$50,000 Track Blaze Claims Three Race Horses

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

Three race horses were burned to death at the raceway here yesterday morning when fire completely destroyed two stables and badly damaged a pumper helped the firemen to third.

It has been estimated that the loss suffered in the fire was in the vicinity of $50,000. The raceway is owned by the town and leased to the Prince County Horsemen's club. George Key Jr., a town councillor, said last night, "a $50,000 replacement value was not too far out".

The fire broke out around 10 o'clock and burned out of control for approximately an hour. It was fought by the Summerside Fire Department and a pumper from the fire department at RCAF station Summerside.

The fire is believed to have started in a small oil stove. It is thought to have overheated or exploded. The fire, which began in a long barn at the north of the paddock area, quickly spread in the wooden building and jumped a 30-yard gap and ignited another barn south of it.

FURTHER THREAT

The fire then jumped to another barn, south of the second one. There was a strong breeze blowing from the north driving the fire and it was thought by many of the firemen and spectators that it would be impossible to control before it reached still another two barns that lay even further to the south. But the arrival of the RCAF pumper helped the firemen to contain the fire to the three buildings.

There were some 20 horses stabled in the barns at the time. All were saved but three. They were stabled in the barn in which the fire broke out.

The dead horses are: Time Flies, owned by Roland Sheen; Peter Way, owned by Thane Baglole, and Ima Gennessee, owned by Erskine Waite. All are Born Summerside.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Lorne McClure of North Market Street was taken to Prince County Hospital, believed to have suffered a slight heart seizure while assisting in removing the horses from their stalls. At noon yesterday the hospital reported he was resting comfortably.

Councillor Key said there is concern as to the future of racing in Summerside among members of the racing fraternity here, but as yet there has been no decision whether the stables will be replaced or not. He expects that Mayor W.E. Jenkins will call a special meeting of town council to discuss the matter.

Reginald Sonier, raceway secretary, said the barns lost contained stall area for about 40 horses.

Queens County Selects Plowing Champ Today

The county plowing championship match on the farm of Charlie Jones at Pownal today provides two contestants, the winner and the runner-up, to compete in the Provincial Plowing Championship competition at Dundas next Thursday, when plowmen from Prince and Kings Counties will vie for Island supremacy, and the right to represent the province next year in the Canadian Championship in 1965.

The Prince County representatives, Arthur Hudson, Cascumpec and Lawrence Harris, Knutsford, were chosen in the Prince County match last week. For Hudson it was his fourth time to dominate plowmen in his county and his experience in championship competition should be a factor to watch in the plowing at Dundas on Thursday afternoon in the Esso special match.

The Kings County entries in the provincial championship event will be chosen when the Kings County championships are staged on Wednesday afternoon next.

The provincial champions hip comes back to Dundas for the first time in three years — it was held in the O'Leary area in 1962 and in York in 1963 — and this is fitting for the Dundas organization revived competitive plowing in this province some 23 years ago after a long period without any plowing of this type.

But the two-day show at Dundas has much more than plowing to attract spectators. There is a complete livestock show with the various breeders of cattle offering the best of competition, and there are other classes such as poultry, sheep and swine.

There are also classes for vegetables, roots and field crops, and the handicrafts and home cooking classes annually draw some of the best examples of these skills that can be found anywhere in the Maritimes.

'Christian Radich' Liaison Here Sets Scene For Ship's Arrival

Like most Scandinavians Bjorn Kvisgaard, here from the export council of Norway to act as liaison for the Norwegian training ship Christian Radich, is completely conversant in a language not his own — English, in this case.

Mr. Kvisgaard flew into Charlottetown yesterday to prepare for the Christian Radich's arrival on Sunday morning. Last night he was entertained by Surgeon Cmdr. L.E. Prowse, commanding officer of the Canadian Navy's base here, HMCS Queen Charlotte.

For the past eight weeks Mr. Kvisgaard has been in North America to help with the Radich's tour of the eastern seaboard. From Milwaukee, Toronto, Montreal and until yesterday, Chicago he has smoothed the waters for the passage of the ship and its young charges.

The pleasant, "typical Scandinavian" attache has now turned to Charlottetown, last courtesy stop for both himself and the ship. When this visit is over he will fly to New York and then home to Oslo.

FISHING IN GULF

He reported last night that the Radich is now probably fishing in the Gulf of St. Lawrence for some fresh seafood which the sea cadets were hankering after. This morning he will try to raise the ship on the radio for a position report.

On board the Christian Radich at present are 88 trainee cadets preparing for service in the merchant navy of Norway. Their ages range from 15 to 18 and they are supervised by six officers and 10 experienced crewmen. Two months ago the young sailors demonstrated their prowess by wining the 3,000-mile Lisbon, Portugal to Bermuda race for tall ships from the training services of several countries.

Radich is a three-masted full-rigger carrying 27 sails with an area of approximately 13,000 square feet.

She was built in 1937 expressly for the use by and training of merchant navy cadets.

PLAYS BIG ROLE

The merchant navy plays an extremely big role in the economy of Norway which has one of the largest merchant fleets in the world.

For this reason Norway goes about training her civilian sailors in a big way, and sailing the great white wind ships she considers to be one of the best ways to do this, to give her young men a feel of the sea as well as to develop their characters.

The Island, which many years ago played a prominent role in seafaring with fleets of sailing ships, will probably feel a kinship with the visiting ship. Certainly it will be a thrilling sight to see the Christian Radich coming majestically into harbor at 10 o'clock Sunday morning with all sails set.

Mr. Kvisgaard said last night that anyone wanting to get a closer look at the ship will be able to do so during visiting hours: from 12 noon to 5 o'clock Sunday and from 11 a.m. to 4 in the afternoon on Monday.

RIN Threatens $1 Million Suit Against Paper

MONTREAL (CP)—The Star published a notice from Le Rassemblement Pour L'Independance Nationale that the separatist group plans to sue the daily newspaper for $1,000,000 unless it prints a retraction of a story Aug. 31 associating the RIN with an attempted gunshop robbery Saturday that resulted in two deaths. The Star says it will not print a retraction.

The notice of intent, printed in French and accompanied by an English translation, says the retraction must be made within 48 hours.

If the retraction is not printed "our client instructs us to take against you an action for damages and interest punitive and exemplary for an amount of one million dollars (1,000,000). . ." says the letter, signed by lawyer Gilles L. Duguay.

The Star printed the following comment:

"No retraction will be made by the Montreal Star, John G. McConnell, president and publisher, said today."

French Plants For Cars Seen In Quebec Soon

OTTAWA (CP) — Industry Minister Drury said in the Commons Friday he hopes negotiations will be concluded soon to establish Quebec branch plants for two French automobile manufacturers, Peugeot and Renault.

He told Raymond Langlois (Crediitste — Megantic) a Quebec Crown corporation, General Investments Corporation, will choose sites for the two plants in the event the projects are practical.

Manning Sees Possible Delay From Quebec

EDMONTON (CP) — Quebec objectives could delay indefinitely repatriation of the British North America Act, Premier Manning said Friday.

The premier, on his return from a Dominion - provincial conference at Charlottetown, said the constitution question could be settled at a meeting between Justice Minister Favreau and provincial attorneys-general or it would be indefinitely delayed.

The meeting of attorneys-general and Mr. Favreau is to be held in the near future.

Mr. Manning said he was disappointed by the Quebec objections. "I'm sure all the provinces but Quebec were prepared to adopt this bill. It could have been accepted and the announcement made."

Repatriation of the bill would give Canada the power to amend the BNA Act, which now can be done only by the British Parliament.

Mr. Manning said the Quebec objection involved a section that would provide the federal government with power to amend the BNA Act without consulting the provinces in any matters relating to exclusive federal jurisdiction
