JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT CURES COLDS CROUP COUGH COLIC CRAMPS

All who use it are amazed at its wonderful power and are loud in its praise ever after. For Internal as much as External Use. Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. Doctor's Signature and Directions on every bottle. Be not afraid to trust what time has endorsed. At all Druggists. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Every Mother should have it in the house for the many common ailments which will occur in every family as long as life has woes. Dropped on sugar suffering children love it. Do not forget the very important and useful fact, that Johnson's Anodyne Liniment cures every form of inflammation. Internal or External. It is a fact, proven by the investigations of medical science, that the real danger from disease is caused by inflammation; cure the inflammation and you conquer the disease.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Could a remedy have existed for over eighty years except for the fact that it does possess extraordinary merit for very many Family Ills? There is not a medicine in use today which has the confidence of the public to so great an extent as this wonderful Anodyne. It has stood upon its own intrinsic merit, while generation after generation have used it with entire satisfaction, and handed down to their children a knowledge of its worth, as a Universal Household Remedy, from infancy to good old age.

Scrofula is a word you don't quite understand, but if you talk with your doctor, he will tell you that it is generally believed to be due to the same cause which gives rise to Consumption. It appears mostly in those who are fat-starved and thin, usually in early life. A course of treatment of Scott's Emulsion with the Hypophosites wherever Scrofula manifests itself, will prevent the development of the disease. Let us send you a book. Free.

LITERARY INDUSTRY.

Samuel Butler required 2½ years to finish his "Hudibras."

Southey is said to have written "Thalaba, the Destroyer" in six months.

Hallam consumed 13 years in collecting the materials for his "Literature of Europe."

Hawthorne spent from six months to a year in the composition of each of his romances.

Richardson, the novelist, generally devoted two or three years to the composition of a novel.

Montgomery, the famous hymn writer, required but a single afternoon to prepare one of his magnificent paraphrases of the Psalms.

Hannah More is said to have written one of her "Essays on Female Education" in two weeks. She did not spend much time in revision.

Coleridge required a week to produce each one of his remarkable lectures on Shakespeare. Like many other authors, he consumed more time in revision than in actual composition.

Shelley spent between one and two years on "Queen Mab." He wrote very slowly and was particular in the choice of words, his manuscript showing frequent erasures and substitutions.

Hood wrote "The Bridge of Sighs" in, it is said, a single afternoon. Another account declares it to have been written in a day and that much time subsequently was spent in revising it.

Thomas Moore often wrote a short poem almost impromptu. He consumed over two years in reading and preparing material for "Lallah Rookh" and two years more in writing that inimitable poem.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

STAGE GLINTS.

Marie B. Gage of the "Brownies" company is a writer of clever sketches.

Geraldine Ulmar has been engaged by Fred C. Whitney for a new operatic production.

Flora Irwin is to be starred in at least one play made popular by her fat but "fetching" sister May.

Charles Frohman has secured for America Henry V. Esmond's new three act comedy, "A Summer Day."

Ella Russell, the American prima donna, has been engaged for the Handel festival to be held in London in June.

Jeff De Angelis will tempt fortune again as a star within a few weeks. He will have an entirely new comic opera.

W. L. Buchanan has received high commendation for his impersonation of the role of General Gomez in "Cuba's Vow."

William A. Brady has concluded that Alfriend and Wheeler's latest melodrama, "New York," will not do, and it has been "closed."

Sadie Martinot is said to have come to the irrevocable determination that a large, fixed salary is preferable to the alleged joys of starhood.

James H. Love proposes to reproduce at the Madison Square Garden, in New York, in May, "The Forty-nine Mining Camp," which was a feature of the San Francisco Midwinter fair.

Arrangements have been completed for a starring tour by Everett King in a repertory of legitimate drama, playing Hamlet, Romeo, Cassius in "Julius Cæsar" and two new romantic plays.

IN MANY TONGUES.

The Strange Languages In Which Services Are Held In New York.

No loophole of an excuse for not attending religious services on the plea of unfamiliarity with the language in which they are held is now left open for the foreigner in New York. Let him come from whatever country he will, he can be taken, almost without exception, to some church or mission in this city where the tongue of the preacher will not be strange to his ears. Some of these foreign congregations are well known and have been many years established, while others are obscure little bodies, almost never heard of in a general way, and many of them are of recent formation. German, French and Swedish churches have long existed in New York, and many of them have made their influence powerfully felt in the charitable work of the city. The great number of Hebrew synagogues forms a class by themselves, but in addition to these there are several Christian mission churches in the different Jewish quarters where the services are conducted in Hebrew.

The majority of Italians, being Roman Catholics, attend the various churches of that faith which happen to be in their neighborhood. There are, however, a few Protestant Italian communities, one of the most flourishing being the church in Broome street under the control of the New York City mission. The services, entirely in Italian, are under the charge of the pastor, Antonio Arrighi. The Judson Memorial Baptist church and St. Barnabas' chapel, Episcopalian, have regular Italian services, and the Methodist denomination maintains two congregations, one in Bleecker street and the other in East One Hundred and Twelfth street, the heart of "Little Italy."

The Armenian language from the pulpit may be heard in Second street, near the Bowery, where the Olivet Memorial church has a mission, and at St. Bartholomew's Parish house, in East Forty-second street. Services in a modern Syriac dialect are also held in the latter place for a little colony of Syrians from Mount Lebanon. Another Armenian mission is under the charge of the Adams Memorial (Presbyterian) church and is at Thirtieth street and Third avenue. This neighborhood, by the way, has become the rallying point for most of the Armenians in the city, and large numbers of them live thereabout within a few blocks' radius. While the Spanish are as a nation Roman Catholics, there are at least two Spanish Protestant churches in this city. The Congregational and Presbyterian denominations have each a sturdy Welsh congregation, where the peculiarities of the Gaelic tongue sound strangely to American ears. Religious instruction in Arabic to a little band of Christians who speak that as their native tongue goes on every Sunday down in Washington street. The Russian Orthodox church in Second avenue is attended by the few Russians and Greeks in New York. Regular preaching services in Chinese are carried on at St. Bartholomew's Parish house, and probably elsewhere, in connection with the many Chinese Sunday schools. And even after this list, which seems a considerable one, has been given, there doubtless remain other places in the city where Christian religious worship is held in languages yet more unfamiliar.—New York Tribune.

A New Rag.

A curious relic of the old days of the paper duties which so much hampered journalistic enterprise in the first half of the present century is the first number of Berthold's Political Handkerchief, being a news sheet printed on cotton fabric instead of paper. It is dated London, Saturday, Sept. 3, 1831; price, fourpence. And the letterpress, which is fairly legible, is as remarkable as the material on which it is printed.

The tone of this news rag is intensely radical, but it reproduces the order of ceremonial to be observed at the coronation of King William IV and Queen Adelaide on the following Thursday, and it is announced that a proclamation to the people of Europe will appear in our "next cotton." It is embellished with a medallion woodcut of Napoleon crossing the Alps, but the ink in this pictorial effort was too much for the cotton, and the Alps are in a fog and the emperor on horseback very indistinct.

A Greek-English Pun.

The Watchman records a witticism of the late Professor Kendrick of Rochester university.

Having one day in the classroom remarked tht the Greek preposition "eis" invariably means "into," he was reminded by one of his pupils that a professor in another college had asserted the contrary.

"Well," was the reply, "if that be true, I can only say that he has slipped up on the 'eis,' that is all."

The King's Portrait.

A pretty trait is recorded of King George of Greece. At home as on his travels he likes to wander abroad incognito, without attendance, and so unpretentiously dressed that he escapes recognition. At one time he was taking one of his long solitary walks when his attention was attracted by a couple coming along the road hand in hand, evidently a young workman and his sweetheart. Under pretext of asking his way, he entered into conversation with them, and was told that they were engaged and hoped by Christmas to have earned enough to get married. Before parting from them he took down their names and addresses, and jokingly told the girl that he might perhaps find remunerative work for them, but that anyway he would send them his portrait as a reminder of this meeting. On her wedding day the bride received a heavy necklace composed of gold coins, on which she recognized the face of the man who had asked his way of her. It was the promised portrait of the king.—New York Sun.

MESSAGE TO MEN.

Proving that True Honesty and True Philantrophy Still Exist.

If any man who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, Loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell, and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-beings to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c silver to cover postage and address Mr. Geo. G. Strong, North Rockwood, Mich. 135&w.

Used Eighteen Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills—The Stone Dissolved and Removed Knew of Others Cured.

Shelburne, March 22 (Special)—Mr. John Medill, known locally as well as far and near as a physical giant, and glorying in his strength, came to be a great sufferer and tells of his cure as follows:

"I do not hesitate to speak of Dodd's Kidney Pills or anything else as I find them. If a medicine cures me and if I think it will cure others, why not say so?

"It is true I have been suffering for some time with bladder trouble, and learning of a cure made in a similar case by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I commenced using them."

In all I have used eighteen boxes and they have dissolved the stone and entirely cured me of any sign of such difficulty. I do not hesitate to speak of Dodd's Kidney Pills in the highest terms of praise, for I know of many persons who have been cured by them.

The World's Champion

Won his laurels on a "White Flyer." He knows the value of a perfect mount, as few riders know it. He says "it is a wheel fit for a champion." There is but one "Barnes White Flyer." Its distinct features talk. Its graceful lines, tool steel bearings and invisible joints with internal reinforcements, are features of merit that are at once apparent. It is a business wheel for the business man—a swell top notch wheel for the man of leisure—a stylish and elegant wheel for the lady rider. Call and see 1897 White Flyer at Dawson's, The Bicycle Depot—it is superb.
