

Father Farrelly Speaks On Yalta Papers

A brilliant and timely address on the recent release of the Yalta documents was given yesterday morning by Rev. T. P. Farrelly, S.J., as he spoke to the Charlotteville Council Knights of Columbus at their annual Communion breakfast at the Charlotteville Hotel.

Father Farrelly, who obtained a Masters Degree in Political Science before entering the Seminary and who is a keen student of political affairs, stated that recent release of the documents was an error and would do more harm than good.

He stated that partisan politics played a prominent part in the release at the present time. With reference to the main parties involved at the Yalta meeting, he stated that Winston Churchill and Anthony Eden were the only two who showed any principle in dealing with the affairs of the European nations.

He said there was little Christian thought exhibited at the meeting especially by Stalin and Roosevelt. He commended Churchill for his vision on a number of points with regard to the Poles, Germans and French.

Father Farrelly dealt with the background leading up to the conference and he noted that a famous Cardinal in England had predicted early in the war that the peace in the world would depend upon the manner in which Poland was restored.

A large gathering of Knights heard Father Farrelly's address. The breakfast was presided over by Deputy Grand Knight J. T. Doyle, who introduced the guest speaker.

A vote of thanks to Father Farrelly was moved by Mr. William Brown and seconded by Mr. Charles Boudreau.

Among those seated at the table were State Deputy Leo F. MacDonnell, Grand Knight George Cheverie, Past Grand Knights Dr. J. A. MacMillan, Robert E. Bradley, Walter Morrissey, Russell St. John and Financial Secretary Ben Callaghan.

The Knights had attended eight o'clock Mass at the St. Dunstan's Basilica prior to the breakfast.

Yanks Look Over Equipment For Germans

WASHINGTON (AP) - French ratification of the West German rearmament treaty Sunday set U.S. military stockpilers off on a rapid re-survey of the equipment they have been storing up for the Germans.

Some of it may no longer be what the West German republic needs.

A defence department spokesman said Germany's capacity to turn out hardware has grown substantially since 1953 when the United States began planning and earmarking hundreds of millions of dollars worth of equipment for a German army and air force.

One of the first steps now will be an "acceleration" of consultations on German needs which have been under way for months.

RAPID RECOVERY - The rapid recovery of German industry during the last two years, the spokesman said, has put the republic in a position where it probably can produce some of its own light arms, automotive equipment and similar material.

Nevertheless, it was emphasized that the United States will be useful and urgently needed. This presumably includes such items as radar warning systems.

Air force officials said their plans include providing defence type planes for the new German air force and the training of pilots. Some of the training will be in the United States.

Death Of Island Born Educationalist

Funeral services for Mrs. Louisa Holman Fisk, 94, Boston University trustee and former vice-president of the Fisk Teachers' Agency, were held in the First Methodist Church, Boston.

She died Friday, March 18, at her home, 135 Winthrop road, Brookline.

Mrs. Fisk had been a trustee of Boston University since 1922 and was founder and honorary president of the Boston University Women's Council.

RECEIVED DOCTORATE - Born in Charlotteville, Prince Edward Island, Mrs. Fisk was graduated from B. U. in 1933 and subsequently received a master's degree and doctor of philosophy degree there. In 1941, she was awarded an honorary doctor of letters degree by the university.

After some years of teaching Latin, Greek and the history of art at such schools as Lasell Junior College, Ohio Wesleyan and Olivet College in Michigan, she returned to Boston in 1915.

She was credited with establishing the office of dean of women at Boston University and donated a building for the B. U. Women's Council at 146 Commonwealth Ave. In 1951, on her 90th birthday, the building was named the Louisa Holman Fisk Building in her honor.

Until a few months ago, Mrs. Fisk was vice president and treasurer of the nationally-known Fisk Teachers' Agency at Boston, founded by her late husband, Everett O. Fisk.

She was former executive secretary of the British-American Union at Paris, France, former president of the Boston Branch, American Association of University Women and a former member of the P.E.O. Sorority, Phi Beta Kappa, Women's City Club, Twentieth Century Club, Academy of Political Sciences, the Empire Crittenton League and the Waldensian Aid Society of Boston.

Anglers Hopeful - Anglers are keeping their fingers crossed these days as the water of North River is allowed to ebb and flow with the tide through the causeway overflow. By arrangement, which may be effectively used, the water is permitted to have free course into the upper reaches of the river and it is believed that trout and smelt will follow their natural inclination to work up the river twice a day with the tide.

Later when a survey has been made, the possibility of keeping the fishing on a plane, at least equal to that of past years in the upper reaches of the river, will be fully investigated.

ARREST PARISH PRIEST - BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentine police, continuing the government's campaign against the Roman Catholic church, arrested Rev. Sergio Loidi, parish priest at General Cabrera in Cordoba province Saturday. Charges against him were not disclosed. Last Wednesday friar Jose Maria Valis was sentenced to 10 days for "spreading false reports tending to alarm the population."

MOSCOW. (Reuters) - Soviet president Kliment Voroshilov Saturday warned the West that war would not bring the end of civilization as the Western countries maintain, but the end of "the capitalist system which has outlived its time."

In Memoriam - In loving memory of my dear Mother, Mrs. Edwin C. Arthur, who passed away March 28th, 1953.

There is an open gate at the end of the road, Through which we must go alone, And there is a light we cannot see, Our Father claims His own.

Beyond the gate our loved one Finds happiness and rest, And there is comfort in the thought That a loving God knows best.

and Granddaughter Eleanor. Sadly Missed by Daughter Evelyn

In loving memory of Mrs. Jamie Magee who departed this life March 28th, 1947.

Western World Cheers French Action On Pacts

LONDON. (Reuters)—The Western world cheered France's final approval of the German rearmament treaties Sunday.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer applauded the French action as an "important step toward the establishment of peace in Europe." He told reporters at Bonn that close French-German co-operation in an atmosphere of mutual confidence could now be seen.

U. S. State Secretary John Foster Dulles described the French Senate's ratification of the Paris treaties Sunday as "an event of great significance for the free world."

In London, British diplomatic quarters hailed the French vote as ensuring France's continued place as one of the "Big Four" powers and a bastion of the Western alliance.

NOT "AUTHENTIC" WILL - Moscow radio said the French Senate's approval "does not represent the authentic will of the French people and is only the result of various manoeuvres and of pressure put on French parliamentarians from abroad."

It said in a French language broadcast that ratification of the agreements was pushing France "onto the dangerous path which may lead to a repetition for her of the year 1914 and 1940."

France Agrees

France has agreed to ratify the German rearmament treaty, a move which will allow the West German republic to begin producing its own arms and military equipment.

The agreement was reached after a long and difficult process of negotiations between the two countries.

The treaty allows Germany to have a limited number of soldiers and to produce a small number of tanks and aircraft.

The agreement is seen as a major step towards the reunification of Germany.

It is also seen as a sign of the growing cooperation between the West and the newly re-armed Germany.

"Fairview" Carried Off Course By Drift Ice But Makes Port On Own Power

Shortly after leaving on her nine o'clock trip yesterday morning the Rocky Point ferry, Fairview, ran into drift ice just off Canoe Point and a heavy south east wind soon carried the boat up the North River to a point opposite the old York Point wharf.

It was not until 1:00 p.m. when the tide began to drop, that the boat was able to make slow headway out of the ice. It arrived back at the ferry wharf at 2:30.

Captain Taylor, in reporting the incident, said that the ferry was not in any immediate danger but if it had not been found possible to extricate the boat from the ice before the tide fell, the result would have been more serious, since the point at which the craft was stuck has no water at low tide.

There were two cars and eight passengers aboard the Fairview during the time it was caught in the ice and Department of Public Works officials were making preparations to send a tug to the assistance of the stranded ship. However, with a drop in the tide it was able to make port under her own power.

The Fairview started running last Friday when it made five round trips and seven on Saturday. Captain Taylor reports that a large amount of drift ice came in from the Straits yesterday, causing the difficulty in navigation. No damage was reported to the ship which will continue its regular trips today.

Three Receive Injuries In Car Collision Sunday

A head on collision between two automobiles at about 11:00 o'clock on Saturday night, sent three men to the hospital with injuries. Roy Steel, City, reported by police to be driving with Percy Wigmore and Central Royalty was taken to the Prince Edward Island Hospital suffering face lacerations and head injuries when the Wigmore car collided with a parked car in which two brothers, Keith and Eldrick Smith of North Ruston, had been riding but had stopped to make repairs near St. Dunstan's College.

The Smith car at the time of the accident is reported to have been stopped on the right side of the road, facing north. The car in which Wigmore was driving was proceeding towards Charlotteville. The Smith brothers were injured to a lesser degree in the collision which badly damaged the two cars involved.

U. K. Newspapers Strike-bound

LONDON (AP) - Britain went without its national Sunday papers Sunday for the first time in nearly 30 years - and the lack of news was the biggest news in the news-starved nation.

The BBC opened its newscasts with detailed reports on the strike which has shut down the 10 big national dailies. It Sunday papers and London's three evening papers.

In pubs and clubs, anxious groups huddled in barroom corners to work out next week's football pools without benefit of the Sunday paper tipsters.

Newscasters reported a record business in weekend magazines. Londoners, the most avid newspaper consumers in the world, even bought out back stocks of kids comics in the desperate hunt for something to read.

Labor and management reported continued deadlock in the walkout of maintenance engineers and electricians which shut down the papers. They are demanding an extra 58 shillings and sixpence a week to bring top levels to £15 a week.
