

Abbies Blank Holman's 3-0 To Lead Series Three-Two

The Charlottetown Abbies moved into a three-two lead over Holman's Intermediates in the Provincial Intermediate Baseball play-offs yesterday as Donnie MacLean hurled the Abbies to a 3-0 victory in a well played game at Memorial Field.

For MacLean it was his third series win without a defeat and his most impressive pitching performance in this see-saw battle for Island Intermediate honors.

He limited the Summerside nine to five scattered hits and at no time during the game did a visiting runner pass second base. MacLean struck out three and walked three.

Strong-armed Paul Schurman was the loser. Schurman, who has appeared in every game of the series struck out 12 batters in eight innings while giving up ten hits and walking one. The Abbies scored only one earned run.

The Abbies scored the winning run in the fourth inning when Elmer MacNeill and Buck Whitlock hit back to back singles. Whitlock's single rolled through centerfielder Joe Dalton allowing MacNeill to score from first.

Whitlock reached third but failed to score as Schurman bore down to strikeout the next three batters.

The Abbies scored their insurance runs in the sixth inning. Whitlock, the spearhead of the Charlottetown offense, doubled into centerfield. With two out Eddy Lund singled into right field sending Whitlock to third.

Coach Jack Ready sent Phil Murphy in to bat for Cuker Pineau and Murphy lined a single into left field scoring Whitlock and sending Lund to third.

Lund and Murphy then pulled a double steal, with Lund racing home safely as the catcher let the ball get away from him.

The Abbies threatened again in the seventh inning when Flynn reached base on an error and MacKinnon and MacNeill produced singles to load the bases. However Vance Harris made a fine running catch off Whitlock and threw home to enable the catcher to double the runner off third. The runner

Makes Main Bout Debut

Don "Duck" Trainor who meets Danny Taylor of New York in the main bout at the Forum tonight is pictured above. This is Trainor's first main bout fight.

Danny Taylor, thrice wounded, much decorated soldier of Uncle Sam's Army and currently a professional boxer, was one of the spectators at yesterday's ball game between the Abbies and Holman's Intermediates. "They hustle pretty well," stated Taylor, looking at the ball players just after the Abbies had completed a double play. "I like this pitcher out there. What's his name?" he asked. "MacLean, he only pitches about once a week and works the rest of the time," he was told. "He has no interest in playing professional ball."

Taylor has done a lot of fighting, both in and out of the Army. He spent nearly eight years in the U.S. Army and during that time he had 54 fights. In 1949 he won the World's Army Lightweight Championship. During his last hitch in the army he was coach of a boxing team. During his earlier Army days Danny was an infantryman where he picked up three wounds and numerous decorations.

After coming out of the Army Taylor was taken over by trainer Ray Arzel and turned professional. Arzel by the way is the man who looks after heavyweight challenger Ezzard Charles. When Arzel took over Taylor he made the stipulation that Danny should quit fighting whenever he started taking too many punches and getting licked. Taylor figures he still has two good years left.

In fact when he goes back to New York Taylor hopes to get a crack at Chico Vejar. He has been training with Vejar and figures he can give him a good fight. During the past three years he has had 32 professional fights and has been on television quite a number of times. He has 11 professional knockouts to his credit.

The guy, whom Ring Magazine once described as a windmill throwing leather from all angles is a frank, friendly talker. He is smart and speaks German as well as he speaks English having picked up the language while serving in Germany. He has a part-interest in a clothing store in New York and when he is through with active boxing he plans to get into the managing end of the fight game. Asked about his fight last night with Don Trainor, he stated: "They tell me he's a smart kid. I don't make predictions but I'm awfully anxious to win. I like your town and I think I would like to come back and fight some more."

Meanwhile Don Trainor was taking things easy yesterday afternoon and evening. Trainor was in New Glasgow for a week training with Gary Simon and is in top shape for the bout. Trainor knows that this is quite a big fight for him and after his impressive string of victories this summer he feels confident that he can match gloves with the veteran New Yorker.

Trainor showed brilliant counter-punching ability her earlier in the year in a fight with Gerry Fraser. Taylor is another of the Fraser type who forces the fight continually. Fight promoter Ivan Doherty believes that Trainor has a lot of hidden talent which he hasn't shown this summer because he has not been pushed. One thing is certain — the Charlottetown youth has come a long way this past year — far enough to be rated No. 2 contender for the Dominion Middleweight crown. It will take a mighty good man to beat him.

Two weeks ago yesterday Lorne MacDougall stood the Intermediate Abbies on their heads with a brilliant pitching performance in a night out at Memorial Field coach Randy Edwards will call on MacDougall again and give him the task of stopping the Curran and Briggs Juniors in the fifth game of the Island Junior play-offs. This will be MacDougall's first appearance in the battle for the Island title.

They will be talking a long time about that fourth game in Summerside last Friday. Don MacLeod struck out 20 batters in eight innings. Dee LeFurgey whiffed 12 and drove in two runs with a timely single in the eighth inning. Maurice Cannon climaxed matters by hitting a home run with Le-

The Charlottetown Braves walloped Montague 15-8 yesterday in an exhibition softball game. MacInnis started for Montague and was relieved in the seventh frame by Rollie Diamond. Billy Wright pitched for the Braves.

Rollie Diamond led Montague at the plate with a triple and home run. Frank Shephard hit a home run for the Braves. Junior Smith, Bobby Mills, Mark Ladner, Joe Gallant, Frank Shephard, of the Braves each hit a triple. Amby Atkins hit three triples.

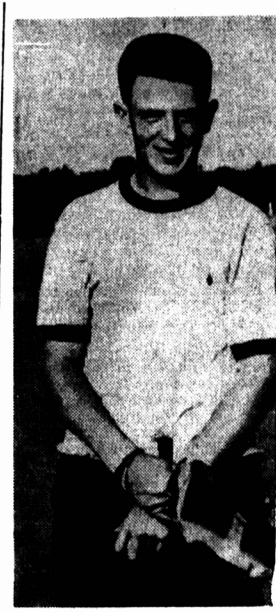

"Had" MacInnis Wins Local Golf Club Championship

Frank "Had" MacInnis (right) won the Charlottetown Golf Club Championship yesterday by defeating Bob Gray in a closely played 36 hole match.

Gray rallied brilliantly on the last six holes but time ran out before he could wipe out the lead built up by the new champion. The players battled down to the 36th hole with MacInnis winning one up.

MacInnis was two up at the end of the first round on Saturday. Gray rallied to even matters in the early part of yesterday's match only to see MacInnis pull away again and go three up at the 27th hole.

The new champion was four up at the end of the 30th hole. Gray halved the 32nd. Gray won on the 33rd and again the players halved the 34th. Big Bob reduced MacInnis' lead to one on the 35th hole but MacInnis rallied on the last hole to split with Gray and retain his one lead and the championship.

There were major upsets in both men's and women's singles in week-end play in the Charlottetown Tennis Club Closed Tournament.

Major Upsets In Tennis Tourney

In the men's singles unseeded Herb Hughes defeated third-seeded Walter Cullen 6-0, 6-0 in a startling upset. Cullen had advanced to the third round by defeating Jack Blanchard 6-3, 6-3 and Hughes by beating Gordon Moore 6-0, 6-1.

Other results in the men's singles are as follows: Dr. B. Urquhart defeated Wendell Murphy 6-3, 6-2; Doug George defeated Roy McGonnell 4-6, 6-4, 6-3; Jim Johnston defeated Charlie Willett 6-1, 7-5 and then lost to Bud McAleer 6-4, 7-9, 6-1.

In the other semi-finals in the ladies singles Wanda MacMillan will play Beulah Jardine this evening. In the men's division tonight Paul Kays will meet Dr. Benny Urquhart and Doug George will meet Andy Anderson.

Rain Cancels S'side Races

A heavy downpour of rain early Saturday evening, along with intermittent light showers during the later afternoon necessitated the cancellation of the scheduled Saturday night racing card at the Summerside Raceway. It is not known whether the card will be re-scheduled for a later date.

Anyone interested in helping coach or umpire the games are asked to report to the field.

Harness Races At Truro

TRURO (CP) — Halifax horses captured five of the eight events on a harness racing card at the Truro raceway Saturday night, one of them in a photo finish as close as any seen here this season.

Mischief Clare won the first race by literally nosing out the Truro-stabled May Jonsdale.

Richard Jabalee's North Sydney-owned Handbook won the first dash of the free-for-all in 2:09 2-5, the fastest time of the evening, but lost the event to Seven-up Direct which placed second in the first dash and first in the second.

Handbook and Headway, both favorites, threw their skulls in the second dash but neither driver was injured. The horses got to their feet unhurt.

Three Definite Starters In Maritime Senior Hockey

NEW GLASGOW (CP)—Charlottetown, Halifax and Glace Bay shined up Sunday as definite starters in the 1954-55 edition of Maritime senior hockey but travelling expenses will still be a headache.

The league held another of a series of meetings here to try to unscramble the maze of problems that threatened to put an end to senior hockey at the close of the 1953-54 season. They voted to meet again Sept. 12 when the status of Stellarton and New Glasgow will be clarified.

New Glasgow has been mooted as a contender for several months but failed to send a representative to Sunday's meeting. Stellarton was given until Sept. 7 to post a bond guaranteeing a team and will be accorded preference even if New Glasgow posts a bond by that date.

Trainor And Taylor Ready For Bristling Fight Tonight

Don "Duck" Trainor, 20 year old Charlottetown fighter, makes his biggest bid for professional fame tonight when he meets hard hitting Danny Taylor of New York in the main bout of a star packed fight card at the Charlottetown Forum.

The bout is scheduled for ten rounds.

The fast improving Trainor, who won a large fight following this summer with his rapid climb to the top in the Maritimes by defeating Gerry Fraser, Doug Odo and Freddy Stewart is making his first appearance as a main bout fighter.

Trainor has trained long and hard for this fight. He has worked continually since his last outing and during the past week trained in New Glasgow with Gary Simon.

It was early this spring in a bout against Gerry Fraser that Trainor exhibited such brilliant boxing ability that he had veteran manager and trainer Nat Forman of New York talking in glowing terms. "The kid's timing is perfect. He was beautiful tonight," stated Forman after the fight. "He'll go (Continued on page 11)"
