Co-ed Dance on Weekend

Have you got nothing to do on Saturday Nov. 19 and you'd like to go somewhere to have a great time? Then you should find yourself a date and come to the Formal Co-ed dance being put on by the three residences. Its semi-formal, couples only and open to all students. It's at the C.P. Prince Edward Hotel from 9:00pm to 2:00am and music is by Sound Waves. Tickets are ten dollars each and can be bought at Marian Hall in Rms. 200A and 209, at Bernardine Hall in Rm. 418 and at Blanchard Hall Rm 216. So come on out and have a terrific time!

HISTORY SOCIETY

The U.P.E.I. History Society will be entering its first athletic confrontation this Sunday, Nov. 20, as we meet the Music Society head-on in a volleyball game to be held in the gym at 2:00 pm. All history majors and History students are welcome to participate. The Society would like to serve notice to other societies on campus, that we will be joining the Volleyball League with an unbeaten record of 3-0. Even though they were all won by forfeit, nonetheless we remain the undisputed champs.

Society membership cards have arrived and for anyone who has ordered one, they can be obtained at the next society meeting Wed. at 1:00 pm in the History Society lounge. Remember our motto "It's never too late to join."

Jacket orders have been sent, however if you are interested in ordering a jacket or crest another order may be placed later in the year depending on the interest. Remember our other motto "It's never too late to order"

Student Union News

The last S.U. Council meeting was held on Oct. 30 at 7:30pm and at this time 6 of councilors were absent. Dean MacMillan explained the Graduate Association plea for representation in the S.U. and on Senate. As it looks now they may not receive this representation. There was the first of many discussions on the proposed University Center. Joan Master-son V.P. Finance, presented the 88-89 budget and at which time council decided to review it and pass it at the next council meeting. The pay increases were also presented at this meeting, more money for hard working employees! Mary Ann Fitzpatric reported that October fest was a great success.

Dean reported that the unofficial questionnaire concerning the carrols was inconclusive. He also said that the University was looking into placing lockers around the campus. The Pit is finally going to get tables and chairs, approximately 48 people will be able to be seated. They are on order and will be in soon, hopefully. The next student Council meeting will be on Nov. 20 at 7:30pm remember you are welcome to attend. Oh ya, one final note, if the Gem or anybody else has any suggestions on how the "Lack of information" can be improved please let us know, thanks.

Marian Hall News

The Pit Bulls completed their exhibition season last Wednesday night with 2 wins and 1 loss, a good showing since they were without the services of goalie Bert "the Fish" Ronahan.

the Engineers iced a competitive team for the first time in their long but pathetic history, only to be upset by the raging Pit Bulls. Carey Baker, a former Marian Haller, was the only Engineer brave enough to strap on the goalie pads for the game. Despite his paper-thin chest protector, Baker displayed the toughness which Marian Hall instilled in him, and turned in a fine performance. Gino "the Flying frenchman" Cormier and Jason "Koric" Pinkson provided the offence, while Kent "Hatchet" Creighton found a new use for his stick in this game, as he scored his first goal.

Unfortunately the Business Society has no ex-Marian Hallers among its members, so their net was left empty during Tuesday night's game against the Pit Bulls. Chuck "the Rose" Grady was simply acrobatic in the Marian goal, leading his team to victory. Scott "the Cap" Lewis, Greg "the Hammer" Wilson, Greg "the Fly" Flynn, and Kent "Smiley" Ronahan all scored for the Pit Bulls, as did Kent "Hatchet" Creighton, who had apparently forgotten his primary use of a hockey stick.

Mark "Puffy" Ronahan played goal for the Pit Bulls versus the Soccer Panthers, and became so obsessed with clearing his crease that he forgot to stop the puck. The Soccer Panthers clearly outplayed the Pit Bulls on this night, but while they won the war, the dogs, including Tomy "the weasel" MacKenzie and Jason "Kordic" Pinkson, won the battles. Jim "Pray for Rain" Comeau dazzled the fans with his fast-paced European style of play, scoring his first goal of the season. Kent "Hatchet" Creighton finally reverted to his old-style of play, and he spent the evening in the penalty box.

Marian Hall was surprised to see its Halloween House Party listed in the "What's Not" section of the GEM's "What's Hot, What's Not" column. Obviously, the author of the column was either not invited to the party, or he doesn't have any concept of fun. Everyone who Attended had a great time!

The Pit Bull got loose...

So much for the poodle!

Sorry!

Dear Students,

I have been asked by a number of students when council meetings are and if anyone may attend. Well, the answer is yes. Any student may attend a meeting of the Student Union Council. They are held in the Kelly Board Room (near the Registrar's office). The next meeting is this Sunday (November 20th) at 7:30. The last meeting will be held (same place) on December 4th. I shall post the dates for next semester's meetings in early January. Wishing you the best of luck in your exams,

Sean D. MacIntosh,

Big UPEI Theatre Society Contest Winner

So, the Producer calls me into his office last Friday and says "Hey, I really thought your ad created some attention about the play."

So I says, "Yeah, I guess it did."

And then he turns red and asks me, right out of the blue; "Where's the artwork?!"

Dad was loosing it fast so I said: "Good things, ehr, come to those who wait."

That's when he grabbed me by the throat and started to choke me.

It's like I said last week, I'm a graduate of Parisian Art from S.H.I.T. and I know which side of the paintbrush is up.

So, I'm getting this mescaline buzz because the oxygen like ain't getting to my brain. "Be cool, daddy, I got the winner already," I says.

He relaxed his grip on me long enough for me to explain that I'd misrepresented myself and that there was no real harm in stirring the apathy factor around a bit.

"I need the artwork today!" He lept at my throat again; "Fraud!"

Now don't get me wrong, kid, I like a good buzz better than anyone else, but if he would have choked me for another five minutes I'd have died.

That's when the knock on the door saved me.

"Come," the Producer snapped. He kept his knee on my solar plexis and continued to choke me.

The person entered carrying an envelope. "I'm from the GEM. This is one of the Papers' Poster Contest entries. Your first entry."

The Producer stopped choking me, took the envelope, and we have a winner. So, thanks Ms. Libby Kennedy.
