed his willingness to join in this arrangement and a bargain was struck. "But it now looks as if the deal is off. Report has it that the western Liberal members are practically on strike. There was not one in the House the afternoon, they were conferring with Messrs. Greenway and Watson about the duties affecting the Northwest. They want free agricultural implements. The Quebec members say to the arrangement with the Grand Trunk must go through this session. This involves the Victoria Bridge and Intercolonial extension.

—The Bank statement for April shows a fairly satisfactory state of trade, though the annual circulation is still considerably below that of 1892 and 1893. We're not all rich yet.

THE VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES.

It is conceded by all that excellent work is being done by the trained nurses now in Canada. Among those whose acts of kindness are known of all men and woman are the members of societies and churches, and the sisterhoods of the Roman Catholic Church. Their lives are full of unselfish labour and love, and any life with that experience is saved from being poor. In the sparsely settled parts of Canada, and in the homes of the poor of cities and towns, and even in the homes of those of moderate incomes, there is a need of trained nurses whose services could be obtained at a small charge. The country sections call for competent doctors, and if the doctors are supplemented by trained nurses they could each cover more ground. The trained nurses would also carry valuable knowledge of a most practical sort into the homes of the people. This is what the Victorian Order of Nurses will accomplish.

—Dundas Banner: Too often people say England when they mean Great Britain, and not only Great Britain but Great Britain and Ireland. It is always England in the cable despatches; England's policy in regard to Greece is this or that; England will do so and so in regard to South Africa and so on. We all know what is meant—not England alone but Ireland and Scotland as well, and it is only fair to bear in mind that Ireland and Scotland have done as much as England to build up the British Empire and make it what it is, the greatest empire the world has ever seen.

METRODISM.—Charlottetown District. The annual meeting will be held at Clifton, on the Pownal circuit, on Wednesday June 16th, beginning at 2 o'clock, p. m. Lay representatives will please be in attendance on the following morning, Thursday June 17th, at 9 o'clock. GEO. M. CAMPBELL, Chairman, H. R. BAKER, Sec'y.

W. C. T. U.—As Monday will be a public holiday, the W. C. T. U. will hold their weekly meeting on Wednesday afternoon, 26th, when Miss Adams will give a "Health Talk" to mothers and daughters. All are invited. As this will be both interesting and instructive, we would like a large audience. Meeting at 4 o'clock, p. m.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

Many Private Excursions—Excursion to Picton—The Abbies Win.

Queen's weather prevailed throughout yesterday, and the holiday was generally observed. The public offices, banks and places of business were closed during the day, and from the public buildings, and various private flag staffs the royal colors floated. The shipping in the harbor was also decorated with flags, presenting a splendid appearance.

At noon a royal salute was fired from Fort Edward by a detachment from No 1 Co., C. A., under command of Captain Davison.

The livery stables were depleted early in the day, and the bicycle liveries were also well patronized. There were fishing parties by team and train, and many tall "fish stories" are in circulation to-day. In short every one who could get out of the city did so.

The excursion to Picton in the Princess was largely patronized, and proved most enjoyable. The steamer left Charlottetown at seven in the morning and returned about the same time in the evening. The excursion was under the auspices of the League of the Cross, and their fine band accompanied the excursionists.

In connection with the excursion a football match was played at Picton between a local team and a team from the Abegweits. The game resulted in a splendid victory for the Abegweits, the score at the close standing 10 to 0 in their favor. The Picton team put up a very good game, but the Abbies were too many for them and applied a generous dose of whitewash. The match was refereed by Mr. Frank Cotton, formerly of Charlottetown but now of Truro, who gave the fullest satisfaction.

POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Another Big Day—Michael Madden and Benny Byers in Trouble Again.

Michael Madden, a character well known in police court circles, was this morning arraigned on four separate charges. For an assault on William A. Hawley, in February last, Michael was sentenced to two months imprisonment, and for assaulting Benj. Byers about the same time he was given another two months. Madden was also fined $90 or 90 days for drunkenness. A charge of larceny preferred against him was dismissed.

Mary Palmer, alias "Sis" White, for being drunk and out at an early hour on Sunday morning with a well-known colored citizen, was fined $30 or 90 days imprisonment. The prisoner asked for a chance, promising to go the country and look after her family. The Court gave her a chance to do so, telling her at the same time that if she should return the sentence would be carried into effect.

Two lads named Angus McKee and Michael Burke were arraigned on a charge of stealing a quantity of tobacco, confectionery, etc., from Carvell Bros' store on Sunday morning. They were remanded until Monday next for further evidence.

Mary Byers, colored, had her husband, Benny Byers, also colored, arrested for assault and battery. Benny has lately been neglecting to support his wife, and has on several occasions turned her and her children out of doors compelling them to seek shelter in barns or anywhere else they could find a resting place. The case was continued until the 31st.

A charge of drunkenness preferred against Byers was also continued until the same date.

OUR QUEEN.

"Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all."—Prov. xxxi, 29.

Beloved Queen and Empress, we Who kept with joy thy Jubilee,
New songs most grateful raise,
We offer up our praise to Him,
Enthroned amidst the Seraphim,
Who lengthens out thy days.

No reign of all thy noble line
Can be compared at all with thine—
Sixty illustrious years.
A glorious reign! Excelling all,
Yet hast thou bowed beneath the pail,
Baptized with many tears.

Nature's "one touch"—the mourners
tears,
As Wife and Mother, made thee dear
To those oppressed with grief.
From kindly heart thy message sent,
Of sympathy, with sorrow blent,
Has often borne relief.

Sovereign never laid on Patriot's shrine
A heart and life more pure than thine,
Our most beloved Queen!
Vicissitudes and war's alarms,
Ne'er found thy womanhood at arms,
But self-possessed serene.

"The meek and quiet spirit" sheds
On earthly courts and crowned heads
A glory all its own.
And as in thee these graces blend,
Thy queenly virtues far transcend
The lustre of that throne.

Which kings and queens have handed down,
Associate with the royal crown
From hoary ages past.
They shine with radiance brighter far
Than "Koh-i-noor" or "Morning Star,"
And shall for ever last!

WHEN WE CRITICISE FRIENDS

The Kindness of Ignoring Trivial Mistakes in Our Daily Life.

"There are two kinds of mistakes, mistakes of moment and trivial mistakes," writes Edward W. Bok in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Undoubtedly the best service which one friend can render another is to save him from a mistake liable to be serious in its results. In such an act lies true friendship. But in these days of criticism, when we are apt to criticise everything and everybody, we are all too apt to correct mistakes which are absolutely trivial and not worth correcting. And yet in calling attention to them we often hurt the feelings of our best friends. Not one of us, even the most good-natured, likes to have his mistakes pointed out. We may appear not to mind corrections and accept them with a smile, but it is human nature to smart under correction, although some of us may be clever enough to conceal the smart; hence the fewer mistakes we call attention to in others the better.

"Two-thirds of the mistakes we make are trivial. Their correction is unimportant. Why then notice them? Yet some people do, and do so constantly. A person speaks of having done a certain thing on Thursday, when in reality it was done on Wednesday. If no important point is involved, why call attention to the mistake? What good does it do to have the exact day set right? It is a matter of no importance, so why insist upon correcting the trivial error? Staunch friendships have often been pricked by this needle of useless correction. It is a great art—this art of learning to allow others to be mistaken when the mistake is unimportant. Few learn it, but those who do are among the most comfortable friends one can have."

A Lively Roman Sauce.

Garum, the black green sauce of the Romans, was a species of universal condiment, but its principal use was for fish. The recipe is as follows: Let the cook take several fishes, it matters not much which, but mackerel are the best for the purpose. Let him take out their entrails and put them in vinegar and leave them there for ten days. Then let them be taken out and dried and powdered in a mortar with pepper, fennel, roots of dandelion, mint, thyme, sage and a little ginger, and well mixed, after which the powder must be put in jars, together with honey, and left to ferment during several weeks. When ready for the table, it must be mixed with Falernian wine.—New York Post.

THE GOODS YOU WANT AS YOU WANT THEM

We could give a good many reasons why we do the biggest Furniture trade in the Province. But ONE FACT covers all—we have the goods you want at prices you want to pay. Everything is good and reliable. We get a good deal of credit for selling things too cheap but making ourselves our goods costs us less. It's easy to sell things for too little; hard to sell them for too much—that's the reason trade is brisk at "The Home Makers."
