Aussies Oust Mexican Team

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, July 2—Australia's Davis Cup tennis team, almost a certainty to enter the challenge round, completed its conquest of a weak Mexican team today.

The doubles combination of Jack Bromwich, the two-fisted hitter and Adrian Quist, veteran internationalist, won over Daniel Hernandez and Eugenio Tapia, 8-6, 6-0, 6-1.

That victory, combined with a pair in the singles Friday settled the series outcome, and tomorrow's singles will be merely exhibitions.

The Australians will head for Long Beach, Calif., where they will meet the Philippine team.

Recently 20,000 "ladybugs" were transported by air from California to Florida to combat parasities in citrus groves.

Greatest Drought In Centuries Due 27 Years Hence?

PALO ALTO, Calif., July 2—A prediction the greatest drought in 17 centuries would come 27 years hence high-lighted meetings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The prediction was made by Halbert P. Gillette, geologist and meteorology research. He said he found evidence in the rocks there was a 1701-year rainfall cycle, having sub-cycles of 567 and 189 years.

He said the year 1966 would be the bottom of all three cycles and should produce a drought comparable to the only other major occurrence of its kind in written history, in the year 265 A. D., "about when the Roman Empire began to crumble and when wars in China were chronic."

Gillette's prediction was based on a study of varves-layers of sediment deposited in seas or lakes by the annual runoff of streams. Some of the varve computatoins went back to 2300 B. C., and can be followed for "millions of years."

The maximum rainfall periods of the 17-century cycle were "notable, for their association with great periods of prosperity," particularly the Cretan Palace age about 2286 B. C., the second pyramid age; the golden age of Greece and the rise of Rome between 565 and 509 B. C., also in 1116 A. D., about the time of the Viking age, the Norman conquest of England, the Crusades and the invasion of Ghengis Khan.

British Press Reaction To Halifax Speech

LONDON, June 30—(Friday)—(CP)—The Daily Express (Independent) today called Lord Halifax' speech last night the "gravest speech since the Hitler regime began," and said:—

"In unmistakable terms Lord Halifax warned Herr Hitler that any attempt at further aggression will be resisted by war."

"Lord Halifax voices the thought of the British people," the editorial said. "If war comes, then this nation will be resolute and determined. Whatever may be the future before us, there is one measure we should take without waiting on events. We should extend the range of conscription, call up many more classes of young men for training this summer, and introduce compulsory military training for the unemployed."

The Daily Telegraph (Conservative) said:—

"No utterance more dignified, more resolute and free from any ambiguity could have come from the lips of the British Foreign Minister.

"The occasion was obviously a critical one, and all the world was waiting to hear what Lord Halifax would say. It is high praise, therefore, to declare that the speech was entirely worthy of the occasion and of the nation to whose strongest convictions and resolves it gave expression.

"Yesterday the Polish President (Ignace Moscicki) made an emphatic declaration of determination to defend Poland's vital rights. That is the answer to the menacing movement on her frontiers which German forces have of late been ostentatiously making.

"This country has entered into a solemn obligation to go to Poland's assistance if her vital rights are assailed. It should be clear to all, after Lord Halifax's words, that that obligation will be unhesitatingly and fully observed."

The Daily Herald (Labor):—

"Strong words were used by the Foreign Secretary last night. This is an occasion in the affairs of the world when a strong clear statement of British policy is necessary. We are glad it has been made. We hope its purpose will not be misunderstood anywhere.

"Lord Halifax spoke in London, but his words were directed to Berlin. We hope there will be no attempt to minimize their significance Let Berlin be assured that the firmness of this speech reflects the true mood of Britain and that it will this time allow no wavering by its government."

The Daily Mirror (Ind.):—

"'Deeds, not words!' roars Goebbels. We might echo that. Indeed Halifax echoes it. We need no more words. We need brave preparation for deeds in self-defence. The best of such deeds at this point—after the Polish President's courageous broadcast yesterday—would be a signed, safe, all-in agreement with Russia."

Canuck Crew Hold Workout For Regatta

By JACK BRAYLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England June 27—Toronto's big Argonaut eight, preparing for the big challenge event in the Royal Henley Centenary Regatta next month, worked over a full course trial today "in darn good time" according to their coach, Ted Punchard.

Canada's chief entry in the regatta, which takes place July 5, 6, 7 and 8, the Argonauts have impressed English rowing writers. Their fast striking clip ranged from 38 at start to 34 midway to 39 at the finish over a one mile 550 yard course.

"The boys showed their pace today and were fresh at the end," Punchard said. But he wouldn't say how they compared with their record of six minutes 45 seconds.

Argonauts are hoping to win the grand challenge cup event, unsuccessfully contested by seven Canadian crews from 1899 to 1929.

Inclement Weather Curtails Regatta At Summerside

Owing to the extremely unfavorable weather the Summerside Yacht Club were unable to hold their annual regatta on Dominion Day as scheduled. After much discussion the races were held on Sunday, but the races were confined mostly to local yachts with the exception of one from Borden and one from Shediac as several boats were unable to get here on account of the weather and others already here had to return on Sunday.

The small number of boats present made it necessary to start classes 4, 5 and 6 together in order to provide competition, while Tanton and Pond fought it out in class 3. Swan and Miminigash sailed with class 3, but as they are not eligible for the cup they could not be given the standing they gained in those races.

The results are as follows:

Class 3:—
1st race won by Woodpecker, (Tanton).
2nd race won by Midnight, (Pond).
3rd race won by Woodpecker, (Tanton).

Classes 4, 5, 6:—
1st race—Goldfinch.

Class 4:—
1st—Capt. Stright; 2nd. Zephyr.

Class 5:—
1st—J. L. Sherry; 3rd Mayflower.

Class 6:—
1st—Robert Fraser; 4th, Dawn.

Class 5:—
1st—Don Storey.
2nd race—1st. Goldfinch; 2nd. Mayflower; 3rd Zephyr; 4th Dawn.
3rd race—1st. Goldfinch; 2nd. Mayflower; 3rd Zephyr; 4th Dawn.

The free for all race was run in two classes with Goldfinch, Mayflower, Zephyr and Dawn in the first class and Woodpecker, Midnight, Miminigash and Ramsay's Swan in the second class. with results as follows:

1st Class:—
1. Zephyr; 2. Goldfinch; 3. Mayflower; 4. Dawn.

2nd Class:—
1. Miminigash; 2. Woodpecker; 3. Midnight; 4. Swan.

Ray Tanton retained the Olympia cup for class 3 and J. L. Sherry the Dominion Fur Sales cup for class 5. J. L. Stright took the R. T. Holman Ltd. cup for class 4 and Robt. Fraser the prize for class 6. Herbert Stright handled the starting signals in a very efficient manner.

Yachtsmen's Banquet

The annual banquet of Summerside Yacht Club was held on Saturday at the Clifton Hotel with about forty yachtsmen and their friends present. All those who had come up for the racing remained for the banquet. The dining table was arranged in nautical style. Rear Commodore Eric MacKay presided in the absence of Commodore Campbell.

After the delicious dinner provided by Mr. and Mrs. Titus had been thoroughly enjoyed Commodore MacKay called on Commodore Frank Storey of Shediac, who heads the Northumberland Yacht Racing Association which is the parent organization of the Club on the Straits, who in a short speech expressed much pleasure at the large turnout of visiting yachtsmen, especially from Charlottetown, and expressed regret that the weather was so unkind. A. P. Ceretti, Commodore of the Borden Club; Ken Martin, leader of the Sea Scouts; Captain Stright, Roy Sherry, Don Storey and Ray Tanton and others all spoke briefly. Mrs. Ray Tanton presided at the piano and played lively airs during the dinner.

Yachtsmen and visitors who came for the regatta were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Storey, Mr. Don Storey with his yacht the Dawn, from Shediac; from Charlottetown were K. M. Martin and a number of Sea Scouts with a snipe class boat; other snipe boats with several young men; Jack King with his yacht Jeep in tow by the launch Restless, owned by Hal Bourke.

Two other Charlottetown yachtsmen, Commodore Morris with his yacht P-No in tow, and Mac Irwin with the Zenith, were forced back by the weather. Had the Charlottetown craft been able to remain for the race they would have had one of the strongest representations for some years at the Summerside regatta. Roy Sherry with his yacht represented Borden. Summerside yachtsmen attending were: Captain Stright, Goldfinch; Robert Fraser, Mayflower; Maxime Gallant, Miminigash; Ray Tanton, Woodpecker; Stephen Pond, Midnight; Russell Ramsay, Swan. S

Dominion Archivist Prepares A History Of The Royal Tour

OTTAWA, June 29—An official caronicle of the Royal Tour will be compiled shortly by Dr. Gustave Lanctot, Dominion archivist, who accompanied the Royal Party throughout Canada for the purpose of observing it at first hand.

In his book-lined office in the Archives Building here Dr. Lanctot is studying a huge mass of newspaper clippings and despatches from which he will glean material for the historical record. Throughout the tour The Canadian Press preserved for Dr. Lanctot's use copies of all despatches carried on its leased wires covering the Royal Tour.

In addition to these the archives obtained clippings of reports written by the newspaper correspondents who covered the tour and which were published in the daily press. A search was made through Canadian newspapers in the weeks following the tour for the purpose of obtaining reports of incidents which came to light only after the Royal Party had passed along.

The exact form of the history has not yet been decided, Dr. Lanctot said today. It will attempt to present the complete story of the tour and will probably include a selection of pictures from the thousands of photographs taken and preserved by the Motion Picture Bureau.

Stone Sent To Bishop For Church

SAINT JOHN, N. B., July 2—(CP)—The City of Saint John is sending a package of stone to the Bishop of Portsmouth, England, but it isn't like the case of the alleged humorist who as a joke expressed stone collect to a friend.

The bishop is building a cathedral at Portsmouth, chief base of the British navy. He seeks stone blocks from every port His Majesty's ships have visited. Suitably inscribed, these will be embedded in the cathedral walls. The Saint John blocks are limestone.

This will not be the first collection of stone from the world's ports. In the days of windships most of them carried stone as ballast when they came to New Brunswick to load lumber. Ballast Island, at Richibucto, was made of this stone. Many old houses in New Brunswick were built of ballast from many lands.

In Saint John much of the land has a foundation of foreign stone. A sugar refinery stands on what was once Ballast Wharf. Chalk formerly gathered there by school children came from the cliffs of Dover.

Residents of Mount Pleasant here grow their gardens in foreign soil, also brought as ballast from many parts of the world.

If their pets bark after 9 p.m., dog owners in one Balkin village are fined, with the fine being doubled for each new offence.

Experts had already put them in the class of possibles with Harvard University, Sydney, Australia Rowing Club, Leander Club and London Rowing Club. Of these Leander, composed of the cream of Oxford and Cambridge boat race crews of the last two years, seems to be the combination to beat.

Ford Displays New Mechanized Farming Unit

By David J. Wilkie, Associated Press Staff Writer)

DETROIT, July 2—Henry Ford still is convinced the present world turmoil will not be climaxed by war.

He said so in an interview before publicly introducing his mechanized farming unit which he described as an "instrument for peace that will revolutionize agriculture.

As Ford showed the new tractor and its related implements to news and trade journal writers the assembly lines in the big "B" unit of the Ford Rouge plant were rolling off completed tractors on a volume production basis.

"Before the summer is over," Ford said, "we will be able to run off the assembly lines and direct to our ships and railroad cars at the rate of at least four a minute."

Of war, Ford said: "Nobody ever got anything through vengeance. There will be no war because none of the nations of the world really want it and too many people know war is unnecessary. Certainly, the laboring people do not want it. The only people who really want war are the international financiers. They know no other way of making money, and even now are endeavoring to profit by promoting war scares."

Asked his personal objective in manufacturing the new mechanized farm unit on a volume basis, Ford said:

"I am convinced that a return to the land means peace and prosperity. I want to put prosperity into the country in such a way that it never can be destroyed.

"Re-employment for the farmers means re-employment for many in industry, for we can use anything the land can produce—even weeds."

PYORRHOEA MAY BE TREATED

"Because a person is affected with pyorrhoea does not necessarily mean that the teeth should be extracted although this is a definite cure of the disease. In the early stages it can be treated sometimes arrested, and cured," says a writer in New Health Magazine.

"The surgical or operative treatment that may be necessary cannot, of course, be done by yourself. This is a job for the dentist but everyone can take measures of a prophylactic and dietetic nature that will help to prevent the disease. In the first place a suitable tooth brush, not too hard in the bristles, should be used. With it use a good dentifrice.

"In regard to diet this should be chosen so that the body is given a reasonable chance to remain healthy and also to prevent the formation of acids and gelatinous food debris likely to attack both the teeth and the soft structures of the gums.

"Toasted bread is preferable to soft, new bread, and wholewheat bread is preferable to white bread. Excess of sweet biscuits, cakes, and sticky concoctions should be avoided, and so should chocolates and toffee. Fish, bacon meat and poultry are of a fibrous and cleansing nature. Vegetables such as lettuce, cress, celery and onions are preferable to cooked ones like cabbage and spinach. Fresh fruits like apples are good. Intelligent choice in these matters is the main thing needed."
