BAD BUTTER IN THE FALL.

Bitter Cream and Cream that Swells and Foams in the Churn.

Autumn is the time of the year when some domestic butter makers are plagued with bitter cream, and others with the churn and refuse to yield up their butter.
Occasionally where we find the "gathered cream system" at butter factories in vogue, makers report the same trouble in the autumn months. There is a popular belief that there is a specific remedy for it, if it were only known, but I think butter makers have a better right to believe that a remedy exists for all of the complications that occur in the working of their art. Take, for instance, cream that will foam and swell in the churn and refuse to yield up its butter. I have been troubled with that kind when I have been careful to follow out a line of preventive treatment.

I believe it to be often but not always caused by an alkaline ferment developed at a low temperature. It is in cold weather that we meet with the trouble, and in cream that has stood long not far above the freezing point and is churned perfectly sweet. This cream gets its first warming up in the churn, where, instead of breaking down into butter, it swells, due to its gaseous nature. If I had such a mass of cream remains at this season that is very easy to manage, I should take it right out of the churn and set it away in a warm temperature to sour, or mix some sour cream with it to hasten the ripening process, provided, of course, it had not been previously matured. Better yet is to take preventive measures by treating or retarding the raising of cream intelligently from beginning to end. Set the warm milk under conditions that will send all of the cream to the surface in the quickest possible time. A temperature of 40 to 45 degrees is about the best for this, which is very easy to obtain at this season of the year. More often the "set" milk stands at a temperature of 35 degrees in an open dairy room and is not skimmed for several days. This is a nice way to sow seed for foamy cream that will cut up all sorts of capers in the churn. Set under favorable conditions, the cream should be all on the surface in from 12 to 18 hours, and then skim it. It is pernicious to its quality to let it stand there a day or two longer. It is a prevalent practice to do so, however, under the impression that more cream is obtained thereby.
But you should remember that you can reasonably retard the raising of cream according to the conditions under which you set the milk.

As soon as the cream has been lifted from the milk it should be placed in a vessel to ripen; not in a temperature of 50, for there it will age, not ripen, but surrounded by a warmth of from 65 to 68 degrees. It will mature in a few hours. The whole process from setting the milk to churning the cream should not be dragged over the period of half or a whole week's time, as is sometimes done. Expedition in fine butter making is not undue haste; it is a necessity. As is well understood, the milk from farmings, or animals long in lactation, will also cause cream to yield its butter fairly. With this in mind many makers attribute to this cause all of their troubles in the autumn when often it may have only a remote connection with it. There is no doubt but that it is frequently the cause, especially when other precautions have been taken to obtain a natural result. Bitter cream is the sequel also of holding it a long time at a low temperature. An unnatural fermentation develops, that might be compared as analogous to mold in bread.
Once taking the place of the natural flavor, it can never be eradicated.
The remedy is to cease from holding milk and cream for several days at a time at a temperature a little above the freezing point.

Few besides local dealers have any idea how much decidedly bad butter comes to market in the late autumn months. Owing to the long lactation, because milk does not get thick and curdle, it is popularly believed that it can be held for days with impunity. But by this means natural fermentation is arrested and unnatural bacteriological changes occur, which ruin butter quality as thoroughly as sprouting in the bins ruins wheat.—Exchange.

Dairy and Creamery.

The time has come when every creamery should experiment with some kind of pasteurizing system. When butter selling is dull, a profitable trade to fall back on is always cream selling. Such a trade may be worked up by every creamery in the land. If in addition it is once known that the cream is pasteurized before being put on the market, it will go off like hot cakes. Dealers find a constantly growing market for cream. It is not difficult for the careful creamery man to pasteurize cream, beginning slowly and carefully, using a little at a time, till he has got both his cream and his market for it just right.
Creamery supply houses are beginning to have in stock pasteurizing apparatus, but it will not be difficult for a man to arrange one for himself.

There seems hardly a limit to the uses to which cream may be put. Invaluable eat it instead of other food, a delicious ice cream soda is one of the regular drinks, retail liquor stores use it in large quantities. In restaurants it is not uncommon for a glass of half and half to be ordered, which is not at all the old-fashioned "arf and arf," but a glass of half milk, half cream.

Cheeseboxes are made of swamp elm and $500,000 worth of them are turned out every year. The wood must first be "cooked" or dried thoroughly before the box is made. The hoops are made by the rotary cutting machine. The average size boxes hold from 60 to 65 pounds of cheese.

Alfalfa makes dairying profitable in California the year round, even during the dry season. The alfalfa is grown on irrigated ground, and it can be cut every three or four weeks for seven months of the year.

POTATOES.

Breakfast and Luncheon Potatoes In Numerous Styles.

Potatoes left over from another meal have a wide range of usefulness. Maitre d'hotel is prepared by cutting eight potatoes of moderate size into slices a quarter of an inch thick and placing them in a teacupful of boiling cream or milk seasoned with half a teaspoonful of salt, half a saltspoonful of pepper and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Allow the potatoes to simmer, closely covered, for five minutes, remove to a hot dish and squeeze over them a tablespoonful of lemon juice.

For lyonnaise potatoes cut a sufficient quantity of potatoes into dice to make a pint and season with salt and pepper.
Then fry a teaspoonful of minced onion in a tablespoonful of butter or salt pork fat until the onion is yellow, after which add a teaspoonful of vinegar and the potatoes, stir carefully with a fork until the potatoes are a light brown and have on a hot platter, sprinkle with a teaspoonful of chopped parsley and set them in the oven for two minutes, after which they are ready to be served.

Cold potatoes chopped moderately fine and browned in a little hot sausage gravy, ham fat, poultry drippings or butter are delicious. They should be stirred to make them an even brown, so that they are neither too moist nor too crisp.
Judgment must be used in seasoning potatoes in a hot pan that is covered with already been flavored. Cold sweet or white potatoes may be sliced to give the pieces as large a surface as possible and then broiled on both sides to a delicate brown. This should be done on a wire griddle and must be done quickly to prevent the potatoes from becoming hard.
Arrange the slices in an orderly manner upon a warmed platter, put a small bit of butter upon each and sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper.

White potatoes may be fried and served in French fashion: Cut them in slices half an inch thick and fry them in a hot pan that is covered with the drainings from ham, sausage or salt pork. When the slices are brown on both sides, season with salt or pepper.

Old Mantel Decorations.

A scheme for embellishing an old time mantelpiece, the beauty of which has been destroyed by age, is to place a board about 3 feet high against the wall at the back of the shelf and cover

EASY TO DO.

It with cloth or velvet. The same covering is used for the shelf, and a gimp is held around the edge of the upright board against the wall. Place small pictures, plaques or medallions or fans and yet have a fine background for mantel ornaments. The shelf may be simply covered or have a long square scarf thrown over it. It depends upon the quality of the mantelpiece whether it is desirable to cover it.

Baked Omelet.

Heat 3 cupfuls of milk with an ounce of butter. Beat 5 eggs with a tablespoonful of flour and a little salt.
Pour this into the hot milk, stir until the time. Butter a hot spider, pour the mixture into it and bake 20 minutes.
Turn into a hot dish and serve at once, as a lukewarm or cold omelet is almost as unappetizing as cold mutton.

Spanish Curd.

Roll puff pastry very thin and cut in strips three-quarters of an inch wide.
Wind these around sticks three-quarters of an inch in diameter and bake in a hot oven about 10 minutes. Brush over with white of egg slightly beaten, sprinkle with sugar and return to the oven for about three minutes. Remove from the sticks and when cold fill with whipped and sweetened cream. The cream should be thick, sweetened and flavored to the taste and beaten with an egg beater or in a whipchurn until stiff enough to hold its shape. Put a lady finger into a pastry bag, fill the bag about two-thirds full with the cream and press it into the hollow curls. Cream horns are made in the same way, using cone shaped sticks about 5 inches long and three-quarters of an inch in diameter at the large end.

To Clean Black Dresses.

An old and tried cleaning solution for black dresses is a handful of fig leaves boiled in a quart of water till only a pint is left. Dip a brush or bit of sponge in it and rub the spots and stains. Black cloth that is only dusty and generally grimy may be washed in soap bark water, drying without rinsing.

Make the Home Happy.

Don't shut up your house lest the sun should fade your carpets, nor your hearth lest a merry laugh should shake down some of the musty cobwebs there. If you want to ruin your sons, let them think that all mirth and social enjoyment must be left on the threshold without when they come home.

When once a home is regarded as only a place to eat, drink and sleep in, the work is begun that ends in disappointment. Young people must have fun and relaxation somewhere. If they don't find it at their own hearthstone, it will be sought at other and less profitable places.
Therefore let the fire burn brightly at night and make the household delightful with all those little arts that parents so perfectly understand.

INTERESTING INTERVIEW.

An American will make Arrangements with a Canadian Firm.

OTTAWA (Special) Sept 30.—An American who has been here interviewing the members of the government on private business, has left for Toronto, where it is understood he will try and make an arrangement with the Dods' Medicine Company of that city for the establishment of a manufacture of Dods' Kidney Pills in New York State. He declined to specify the locality. During his stay in Ottawa he has been investigating the now celebrated case of G. H. Kent, who was saved by this remedy when in the last stages of Bright's disease, and has satisfied himself of the genuine nature of the case. He asserts that the medicine is now universally used throughout the state.

A PAYING BOARDER.—According to a recent despatch from Montreal there is a young lady named Bellemeade, at St. Barthelemy, Maric county, who has not taken any food for 30 days, and yet walks about her room. Last year the same person abstained from taking nourishment of any kind during 30 days.

Why Contemplate Suicide.

It is like tempting Providence for con-sumptives to ignore the remarkable remedy known as Miller's Emulsion of Norway in Cod Liver Oil. For any person of a habit of consumption without trying this remarkable flesh and blood maker, after knowing of its existence, is suicide pure and simple.
All that the consumptive patient needs is new blood with which to battle against the destructive force of the disease. Miller's Emulsion provides new blood in abundance. It is a combination of Norwegian Oil and hypophosphites of lime and soda—a triumph of science Emulsion of Norway is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

LEADVILLE, Col., September 26.—A terrible explosion of giant powder occurred in the Belgium mine this afternoon, killing probably twenty men. Seven dead bodies were taken out. Thirteen are known to have been killed.

A Remarkable Cure.—J. W. Jennison, Gifford—Spent between $200 and $300 in consulting Doctors; tried Dixon's and all other treatments but got no benefit.
One box of Chase's Catarrh Cure did me more good than all other remedies, in fact I consider myself cured, and with a 25 cent box at that.

WASHINGTON, September 26.—Dr. Talmage's formal acceptance of the call tendered by the First Presbyterian church, this city, has been received. He will preach his first sermon as a pastor on Sunday evening, October 27.

In Reply to Oft-Repeated Questions.

It may be well to state, Scott's Emulsion acts as a food as well as a medicine, building up the wasted tissues and restoring perfect health after wasting fever.

This is Concentration.

One pill a dose, one box 25 cents. One pill relieves constipation. One box cures an ordinary case. One pill taken weekly neutralizes formation of uric acid in the blood and prevents Bright's Kidney disease and Diabetes. True only of Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills.

The defence in the case of Tasdoie Durant opened in San Francisco on Thursday. In his opening speech the attorney for the prisoner made the sensational charge that the Rev. John George Gibson, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church, the scene of the tragedy, was the murderer of Blanche Lamont.

ment has spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular preparations, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
