

Male Flirts.

ARTFUL CREATURES WHO AMUSE THEMSELVES AT WOMAN'S EXPENSE.

The male flirt who "plays at courtship" is a refined and dangerous creature, writes Ella Wheeler Wilcox. He leaves it to his less skillful brother to pay the same compliments to each pretty girl he meets. He knows the fair sex too well for that. If all his lady loves meet and compare notes they will find that he has never been guilty of repeating himself. He is original and inventive, and suits his compliment to this recipient.

To the young and sympathetic girl, he talks much about "a wasted life, and says he should have been a different man had her sweet sympathy come into his life earlier, but there has never before been any one to stir his best impulses—and now it is too late."

To the religious young lady who yearns to reform the world, he hints darkly of a sinful past which stands like an accusing spirit between him and a paradise which has just dawned upon him.

To the heiress he talked vaguely of barriets which late builds between a man's pride and hopes of happiness. He plays upon the emotions of women as upon stringed instruments, and the tender strains he draws forth amuse and entertain him. The minor chords are music to his ears, too, but when they become discordant he drops the instrument, for he does not like to be annoy'd. His standard for women is high, yet he is forever tempting her to come down to the plains of folly, and despising her for her weakness if she yields. If crimes and heart-aches follow his footsteps he does not hold himself, but the frailty of woman, in fault.

The married male flirt is usually the outgrowth of his own vanity. He is like the old hen gods, who required the fresh sacrifice of a human life each day to keep them in good humor. The married woman flirt is usually the result of a husband's thoughtless neglect or indifference. A woman craves admiration or appreciation as naturally as a flower craves the sunlight. If the flowers do not receive the light through the open window it will strain toward a crevice in the wall even if it warps itself out of shape in the effort. If the light comes freely and generously through the window it does not lean toward the crevice, unless it springs from a deformed root.

Beecher and Ingersoll.

In a large company, Col. Robert Ingersoll had been speaking eloquently against Christianity, when Mr. Beecher remarked: "I witnessed a most deplorable spectacle to-day." "What was it?" said Col. Ingersoll. "Why," said Mr. Beecher, "as I was walking down town to-day, I saw a poor lame man with crutches slowly poking his way through a cesspool of mud, in the endeavour to cross the street. He had just reached the middle of the filth, when a big, burly ruffian, himself all bespattered, rushed up to him, jerked the crutches from under the unfortunate man, and left him sprawling and helpless in the pool of liquid dirt, which almost engulfed him."

"What a brute he was," said Ingersoll.

"Yes," said Mr. Beecher, rising from his chair and brushing back his long, white hair, while his eyes glittered with their old-time fire as he beat them on Ingersoll, "yes, Col. Ingersoll, and you are the man. The human soul is lame, but Christianity gives it crutches to enable it to pass the highway of life. It is your teachings that knock these crutches from under it and leave it a helpless and rulerless wreck, in the slough of despond. If robbing the human soul of its only support on this earth—religion—be your profession, why ply it to your heart's content. It requires an architect to erect a building; an incendiary may reduce it to ashes.

Mr. Beecher sat down, and silence brooded over the scene. Col. Ingersoll found that he had a master in his own power of illustration, and said nothing. The company took their hats and parted.

NASAL BALM

TOTTENHAM, ONT., May 3rd, 1887.

I have been troubled with nasal catarrh for the last five years. Seeing Nasal Balm advertised I procured a bottle, and although I have only used part of it, I do not hesitate to pronounce it the best remedy in the world for that loathsome disease, Catarrh. It is easy and pleasant to use, giving relief and healing in its action, instantly soothing, removes and changes the poisonous secretions to a healthy state, stops the droppings from the head into the throat, and removes all the symptoms of Catarrh and Cold in the Head. In fact, if the directions are faithfully followed, nothing but a sure and permanent cure can be the result.

Yours truly, JNO. S. GEORGE, Baker and Confectioner. Sept. 23—wy

Why the Columbus Watch is the Best

THE Main Spring barrel is completely covered, making the watch perfectly dust proof.

There can be no interference between the Balance and the Barrel. The Regulator is nearly double the length of others, rendering accurate regulation a very simple matter. To replace a broken Main Spring, the Barrel can be removed without disturbing the Balance or interfering with the regulation. The pins of the Regulator are so formed and located that two or more coils of the Hair Spring cannot catch between the Pins and cause the Watch to stop or gain time at an unusual rate.

The Balance comes under the round, or edge, the strongest part of the case, not as with all others, under the center and weakest part. The Main Spring Power is the lightest used in American Watches. The calculation of the Train is such that this Watch runs 8 to 10 hours longer than others, with one winding, giving more uniform power and rate.

These are improvements that cannot be claimed by any other manufacturers, and once seen, all must agree with us in saying that this is the strongest and best Watch made; and with all the above improvements, the Columbus Watches cost no more than others.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, weak, watery, and purulent; the eyes are watery, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hiccuping or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive mucus together with scales from ulcers; general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians. By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "Cold in the Head," Coryza, and Catarrh of the Head. Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony" from Catarrh.

Prof. W. HAUSER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me the incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., 202 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Ritten P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."
