

The Hero of Kars.

TEN MINUTES WITH GENERAL SIR W. FENWICK WILLIAMS AND HIS OLD FRIENDS—WHAT HE SAYS OF CANADA'S PROSPERITY—HIS HEALTH—THE SECRET OF SUCCESS—HIS INTENTION TO RETURN TO CANADA.

(From the Montreal Witness.)

On Friday evening there were assembled at the Bonaventure Depot a number of citizens anxious to get a glimpse of the form of an old friend, and one whose commanding presence and portly figure was well known in Montreal long before confederation gave us a Dominion. General Sir W. Fenwick Williams came into the station in company with Major DeWinton and Colonels Dyde and Lyman, two of the veteran officers of our Canadian militia, who have had much to do with volunteering and in helping the force to be what it is to-day. General Williams at once took his place in the Pullman car, and those fortunate enough to have known him in the old time must have noticed a considerable change in his appearance. He is much stouter and enfeebled in appearance, his cheeks are sunken and his manner is nervous; a complete metamorphosis from the military commander he was here. His eyes, however, retained the old fire, and his conversation, though somewhat tinged with melancholy, was much more cheery than his looks would indicate.

THREE VETERAN SOLDIERS, and old friends, had much to speak of, and much of the conversation which the writer heard was of a nature interesting to Montreal people. "I can assure you I am much gratified to notice the improvement made in Canada since my departure," said he to Colonel Dyde, "and more especially in the Railways. Why, no one in England would fancy that in my present state of health I could travel a thousand miles and with so little fatigue. Montreal has had her share of improvement, and I need not say how much gratified I am to see the magnificence of her buildings."

THE GENERAL'S HEALTH.

Replying to Col Lyman General Williams said, "My health has been vastly improved since my visit. In fact, so much so, that my friends in England would hardly believe me so much better. Should I continue to improve, I shall return to Canada next year and spend some time between Nova Scotia and Montreal." General Williams' health broke down during his administration as Governor of Gibraltar, and he was obliged some three years ago to resign his post before his term had expired.

GLAD TO SEE OLD FRIENDS.

In speaking of matters of the past, General Williams remarked that nothing gave him so much pleasure as the warm welcome he had received from his old friends, many of whom had called upon him.

REMINISCENCES OF THE PAST.

Colonel Dyde brought to the General's recollection an episode of their acquaintance, which caused him not a little amusement. "Our foot race, General; you recollect we were to have run a foot race, long ago."

"Ah, well," said Sir Fenwick, shaking his head, "we will have to postpone that event—we will have to postpone it indefinitely, I think."

"NO, THANK YOU"—A MORAL.

"Do you recollect an incident of the visit of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales to Montreal?" said Colonel Dyde. "You were upon the left of the Prince of Wales, who sat with the Duke of Newcastle next to him, while I was upon your left. I noticed that you remarked very often 'No, thank you,' when the waiters came to you. Upon mentioning that it struck me as being peculiar, I think you answered, 'Oh, I generally do that. No, thank you, will bring a man through the world, and if I did not make a habit of saying it very often at these grand dinners, I should never be able to get along properly in this world. Depend upon it, it is the secret of getting through the world, 'No, thank you,' will bring a man along."

The General remembered the incident very well, and seemed rather pleased that his friend had retained the words in memory. Colonel Lyman having remarked upon the General's old habit of taking his daily walk before breakfast, General Williams remarked that he could not do that now.

QUEER COURTSHIP.—The husbands of Aleppo undergo a trying ordeal before they win their brides. Capt. Burnaby, author of "A Ride to Khiva," while in Asia recently had the ceremony described to him by a young boy from Aleppo. "A girl has, say, three lovers," said the boy. "She takes three bits of live charcoal from out of the fire; giving each of her lovers a piece; she tells them to place them in the palms of their hands. They burn through the skin, the tendons are laid bare; some times the amorous gentleman will resist till the flesh has been burnt to the bone. Here one or two of them generally succumb to the torture; the man who resists the longest wins the lady."

SEMINARY FOR YOUNG LADIES.

VISITOR: The Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia PRINCIPAL: The Rev. John Padfield.

THIS SCHOOL offers, at very moderate cost, the advantages of a comfortable and pleasant home together with a thorough and refined education.

The course of instruction is the same as that of the best Schools in England and is founded upon the University Examinations for Women. Eight young ladies from this School passed the Local Examination of the University of King's College in June last. This is the only School in Canada that has passed pupils at a University Examination.

The number of pupils is limited, rendering the School select, and while it possesses all the educational advantages of a large public school, each pupil is enabled to receive that individual care and oversight which is so important, and which cannot be given in a large establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Padfield are assisted by a staff of four resident governesses, besides visiting masters.

Parisienne French is taught conversationally. There are two resident French Governesses.

References given to parents of pupils. For further particulars address the Principal, Sept. 19, 1878.

CATARRH. Constitutional Catarrh Remedy CURES CATARRH.

Hear what a Reverend Gentleman says of the Constitutional Remedy.

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq., Brockville, Ont.:—DEAR SIR—It is now two years since your "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy" was introduced to me. I have waited this long to see if the cure would remain permanent before doing this, my duty, to you, as at first the happy effects seemed to me to be "too good to be true."

I was afflicted in my head for years before I suspected it to be Catarrh. In reading in your Circular I saw my case described in many particulars. The inward "drop" from the head had become very disagreeable, and a choking sensation often preventing me from lying long. I would feel like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the bed. My health and spirits were seriously affected. When your agent came to Walkertown in August, 1876, I secured three bottles. Before I had used a quarter of the contents of one bottle I found decided relief, and when I had used two bottles and a third, I quit taking it, feeling quite cured of that ailment, and have not used any since until of late I have taken some for a cold in my head.

A sense of duty to sufferers from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, prompts me to send you this Certificate, unsolicited, with leave to make what use of it you may see proper. Yours truly, W. TINDALL, Methodist Minister. Port Elgin, Ont., Aug. 24, 1878.

Ask for Littlefield's Constitutional Catarrh Remedy and take no other. T. J. B. HARDING, Dominion Agent, Brockville, Ont. For sale by all Druggists at only one Dollar per bottle.
