

Farm Notes.

Farmers who do not go in for poultry-keeping lose a great opportunity of enriching their land at a small cost.

There may be nothing wonderful in a very heavy crop of hay, but the farmer informed us that the field from which it was cut had been for many years one of the poorest on the whole farm.

The same result was also to be seen in the other fields which had been used in the same way at first, or until the whole of each field had been covered.

Report on the LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY:

"We have visited the bottling stores of Greenlees Brothers, and have selected from the vats, samples of their Lorne Highland Whisky, and have subjected them to careful examination and analysis. The samples were very fragrant, mellow, and of pleasant flavor, and possessed all the characteristics of pure and well-matured Scotch Whisky of the first quality."
