Ottawa Annoyed By New U.S. Squeeze On Dairy Industry

OTTAWA, (CP) — The Canadian Government Wednesday showed sharp annoyance at the latest United States squeeze on dairy imports and prepared to fire another round of protests at Washington.

But there still was hope among some officials that President Eisenhower will take action within the next few months to lift the trade-hampering curbs. The curbs will be eliminated automatically unless the legislation under which they are kept alive — U.S. Defence Production Act — is renewed before next June.

Meanwhile, Trade Minister Howe told the Commons in reply to Hazen Argue (CPC—Assiniboia) that the government already has forwarded three "strongly-worded" protests on the restrictions, the latest within the last four weeks.

"But," he added, "the government will continue to protest as effectively as diplomatic procedure will permit."

The American dairy restrictions have been under the government's eye for many months. What brought the latest annoyance was the U.S. agriculture department announcement Wednesday, banning all imports of dried milk products effective April 1.

Canada, other dairy exporting countries in Europe and New Zealand have taken the stand that all of the U.S. dairy import restrictions contravene the general agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Canada has reserved the right to take retaliatory tariff action against American products, but so far hasn't done so. Protests followed protest — all on no avail.

The big problems is that although the U.S. is a large market for dairy imports she has big surpluses of her own. These are piling up in warehouses with no buyers in sight. The American dairy industry (Continued on Page 8 Col. 4)

Two Pictou Coal Mines May Close

SYDNEY, (CP) — Two coal mines in mainland Pictou county, important mainstays of the area's economy, may be closed shortly.

Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation told a conciliation board here that the losing operations of Acadia Coal Company, which operates the two pits, "will have to be abandoned in the immediate future unless the efficiency of the operations there can be quickly improved to at least the break-even point."

The company also referred to "another alarming situation" at Glace Bay's No. 1 colliery, one-time top producer which lost $1,600,000 during 1952.

Enemy Clings To Peak Overlooking Allied Highway

SEOUL, (AP) — U.S. 7th division troops abandoned the strategic peak of Old Baldy on the main invasion route to Seoul Thursday after three days of bitter fighting.

SEOUL, (AP) — Allied artillery and planes pounded furiously at about 300 Chinese-Reds desperately hugging muddy trenches and battered bunkers on the crest of Old Baldy Wednesday night after two United States 7th division counter-attacks failed.

In Third Day The battle for the strategic height, dominating the invasion route to Seoul along the Western front, raged into its third day with American forces pinned down 125 yards from the summit. The Reds held two-thirds of Old Baldy.

During the first 48 hours U.S. 105 and 155-millimetre guns poured more than 62,000 rounds of artillery shells at the Reds, outflanking the Communist army fired in still greater quantities.

U.S. tanks manoeuvred in the mud, blasting Communist reinforcements attempting to scale the slippery peak.

Allied planes swarmed overhead. B-26 light bombers dropped 36 tons of bombs on Red positions immediately behind Old Baldy.

The army said three United Nations soldiers were hit when unidentified planes dropped four bombs on the Western front, but it did not say if the incident occurred around Old Baldy. An investigation was underway to determine if the planes were friendly. Red planes rarely reach the front.

Shows Impatience Some impatience at the slowness of the American counter-attack was displayed by Lt. Gen. Paul W. Kendall, U.S. 1st corps commander who watched the Old Baldy fighting from a forward observation post, newspaper men reported.

AP correspondent Stan Carter on the front reported a Battalion of Colombian troops attached to the 7th were atop Old Baldy when the Chinese first hit Monday night with 3,500 men along a six-mile front.

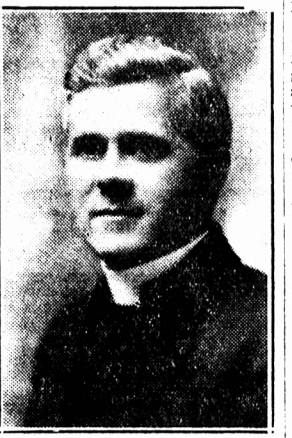

"The Colombians fought until they ran out of ammunition," Carter said. "Some of them threw rocks at the Chinese when they had used up all their ammunition."

Carter said about one-third of the Colombians escaped by climbing out of the windows of their bunkers when their ammunition was expended.

Elsewhere along the 155-mile front action was relatively small and limited to local patrol clashes and scattered Communist probes.

Accepts Call To Ontario Ministry

Rev. G. Carlyle Webster, (above), who has been minister of Zion Presbyterian Church in Charlottetown since 1931, has accepted a call from the joint congregations of Wallace town and West Lorne, Ont. Presbyterian Churches, and is expected to leave for his new charge early next week.

During his long and fruitful ministry in this city, Rev. Mr. Webster has been honoured by the Prince Edward Island Presbytery in his election to the position of Moderator and also of Clerk. In the broader field of church government, he has filled the position of Moderator of the Maritime Synod, which includes Newfoundland. He is also a Past President of the Ministerial Association of Charlottetown.

In social welfare and other activities he has taken a prominent part, and is very widely known in this connection throughout the Province.

In anticipation of their early and much regretted departure, the various church societies of Zion have made gestures of goodwill towards Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Webster, including several presentations during the past week.

Mr. Webster is expected to preach to the Chinese first hit Monday night with 3,500 men along a six-mile front.

Chrysler Cuts Prices In Canada WINDSOR, Ont., (CP) — The Chrysler Corporation price cuts ranging from $17 to $62 Wednesday on "certain" of its passenger cars and trucks.

Unemployment Insurance Query OTTAWA, (CP) — Labor Minister Gregg said Wednesday in the Commons he is not in a position to say if the government will extend unemployment insurance at this session.

Stanley Knowles (COP-Winnipeg North Centre) had asked him if the government proposed legislation to provide coverage for persons who become sick after being laid off work for other reasons. At present, insurance ceases when a person becomes unavailable for work.

Queen Mary's Funeral To Be Held Tuesday

LONDON, (CP) — Buckingham Palace announced Wednesday night that funeral services for Queen Mary will be held next Tuesday in St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, for centuries the final resting place of England's Kings and Queens.

The 85-year-old grandmother of the Queen died in her sleep Tuesday night. She will be buried in the chapel where her husband, King George V, was laid to rest in 1936, and where her second son, King George VI, was buried 13 months ago.

The Coronation executive committee met Wednesday and decided in accord with Queen Mary's deathbed wish not to alter arrangements for the June 2 ceremony.

One Month's Mourning Earlier, the Queen decreed only a month's court mourning.

It was a hard decision for the young Queen to make but it was in compliance with the tradition-bound Queen Mary's own forcefully-stated view about the Coronation: "Nothing must interfere with it. Nothing." There was a mourning period of 3 1/2 months for George VI.

The one-month mourning period will leave plenty of time to complete arrangements for the Coronation and attendant festivities expected to draw thousands of visitors to Britain.

The body of the old Queen, whose indomitable spirit won the admiration of four generations of Britons, is to lie in state Sunday and Monday in Westminster Hall, where thousands paid tribute to the hier of King George VI little adjoining the House of Parliament, is just across the street from Westminster Abbey, already being fitted out for the Coronation. The body will be taken privately to Windsor Castle Tuesday.

Pleads Not Guilty To this charge Mr. Scales entered a plea of "not guilty," after stating that he did not consider he was legally or morally guilty of the offence.

5-Teen-Agers Rescued From Drift Ice Off Nfld. ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., (CP) — Five frightened teen-agers were rescued from a floating crag of ice Wednesday and a missing bird hunter turned up safely on the French island of St. Pierre.

The United States base at Argentinia, meanwhile, reported that one of its planes had sighted three men, apparently adrift in an open dory off Long Island, in southern Placentia Bay.

The five youngsters had left Bell Island, in Conception Bay north of here, to hunt seals on the pack of drift ice. Then the ice split up and they started to drift to sea.

Nearby fishermen spotted their plight and set out in small boats to beat through the ice and rescue them.

House Disposes Of Bills In Preparation For Budget Tonight

It was a day of drab routine work in the Legislature yesterday as members tried to clear the decks for the introduction of the budget tonight. Six bills receiving third and final reading and another four passed through the long committee stage of second reading.

Passed yesterday were amendments to the Prince Edward Island Corporation Income Tax Act, 1949, the Legal Profession Act, the Fire Prevention Act and the Workmen's Compensation Act. Also passed were the bills covering the Civil Service Act and an Act to incorporate the Fundamental Baptist Church of Central Bedford.

The bills in committee included an Act to amend an Act to incorporate the Prince Edward Island, the Prince Edward Island Dental Act, the Prince Edward Island Dairy Products Act and an amendment to the Mothers Allowance Act. The latter is still in the committee stage.

Among the chairmen acting yesterday were Messrs. J. G. MacKay, Harvey Douglas, Dr. Lorne Kennell and B. Earle MacDonald.

Evenly Matched The lieutenant-governor's problem stems from the fact that Social Credit and the C.C.F. are so evenly matched numerically in the house.

Standing in the legislature is: Social Credit 19, C.C.F. 18, Liberals six, Progressive Conservatives two, Labor one and vacant two.

Tom Uphill, veteran Labor member for Fernie, said he would support the C.C.F. if it formed a government, thus giving the Socialists a strength of 19.

Liberal leader E. T. Kenney said soon after the legislature opened Feb. 3 that if Social Credit were beaten on the floor of the house, the C.C.F. should be given a chance to govern without an election being called. Social Credit was elected for the first time in B.C. last June 12, replacing the Liberal administration.

But neither Mr. Kenney nor Progressive Conservative George Miller said they would support the C.C.F.

No Comment Mr. Bennett and Mr. Winch declined comment on their interviews with the lieutenant-governor. But the premier appeared confident his request for dissolution of the legislature and a new election. The (Continued on Page 8 Col. 4)

B.C. Social Credit Gov't Defeated In Vote; Election Likely

OTTAWA, (CP) — The United States is in urgent need of more Canadian uranium for atomic bomb production, the Commons atomic energy committee was told Wednesday.

W. J. Bennett, head of the publicly-owned Eldorado Mining and Refining Company, told the committee bluntly that the "prime objective" of Canadian uranium development is to feed more of the fissionable material into American atomic bomb production.

"It is in the national interest that every possible effort should be made to speed up and increase the deliveries of uranium."

"We regret that this is so," he said, "but at the same time we must be mindful of the facts that the atomic bomb is the most potent means of safeguarding the security of this continent and whatever that may involve in the way of military action elsewhere."

Scotland Yard Probes Multiple Murder Case

LONDON, (CP) — Scotland Yard detectives Wednesday night pried, scraped and examined floor and walls in a grimy house of horror which so far has yielded the rotting, nearly-nude corpses of four women.

Three were found Tuesday wall-to-wall in a pantry niche. The fourth was uncovered Wednesday under a front-room floor.

The three in the wall were young. All were poor and work-worn. Post-mortem examinations showed the first three were strangled and police believe a stranger killed the fourth.

Scotland Yard worked on three theories: 1. The women were strangled by a modern "bluebeard" who wished to dispose of his harem.

2. They were the unsuccessful cases of an abortionist.

3. They were the victims of a confidence man who first robbed and then murdered them.

Recall Earlier Murder Police said they had discovered no direct link between the 1949 murders in the house and the death of the four women.

Mrs. Beryl Evans, 19, and her 14-month-old daughter, were found strangled to death in December 1949, in the same house. Her husband, Timothy John Evans, 25, was subsequently convicted and hanged.

Court records show that Christie was a principal witness at the Evans trial. Subjected to close cross-examination, he denied defence counsel suggestions that he was not telling all he knew about the case. Soon after the trial, Christie suffered a nervous breakdown, neighbors said.

Charge Denial Of Free Speech In CNR Committee

OTTAWA, (CP) — A Progressive Conservative member Wednesday accused the government majority on the Commons railway committee of the "denial of free speech" in blocking full inquiry into the case of the Canadian National Railway's demoted hotel manager.

In a final thrust before the committee ended its annual study of CNR operations, J. M. MacDonnell (PC-Toronto Greenwood) said there had been "arbitrary and unfair use" of the party majority which violated "the simplest principle of justice."
