Rules Are Found Disregarded In Baby Poisoning Incident

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — An investigation of the salt-poisoning of six infants at Binghamton General Hospital has disclosed that a hospital rule was forgotten and that a recommendation of the city health officer was not followed.

The hospital's board of managers has reported that Mrs. Lillie Mae Colvin, a licensed practical nurse suspended after the deaths last March, will be re-instated. Hospital officials believe Mrs. Colvin mistakenly put salt in the container for sugar in the babies formula room. But the board said the error was "mitigated" by the fact that she never had been taught to go to a dietitian for the formula sugar.

A registered nurse, Miss Lois E. Coon, is to be disciplined for failing to tell superiors about a report of the salt taste in the formula, the board said.

The hospital rule that had not been followed since 1960 was that anyone preparing infants' formula must obtain the sugar from a dietitian, who was to taste the sugar. Investigators said an employee who knew the unwritten rule and would have relayed it to others died in 1960. Persons in charge thought the rule was being followed, the reports said.

The city health officer, Dr. Clealand A. Sargent, recommended in 1960 that supervision over the formula room be increased.

Authorities announced last month that no one would be prosecuted for the deaths. Damage suits against the hospital have been initiated by some parents.

Defeated Red Gives Comment

TORONTO (CP) — Leslie Morris, national leader of the Communist party and defeated candidate in Toronto Trinity riding, says the "indecisive result of the federal election reflects deep - going changes among the people of Canada."

Mr. Morris said in a press release "the rejection of the Tory government and the failure of the Liberals to gain the control of Parliament reveal a crisis in the old and discredited two - party system and profound concern among the people about the future of this country."

No Communist party candidate won a seat in Monday's election.

Two Children Of Candidate Are In Hiding

GEORGETOWN, Ont. (CP) — The two children of C A. Best, re-elected Conservative member for Halton riding, were still in hiding following threats they would be kidnapped if Mr. Best did not concede the election.

Mrs. Best said she had received no telephone calls Wednesday but "thought we'd better not take a chance" on bringing the children—Charles Stewart, 3, and Alexander MacDonald, —back to their home at a remote farm near here, about 50 miles west of Toronto.

Mrs. Best said in an interview about 30 kidnap threats had been received during the two weeks previous to Monday's general election, and the children had been removed a few days after the calls began.

She said about five calls using "all about the same words" were made to her Tuesday. The anonymous callers repeated variations of "why don't you concede the election to Harley."

Dr. Harry Harley, Liberal candidate in Monday's election lost to Mr. Best by 61 votes. He has indicated he will await the results from 400 service votes, still to be counted, before seeking a recount.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

QUIZ

Your right - hand opponent deals and bids One Heart both sides vulnerable. What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠KQJ92 ♥6 ♦A973 ♣AJ5
2. ♠A3 ♥8542 ♦J9742 ♣AK
3. ♠6 ♥A7 ♦AJ942 ♣KQJ63
4. ♠QJ82 ♥KJ7 ♦AQ3 ♣A94
5. ♠KQJ9762 ♥5 ♦K84 ♣93

1. Double. The hand is too strong for a mere overcall of one spade. In general, an overcall in the one level denies the values for an opening bid. Thus, a spade bid would be proper if we removed either ace and made it a low card. The way to alert partner that we have at least an opening bid, and that there is a possibility of game, is to double. The spades can be shown later if the bidding develops favorably.

2. Pass. Overcalls are based much more on the number of winning tricks than on point count. The keynote is safety. The chief test is whether, if the next player doubles your overcall, you are subject to a big set. Usually, when you overcall, you should be within two or three tricks of what you are contracting for.

In this case, if you were to bid two diamonds over a heart and the next player doubled, there would be substantial danger of going down 1,100. Similarly, if you were to double a heart, you might find yourself in hot water unless partner responded in diamonds. With length in the opponent's suit, it is generally better to stay out of the bidding with a doubtful hand.

3. Two diamonds. Overcalls in the two level promise more than overcalls in the one level. There is enough high card strength in this hand to justify a double, but the overcall is better here because of the danger that partner will bid spades. Furthermore, a double of the heart bid might lose valuable bidding space and make it difficult to show both minor suits later.

4. One notrump. The high-card values and the distribution are accurately reflected by over calling with a notrump. This bid is far more revealing than a double, which always implies distributional values. The notrump overcall indicates 16 to 18 points, notrump distribution and over-all strength. Partner carries on as though the opening bid had been one notrump.

5. Three spades. This bid is purely preemptive and denies the high cards ordinarily associated with an opening bid. Its main purpose is to eat up bidding space that would otherwise be available to the opponents. Frequently, the preempt prevents the opposition from reaching their best contract.

At the same time, since the bid shows about seven playing tricks it permits partner to carry on to game with a proper hand.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
