

Premier Shaw Speaks For Kings Candidate

MONTAGE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN
 "I am very concerned about the welfare of widows in this province," stated Margaret Macdonald, Progressive Conservative candidate for Kings, during a meeting held Monday night in the Montague regional high school.

She said she had been working very hard to have this allowance increased from 40 to 65 dollars, as she felt that at least was certainly entitled to a widow the same amount as other pensioners. As pointed out by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, she had worked hard to have family allowances paid to the age of 18 from the present 15 years.

IMPOSSIBLE TASK
 Mrs. Macdonald said that in the present campaign she was endeavoring to visit everyone in the country, but due to road conditions at this time, it would be an impossible task. I am willing to work hard for all, she said, but I am anxious to return to Ottawa to finish work I was forced to leave to fight this election.

In closing, she said she would appreciate the support of all who would work hard for the people of Kings.

Overnight Parking Ban Is Lifted

Motorists need not fear having a overnight parking ticket issued on their windshields for parking from one to six in the morning on the city streets, it was announced yesterday by Police Chief Stevens Webster.

This police action comes about following the recent thaw which has cleared snow and ice conditions considerably leaving sufficient space for parked vehicles.

If another blizzard of winter in the form of a snow-storm should hit the city, however, the law will again go into effect.

Licence Rush On In S'side

SUMMERSIDE — With the deadline for 1962 licence plates and operators' licenses drawing near, the Summerside motor vehicle office is experiencing the usual last minute rush.

More than 800 persons lined up Monday morning at the office and received their licenses from the busy staff.

However the motor vehicle registrar Milton Mellish stated he is anticipating larger numbers near the end of the week.
