Trinity W.M.S. Afternoon Auxiliary Meets

The afternoon Auxiliary of the W.M.S. of Trinity United Church met in regular session in the Social Hall for their September meeting, with Mrs. A.B. Bagnall presiding. The call to worship was followed by the hymn "Let the Creator's Praise Arise." Psalm 95 was read in unison. Mrs. Bagnall gave a timely meditation on "Vacation Days" which reminded us that after the rest and relaxation of the summer season, September shares the same characteristics as the New Year. It marks the commencement of a new study program, fresh opportunity for renewed emphasis on our work. Prayer and the Lords prayer in unison closed this period.

Mrs. K.A. Parker then gave a most interesting talk on her eleven years spent in Japan, where she and her husband were Missionaries' children. Out of Japan's 80,000,000 population only two per cent are Christian, but it has produced the great Kawaga, one of the world's most devoted Christians.

One new member and several visitors were welcomed, among whom was Mrs. H.C. Rice, whose late husband was at one time our beloved visiting pastor. Reports of various secretaries were received. Mrs. W.W. Mutch supply secretary reported having shipped 232 pounds of clothing overseas during the summer. A letter was read from Leata B. Turner, of the Iere Home for Girls, Trinidad, in acknowledgment for parcels received. Committees were named to meet with the Evening Auxiliary to make arrangements for entertaining members of the branch executive, which meets here September 21st.

Mrs. Harold Newson read an interesting letter from Miss Elizabeth Utting, our Missionary for prayer, who has recently returned to Angola, after a period of study at Cornell University. Mrs. Newson closed the meeting with prayer, especially remembering Miss Utting.

Adenauer Promises Care In Making Moscow Deal

BONN (Reuters)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, on the eve of his departure for Moscow, told West German parliamentary leaders Wednesday he will not make any deal there which will discredit his country with the West.

The 79-year-old statesman called the Bundestag (Lower House) foreign affairs committee into a special session less than 24 hours before he was to board a Lufthansa airliner for his mission to Russia. Adenauer surprised the world last June by inviting Adenauer to come to the Kremlin to talk over diplomatic, cultural and economic relations.

The chancellor reiterated Wednesday for the Bundestag committee his intention also to take up with the Russians the question of unifying West Germany and Communist East Germany, as well as the return of German prisoners now in Soviet hands.

He emphasized that his talks in Moscow will not change his conviction that the final responsibility for reunifying Germany rests with all the big four powers: Russia, Britain, the United States and France.

The legislators later told reporters Adenauer would leave here in a "skeptical and sober" mood. They said he certainly would not make any commitments that might endanger the good relations he has carefully built up with Germany's 14 partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

At Wednesday's session, the foreign affairs committee unanimously approved a decision for the chancellor to take with him to Moscow committee chairman Kurt Georg Kiesinger, a Christian Democrat, and Vice-Chairman Carlo Schmid, of the opposition Social Democratic party.

Also included in the delegation are foreign minister Heinrich von Brentano and Walter Hallstein, state secretary of the foreign office; Herbert Blankenhorn, ambassador to the NATO headquarters in Paris; Felix Von Eckardt, ambassador to the United Nations in New York; Hans Globke, state secretary of Adenauer's chancellery; and Karl Arnold, chairman of the Bundestag (Senate) foreign affairs committee.
