'Twas Only a Hoax.—It now turns out ..hat the report of an attempt to assassinate Premier Mercier, of Quebec, based on his ..ending to Montreal for police, was a grit ..oax. The boys threatened to charivari a ..widow who had married within six months ..fter her husband's death. No more misery with the wash. No ..ore dirt in the kitchen. The old chem..ical powders have had their day. They ..now cease to be. Lessive Phenix is the ..name of the new solutive. It is so ..emollient in its proportions that, used in ..the bath, it makes the skin soft and fair. No more soda. No more ashes. Use Lessive Phenix and the wash is a pleasure. White or colored clothes, it is all the same. It makes them all beautiful. Use Lessive Phenix upon silver or tinware and the cleansing and brightening effects are marvellous. Ask your grocer for it,—and don't take the injurious powders.

For Boston.—The steamer State of Indiana, Captain Doane, sailed for Boston last evening at the usual hour with a general cargo and the following passengers: Mary Lowen, Mrs Jennings, Mary Munroe, Annie O'Neill, Geo Williams, Mary Wade, John McDonald, Miss S Thompson, L Gallant, Mrs Macdonald, S Macdonald, Katie McKenzie, A Murray, Maggie Logan, F Thornton, Mrs John DeCorsey, Miss B DeCorsey, Miss Anderson, Jas Senseabaugh, Miss E Gallant, Miss G Gallant, Miss E White, Miss Pendergast, Maggie Macdonald, Emanuel Macdonald, M L McAulay, Miss Murray, John Green, Geo Green, Miss Scott, E H Johnson, A C Henry, Mr and Mrs Peebles, Miss R Collyer, Geo Peebles, Ella Murphy, Agatha Murphy, M McLeod, J Macdonald, Mrs W J Cousins, Bessie E Coffin, Mary Finlayson, Miss M Dogherty, W Macdonald, D O'Leary, Miss McKenzie, Mrs W J Larding, May D Murphy, Miss Hooper, R Forrest, M Hooper and Mr Montgomery.

Launch of a Water Tricycle.—There was launched at Peake's No 2 wharf last evening a well-built and handsome water-tricycle, the property of some of the popular members of the St. G C. This craft, which measures 15 feet long by about 6 feet wide, is the completed work of the young gentlemen who own her. She is built on the general plan of a catamaran, but for propelling power has been furnished with a large paddle placed in the middle of the craft and worked by pedals, which are placed one on each side of the paddle-box. At 7 o'clock last evening the affair was launched, and great was the joy of her builders when they saw her sit in the water "like a thing of life." The owners then went aboard, and soon the pedal cranks were sending the catamaran through the water at a good speed. After a mile or so had been covered, five other passengers were taken aboard, making eight in all. The behaviour of the craft was excellent, and amid the "club cries" of those on board, and the cheers of spectators on the wharves, a voyage was made down the river. It was then that the wicked punster of the party, comparing the catamaran with all known craft ever built, and speaking disparagingly of the Ark, made this observation, as he sat upon the paddle-box: "Noah is nowhere in this business." The effect was deadly; the speed decreased visibly, and when the party landed in silence at the wharf, they would have wept had not the perfect success of their craft been a source of complete consolation to them.

Quebec's Disgrace

A Bombshell in the Mercier Camp.

Evidence of the Premier's Complicity in the Steal.

GREAT POPULAR EXCITEMENT!

Quebec, Oct. 16.

C. N. Armstrong's evidence was finished yesterday before the royal commission, and in the main was a confirmation of that given before the Senate Committee. But the witness probably, in a word, gave the death blow to the Mercier Government. Armstrong, after much hesitancy, confessed that Pacaud had told him in Montreal, in June, that he had to account to Mercier for the disposal of the $100,000 which had been bagged from the treasury. This was a bombshell and quite unexpected, as the development was not looked for until later on in the inquiry.

It is impossible to describe the excitement caused by Mercier's direct complicity being established so early in the day, and there are not a few who predict that the Premier will resign before the commission has finished its work.

FRIGHTFUL GALE.

TERRIFIC DAMAGE.

Wreckage Strews the Shores

A Steamer Founders with All on Board.

London, Oct. 16.

The gale which has been raging for two days over England resumed its awful violence yesterday. London is being deluged with rain, swept with fearful windblasts, shaken by thunder, and startled by flashes of the most vivid lightning. Reports received from the Channel ports agree in saying that fearful weather is prevailing there all along the coast. The beach is strewn with wreckage, and at Dover especially, and a large quantity has been washed ashore at Cardiff. A coal laden steamer sunk yesterday near Holyhead, and her entire crew perished. The weather in the Irish Sea is the most severe experienced in many years.

Races at Amherst.

Amherst, Oct. 16.

In the yearling race to beat the Dominion of Canada record of a half in 1.37½, Sir Richard accomplished the feat by trotting the half in 1.35.

In a sweep-stakes for $150, Amos Purdy's Nellie took first; Geo. Andrews' Frank, second; W. B. Ganong's Shamrock Boy, third. In the green race, C. J. Westcott's William K. took first money; and R. F. Brownell's Jessie Goldleaf, second.

A Hoax.

St. John's, N. F., Oct. 16.

A despatch from Trepassey says there is no truth whatever in the report of the wreck of the steamer City of Rome. The hoax was perpetrated by some unknown man.
