—VISITORS TO P. E. ISLAND—Interested visitors to P. E. I. recently were Judge John Ross McKay and Mrs. McKay of Los Angeles, California. They motored 4710 miles and to use the Judge's own words P. E. I. is worth coming twice as far to see. "You do not want a national park, the whole Island is one," Judge McKay said. He is the son of the late Doctor John McKay of Clifton, whom many old timers will kindly remember. In the old days attending to the ill of the people from Sea View to the River and Springfield. Judge McKay intended going to Alaska for his holidays, but thought a visit to P. E. I. to see where his father was born and to look up his relatives, where two of his mother's sisters, the Misses Nicholson, still reside at Charlottetown, would be of more interest. Judge and Mrs. McKay were greatly impressed with the beauty of the Island, also the hospitality of the people, and have promised to return in a few years when all their friends will be glad to welcome them again. Mr. George Sheen of Summerside is a nephew of Judge McKay.—S.

GIVEN INSIGHT INTO OYSTER INDUSTRY

Party Is Shown Over Government Areas On Bideford River By Dr. Needler.

Members of the press and other interested folk were guests of Dr. Needler yesterday afternoon and enjoyed a delightful sail up the Bideford River, one of the prettiest spots on P. E. Island, and were shown over the government oyster areas. The work of the Biological Board was explained by Dr. Needler, who is very interested in oyster culture. The party was first shown the laboratories where various experiments are carried on from the oyster spawn and spat to the full grown oyster.

An interesting study was an oyster of three weeks seen under a powerful magnifying glass. The worst enemy of the oyster was the star fish which sucked the oyster from its shell, when quite young. Various experiments were in process in feeding the spat. Some extra large specimens of oysters were shown to the visitors which had come from the eastern end of the Island, but they were not considered as good as the smaller varieties. The regulation size for shipping is the Malpeque area is free from the disease with the exception of a small area in Trout River. Oysters are allowed to be shipped for export without a clean bill of health from the federal authorities. The number of leased areas is increasing all the time, but Dr. Needler says there is plenty of work to be done if the leased beds are to be a success.

Leaving the biological station the party went by boat down the river and saw the various stages of oyster culture. The visitors were first shown large floats which were filled with cardboard egg crates which had been dipped in cement and on which the spat collects. This method had been proved most successful. The spat on shells contained in the baskets, as the spat was more easily broken off from the cardboard. When the spat is about the size of the thumb nail or a little larger they are placed in flats with wire bottoms and kept there until they are large enough to be free from the danger of the star fish, usually about one year. At first the Biological Board sold spat and the oyster to the lessee of the oyster beds but many of the holders are now growing their own. As the P. E. Islander learns how to preserve the young oysters so will come back to the Island that industry which for so many years brought prosperity to the province.

The Prince Edward Island Oyster Growers Association will be the guests of the Department of Fisheries and the Department of Agriculture on 26th when demonstrations of oyster culture will be given. The membership of the association is on the increase, nearly 400 people having made application for membership. The association will hold its first annual meeting on the 26th and arrangements have been made for prominent speakers.

Mr. James G. MacLean expressed the thanks of the party to Dr. Needler for a most interesting afternoon. Mr. T. H. E. Inman heartily endorsed the motion. Dr. Needler replied that it was only a pleasure to show anyone the workings of the station that is bringing back the oyster industry to the Island.—S.

IN MEMORIAM

Poem written in memory of Rev. John A. McDonald, parish priest of Grand River and Lennox Island, died Feb. 23, 1936. Written to commemorate St. Ann's Sunday, one of Father John's special celebrations for his people:

Sorrow in the Micmac hearts, sorrow in their Isle,
Gone their good white Father, gone his happy smile,
No more shall he greet them, no more shall he guide,
No more shall he counsel them, his word to decide,
When he gained the portals amidst that heavenly throng,
Souls of many Indians, scattered all among,
Those who came to meet him in that heavenly home,
He who through God's privilege, had helped their souls to come,
His hands the blessed thing of life, the tear that told of the little baby,
Born in stable cold,
How he lived and suffered, how he loved and died,
For each soul's redemption—'er all the world-wide,
'Twas he who learned their language, to bring them nearer God,
And fit them for life's conflict in other climes abroad,
Away from their own camp-fire to enter in the strife,
To buckle on the armor of every human life,
No more on Lennox Island, no more on Malpeque Bay,
Shall his voice or paddle echo, in the old familiar way,
They mourn the form that's sleeping in consecrated sod,
Who taught them deepest loyalty to country and to God.

Superintendent Of Indian Schools Visits Province

An interesting visitor to Summerside yesterday was Mr. J. D. Sutherland of Ottawa, who is visiting the Island in the interests of his department, Mr. Sutherland is Superintendent of Indian Affairs and Education and looks after the education and health of the Indians from Prince Edward Island to Vancouver.

"Great strides have been made in recent years in the education of our Indian population. The Indian race in Canada is increasing rapidly," said Mr. Sutherland, "due to a great measure to the care now given to Indian mothers at child birth and also to the instruction given to young girls students at the Indian schools on the care of children and general matters of hygiene in the home."

"There are about 19,000 Indian pupils attending the school's which total 265 day schools and 80 residential schools the school farther north is at Akivik. The newest addition to the Indian residential schools is one at Sauli. Marie with 175 pupils and one at Fort Chapel with 300 pupils. The girls are taught the household science and the boys the various lines of agriculture. There is a great improvement in the homes of the Indians who attended the government schools and those of older Indians who have not had that privilege. Prince Edward Island has not an Indian school but many of the Indian children are sent to the school in New Brunswick."

"Infant mortality has decreased very much in recent years, due to parental care of Indian mothers and care of mothers and child after birth, in former years the death rate was heaviest from birth up to seven years. If the child reached that age he generally lived the normal span of years."

Co-operating with the Department of Indian Affairs in the education of the children are the various churches. The Church of England has the farthest station north. The former Methodist Church, the Roman Catholic, Anglican and Presbyterian have always and are still doing good work among the Indian people.

Mr. Sutherland is visiting on the Island for a few days with friends.

Cards Extend League Lead

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Roy Parmelee pitched five-hit ball today as St. Louis Cardinals whipped Chicago Cubs 4-1 to extend their league lead to two full games over the second place National League champions.

The Gas House Gang's attack collected eight hits, Tex Carleton, Lon Warneke and Clay Blyden, one of the 'b' boys being Virgil Davis' fourth home run of the season.

Carleton and Parmelee hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel which lasted until Carleton bowed to a pinch hitter in the eighth. The Cub flinger allowed but four safeties in eight frames.

With Mel Ott hitting two homers for the second straight day, the Giants closed up more of the gap separating them from the league leaders by downing Boston Bees 8-4 here.

"Dazzy" Vance To Glace Bay?

GLACE BAY, N. S., Aug. 5.—Arthur "Dazzy" Vance, former Brooklyn Dodger and St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, has been asked to meet up with the Glace Bay entry in the Cape Breton Colliery baseball league.

Vance, one time National League strikeout king, is expected to come east with his team mate of Brooklyn days, Del Bissonette, who left here last night to seek new talent for the Glace Bay team. Bissonette has been playing in the Cape Breton loop for the past two weeks. He came east from Whitehorse, Me., where he had been playing since his release from Montreal Royals early in the spring.

8th Battery And Bakers Play Tonight

8th Battery and Stewart's Bakery softball squads meet tonight at the Park diamond in a City League encounter. Red-hot rivals for the past three years when these two teams meet almost anything is liable to happen. Neither team will give an inch and as a result not a dull moment is to be had. Both would rather beat the other than win a title and the games are talked about for days after.

Besides defeating their arch-rivals Battery would welcome a victory tonight. In fourth place, trailing the third place team by one game the Bakers are set to climb in the standing at the expense of the Batters. A victory would help no end in their bid for a playoff berth while a defeat, Stewart's say this will be the outlook on the playoff hopes Battery entertain.

Nels Whitlock will handle the game. 6:15 is the starting time and both teams are asked to be on time as the evening getting short it is necessary to start on schedule if nine innings are to be completed.

Ross Wilson Eliminated By Doug Cameron

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) VANCOUVER LAWN TENNIS CLUB, Vancouver, Aug. 5.—Spectacular Ross Wilson of Toronto Canada's second ranked net man, was smashed from the men's singles play of the Canadian lawn tennis championships today in straight sets by Doug Cameron of Vancouver. Cameron won with scores of 6-4, 6-3.

Wilson, one of five Canadians left in the fourth round of the title hunt, found trouble from the start with the left-handed stroking of Cameron, one of British Columbia's hardest driving net men.

It was the greatest upset of the day's play which saw another seeded player, Eleanor Young of North Vancouver, toppled from the women's singles section. Miss Young, former Canadian girls' title holder, bowed out in straight sets to Mrs. Mary Haggart of Vancouver, 8-6, 7-5.

Grant "Pinkie" McLean of Toronto got into the quarter final round after a three-set battle with Roland Longtin, Quebec champion. McLean won 5-7, 6-3, 8-6.

McLean and Cameron were the lone Canadian representatives left to carry the fight into quarter final play after today's matches. They were joined by six Californians, Jack Tibball and Bob Hippensett of Los Angeles, Dick Bennett and Paul Newton of Berkeley and John Murilo and Ed. Amark of San Francisco.

Clips Two Seconds Off Mark Made By Abbe Worthy On Charlottetown Track

force out the Campbellton horse to a new record of 2:11.4. Soviet was third. Baronet who made a bad break just after the word Go but came very fast was fourth, Mac Volo fifth, Allie Burnham with a broken hoppel sixth. In the second heat Peter Onward and Billy Bondeer went away fast. They raced past the quarter pole on even terms, then they got into a tangle on the turn and Peter Onward's sulky was broken. Soviet and Mac Volo passed them but Billy Bondeer came on and beat out Mac Volo for second place. Soviet winning by a good margin. Peter Onward was placed fourth. Baronet and Allie Burnham were distanced, the former due to bad breaks which lost too much ground, and the latter with a broken hoppel.

The third heat was a real good contest between Peter Onward and Soviet, the former winning by a scant margin from the Claude O'Brien teamed pacer. Mac Volo showed up better in this heat, beat Onward and Billy Bondeer fourth, 2:25 Trot and Pace—This was a tough bunch to get away so quite a few scores were used up before they got down to business. When they did it was a case of horses rapidly changing places. Balbo won by half a length from Bud Cope, with Helena Witte who had led to the three-quarter pole third, Hal Boojum fourth, Billy Witte fifth, Tote sixth.

In the second and third heats Bud Cope was a little the best for Balbo and the rest of his opposition. The trotter Hal Boojum not being able to get away as well as the pacers, had to go long miles but mowed down the opposition and finished a close third both trips. Balbo, with only a few weeks work, went a corking race, while Rosebud came the last end, and miles fast. Helena Witte, Act Bailey, Billy Witte and Helen Worthy all raced good.

The starter was D. K. MacLeod of Charlottetown, this being his first appearance in that capacity. He made a good job of it, handling difficult situations with good judgment. The judges were Harry Silphant, Summerside, James Arling, Charlottetown, F. J. E. Wright, Summerside. The timers, Dr. Heath McInyre, Charlottetown, W. B. McArthur, Kensington, Dr. F. W. Christopher, Boston, Mass., Clerk of the Course, J. O. Cobb, Summerside, Assistant Clerk of Course, John A. MacDonald, Charlottetown.
