

WOMEN

6 The Guardian, Charlottetown, Wed. Sep. 2, 1964.

HAPPENINGS

Andrew Jenkins, Women's Editor; Phone 4-6806

Some recent visitors at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. William Aylward, Carleton Place, Ont., were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Dunn and children of Hamilton, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McNally, Ten Mile House, P.E.I.; Donna Robins, Misses Mary and Marie MacCaughy, Fort Augustus.

Mrs. Jessie Matheson and granddaughter, Barbara Smith, New Glasgow, N.S., guests of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Matheson, Montague.

Mrs. Gordon Thompson and son Barry, Port Hawkesbury, N.S., are visiting relatives at Montague and New Wilshire.

Mr. L. J. Gaston and Mrs. Phyllis L. Gaston, and Mrs. Frank and Mrs. Paul and Mrs. A. H. MacLeod, were spending a holiday visiting Mrs. Proulx's sisters, Mrs. Olga Da Costa and Mrs. James Atkinson at their summer cottages at Rocky Point. Mrs. Proulx is the former Patsy White of Rocky Point.

Mrs. and Mrs. Nathan Brown and family, Cambridge, Mass., are visiting in Murray Harbour and are the guests of Daniel Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pillman, Kensington, and Miss Marnie Mill, Clermont, are spending a few days touring on the Mainland.

On Friday, September 4, 1964, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Dockery of Montague, P.E.I., will celebrate the 52nd anniversary of their wedding which took place in Boston, Mass., in 1912. Oliver was born in the old Doctery home on St. Peter's Road, P.E.I. His wife was Laura Venturi of Nahant, N.S.

They met in Boston where they were married.

Mr. and Mrs. William Latzer and daughter, Halifax, are guests at the home of Mrs. Latzer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Kennedy, Waterford.

Rev. and Mrs. John Sheehy and son Alan and Mrs. John Singleton, Salisbury, N.B., are spending a week with Mr. Sheehy's aunt, Mrs. J. W. Sheehy, Kensington.

One-Saman LeRoy Doucette of RCN is spending a holiday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Doucette, Delta. LeRoy just recently returned from a tour of the World's Fair in New York where his ship was sent to represent the RCN on its arrival back from the far East.

Mrs. E. A. McCue, Alberton, has as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Leo McCue of Dorchester, Mass. and Mrs. James McQuillan of Wesleyville, Mass.

Mrs. Blanche Darrach of Tampa, Florida, and her daughter Sally and son Todd of Wainfleet were recently visiting on the Island guests of Mrs. Les Hughes, Kensington and other relatives in the vicinity.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Kirchner, Tignish, are Edson David with his wife and two daughters, and their daughter, Elsie Richard, all of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bell, Dartmouth, N.S., are spending their vacation in Murray Harbour at the home of Mrs. Bell's mother, Mrs. Allan MacLeod.

Arthur Clark of Toronto is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, Alberton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vessey have returned to their home in Toronto after a visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Kennedy, Waterford.

Rev. and Mrs. John Sheehy

REV. DAVID AND MRS. MACDONALD Rogers-MacDonald Vows Are Pledged At O'Leary

A summer wedding ceremony was solemnized in United Church, O'Leary, P.E.I., when Southdale Gretta Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Rogers, Brae exchanged marriage vows with Rev. David Samuel Horne Macdonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Macdonald, Charlottetown.

Officiating clergymen were Rev. David Hamilton and Rev. Gerald Steele. Baskets of white chrysanthemums and pink peonies decorated the church, while satin bows marked the guests' seats. Mrs. Harry Rogers was organist. Rev. Kenneth Thompson were soloists. Mrs. Rogers sang "Oh Father, Oh Creator" during the signing of the register while Mr. Thompson sang "We All Are One" and "The Lord's Prayer" prior to the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of pearl-decorated tulle. Her hair was styled in elegant lengths at elbows tapering to ruffles. The back featured a full and rich train of lace and net which fell from a ruffle at the shoulders. Her headpiece was a white tulle with pearls held a finger tip of nylon tulle. She carried a white Bible covered with a cascade of pink and white carnations and roses.

The groom, sister of the groom was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of sapphire blue crystal chain satin with bell shaped skirt. Her lace jacket of three quarter length sleeves. "She wore a matching dress in pill box style and carried a cascade of red roses and white lilies." On a party of Dobby, N.S.; Lucy A. de Lacey, O'Leary, P.E.I. and Mrs. Ronald Turner, O'Leary, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were identically gowned to the maid of honor and carried bouquets of white and blue mums.

Dr. Douglas Cutmore, Charlottetown was best man. Ushers were Ronald Storey, and Archie MacLeod of Charlottetown. Russell Rogers, brother of the bride, and Dr. David Stewart of Crapaud. Elizabeth Thompson, Middleton, N.S. was flower girl wearing a gown of white peau de cerise with matching tulle. She carried a basket of white and blue mums. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of white and blue mums.

MARY HAWORTH Girl Is Disconcerted By Friend's Aloofness

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl, 15, and I have a friend the same age. I like her very much except for one fault that I just can't tolerate. She is extremely proud and conceited. Whenever we meet she will not greet me or show any sign of recognition. Only after I say hello will she be friendly. At parties she never speaks to me unless I come over to her. When I do, I must address her by name several times and tap her on the shoulder before she finally turns around and says "Oh, hello there. I did not notice you." This has happened often. On the closing day of school (last term) I was talking with a group of friends when I saw Vicky pass and her coldy attitude was unable to leave the group at the moment and so she ignored me. I haven't seen her since. I wrote her a letter weeks ago but she hasn't answered yet. I am not desperate for her friendship; yet if I don't show her with my letters she will be very upset and claims I have started a fight. I don't understand her reactions because, quite frankly, I don't believe she likes me. Her name is Miss Ann. I'm going to be 16 in a few days.

brother, Septh was ring bearer. Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was held at Alberton United Church Hall where the bride's mother received the guests. The bride wore a gown of periwinkle blue chiffon with lace bodice, matching hat and white accessories. Her corsage was red delphiniums and white carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a sheath dress of polished coral linen, with a red sash, and white accessories. Her corsage was yellow delphiniums and carnations.

Mrs. Charles Lorroway, Sydney, N.S. aunt of the groom and Mrs. A. H. MacLeod, were bridesmaids. The bride poured the bride's toast to the bride and the groom's parents. The bride was carried by white tapers. Early in the afternoon the bride and groom were married by the best man, Niela Storey of Winchester, Mass. in charge of the guest book.

Leaving for their honeymoon at Cape Cod, the bride chose to travel in a figure skid white and corset dress with matching tulle. She carried a cascade of pink and white roses. The bride and groom were married by the best man, Niela Storey of Winchester, Mass. in charge of the guest book.

Summer flowers decorated the Dundas Baptist Church for the wedding ceremony uniting Pearl Elizabeth Saville and Ronald Storey, MacEachern. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Saville, Fortune, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacEachern, Long Creek. The wedding ceremony was performed on August 1 by Rev. Wilfred Howard assisted by Lic. Myrtle Ingersoll. Mrs. Fred Matheson organist accompanied Roy Howlett as sang "Promises Made before the Ceremony" and "Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The bride wore a simple strand pearl necklace and matching earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a crescent of red roses. Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Florence Saville. She wore a street length dress of lemon yellow organza with matching white tulle headband and carried a crescent of yellow and white shasta daisies with white streamers.

Dawn MacEachern, niece of the groom was a bridesmaid wearing a white organza dress with a lace attached bolero and yellow sash. She carried a basket of yellow and white shasta daisies. The groom was assisted by Neil MacEachern, brother of the bride, and Reginald MacEachern, brother-in-law of the groom ushered the guests to pews marked with white satin bows entwined with ivy.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Saville has a dress of beige organza over printed silk with lace accessories and corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Donald MacEachern, niece of the groom was a bridesmaid wearing a white organza dress with a lace attached bolero and yellow sash. She carried a basket of yellow and white shasta daisies. The groom was assisted by Neil MacEachern, brother of the bride, and Reginald MacEachern, brother-in-law of the groom ushered the guests to pews marked with white satin bows entwined with ivy.

Following the ceremony a reception for 85 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. At the bride's table leaves of fern encircled the three tier wedding cake topped with bells and doves, and flanked by lighted tapers. Some flowers were used for table decorations. Rowena Garrett was a bridesmaid. Miss Ingersoll proposed the toast to the bride, to the groom and to the bridesmaids. For a honeymoon trip through Eastern United States and Canada the bride wore a three piece beige suit with coffee colored accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. MacEachern will reside in Long Creek. The groom is employed by the CNR Car Ferry, Borden and the bride has accepted a teaching position at Fairview School (Photo by Cutmore - Murphy)

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barbour, Alberton, are spending their vacation in Toronto and Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Perry, Tignish, left on a holiday trip to Boston and New York where they plan to spend two weeks visiting many of their relatives and friends.

Fred McKee of Toronto is visiting his brother Edward at Tignish and his brother Arthur of Alberton and many relatives and friends in the Tignish area, along with visiting his mother, Mrs. Julia Schulz, a fiscal executive secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gallant and daughter Leibel of Medford, Mass., are spending a holiday in the vicinity of their relatives and friends in the Tignish area.

departments, meaning as our eyes unfolded an intriguing and pleasing millinery talent. To this village you came with lessened anticipation, bearing a 1/4 ounce to the doctor's with a misery of the body to a 1/2 ounce! And toward Fall when the weather was a pair of winter boots. You could look in when passing, or maybe if your parent wanted to buy, enter the tailor shop. And it was interesting to see a young man, through you suppressed a young giggle to see a man seated on a high bench of tulle, thread a needle and sew! The harness shop was a busy place, where fine breeches and hatters and the fittings for horses were made. There was the Post Office with its imposing sign near the street. And the undertaker, a serene spoken to with his eyes straight ahead like Grim Reaper should reach out and clutch one's ankle. And from those years, the man was "legal writings" - wrote deeds, and wills and attended the legal affairs of the community and father. He was a big guy, man though he was, and a scholarly appearance. A bit stern to a small child, but a friendly smile to the smallest, daintiest. Other interesting places and figures were natural in that village, but such memories have fled at this moment. We do remember how pleasant it was to come there during the summer season, particularly when in spring the evenings were filled with the music of the peepers in the stream which gave it its name. "Frogmore" always it remained to our pioneering grandfather, when in spring the homes and stores sent out their radiance across the snow was to catch a glimpse of a meadow, in which horse and sleigh moved, bells tinkled merrily, and pedestrians walked along actual streets. This Fair reminds me so much of those we used to call at home in England. Canadian by marriage and adoption, and by summer, the prevailing air I enjoy. It is a generally happy one. I am sure.

So Scamp's bark welcomed the family home this evening from their day spent at the Crapaud Fair. Crapaud, the extensive village of now, is more or less strange to us, though we had the good fortune to be born and reared on a farm close by one of its neighboring villages. So to hear the name, is for us to remember it as it was in our earliest memories: a neat village set down by a stream where from crossings several roads led away. One, quite and interesting and fine home, and presently by a stretch of woodland, brought us to visit at an interesting and fine home, where kindly cousins and their parents dwelt. At the former, the fields reached away, from tidy yards and orchard, for a distance to a maple grove, where in springtime when the snow was warming, came the sap for the syrup which went so tastefully with the raised pancakes, and the sugar which delighted young lasses. The latter farm had its charms. There was a long line of summer to explore, and in winter there was the thrill of coasting down a quite steep decline of road - hill. And the village of Crapaud spelled by crosses and stream. It was always a pretty sight with its attractive homes and neat lawns, its Church and its stores. All in all, reminiscent of a dignified, but busy end of a pictured city. It was fitting, if you were a little girl of those times, you came with your Dad or your Mother to the stores, to learn that unlike the rural one you knew best, which catered to the general needs of the country round about, one of these had its

HAPPY HOLIDAYERS

Having read of Albert Cutmore, Whealey River in the Island tourist literature, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cutmore of Kitchener, Ont. impulsively decided to holiday in this province. They trooped at Montague with the planned two days stay stretched into weeks of happily touring P.E.I. land. The Kitchener Cutmores above left were photo-

ELLEN'S DIARY

Village By The Stream Is Always Remembered

Scamp's happy bark welcomed the family home this evening from their day spent at the Crapaud Fair. Crapaud, the extensive village of now, is more or less strange to us, though we had the good fortune to be born and reared on a farm close by one of its neighboring villages. So to hear the name, is for us to remember it as it was in our earliest memories: a neat village set down by a stream where from crossings several roads led away. One, quite and interesting and fine home, and presently by a stretch of woodland, brought us to visit at an interesting and fine home, where kindly cousins and their parents dwelt. At the former, the fields reached away, from tidy yards and orchard, for a distance to a maple grove, where in springtime when the snow was warming, came the sap for the syrup which went so tastefully with the raised pancakes, and the sugar which delighted young lasses. The latter farm had its charms. There was a long line of summer to explore, and in winter there was the thrill of coasting down a quite steep decline of road - hill. And the village of Crapaud spelled by crosses and stream. It was always a pretty sight with its attractive homes and neat lawns, its Church and its stores. All in all, reminiscent of a dignified, but busy end of a pictured city. It was fitting, if you were a little girl of those times, you came with your Dad or your Mother to the stores, to learn that unlike the rural one you knew best, which catered to the general needs of the country round about, one of these had its

BELL FIRE

HONG KONG (AP) - Thousands of dollars in the streets recently to protect themselves from the fire. The money wasn't real. It was money issued by "The Bank of Hell" for the "Festival of Ghosts."

Scholarships Are Presented

Nancy Poynter and Kathryn Campbell were presented with scholarships at Irishtown Hall on Monday evening, by the North County Line No. 1 Convention group. The total of $71 in the grade 10 provincial exams, received $75, and Kathryn with a total of 709, received the sum of $50 to be used in furthering their education. The recipients were Mrs. Donald Lamont, president, and the presentation was made by the treasurer, Mrs. George Dunning. Mrs. Louis MacLeod was planner for a program staged by several of the Institutes in the group. Lorne Moore, principal of the Kensington Regional High School which the girls attend, and George Daughart and Mr. Mackenzie, teachers, were present and added their congratulations and good wishes for their future education, in a few remarks. Nancy is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Poynter, Fortune River and Kathryn is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Campbell, Irishtown.

Theatre Director Has Gimmick

VANCOUVER (CP) - A theatre director here has a gimmick for his theatre. His plan is to change theatre tickets into tax deductions. And it's all done by Black-magic-Malcolm Black, artistic director of the Playhouse Theatre Company. spoke of his plan which is based on a New York idea where all the tickets for a night are bought by a charitable organization, the result is members for an increased price and become tax deductible. "The director loves it," he said. "The plan might work in Vancouver, but clearance under the Income Tax Act would be required first, he said."

Extremists Claim Not Endorsed By IODE President

TORONTO (CP) - Mrs. D. W. McRobb, national president of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, said Wednesday she personally rejected a scathing denunciation of the CBC drawn up by a group of Ottawa women. The national executive of the Catholic Women's League refused to support the document, called "declaration of Canadian women on the grounds it was so untrue." The Ottawa women have been in contact with members of the League and have been urged to contact the country seeking support for their criticism of the television network's content. Their statement reads in part:

departments, meaning as our eyes unfolded an intriguing and pleasing millinery talent. To this village you came with lessened anticipation, bearing a 1/4 ounce to the doctor's with a misery of the body to a 1/2 ounce! And toward Fall when the weather was a pair of winter boots. You could look in when passing, or maybe if your parent wanted to buy, enter the tailor shop. And it was interesting to see a young man, through you suppressed a young giggle to see a man seated on a high bench of tulle, thread a needle and sew! The harness shop was a busy place, where fine breeches and hatters and the fittings for horses were made. There was the Post Office with its imposing sign near the street. And the undertaker, a serene spoken to with his eyes straight ahead like Grim Reaper should reach out and clutch one's ankle. And from those years, the man was "legal writings" - wrote deeds, and wills and attended the legal affairs of the community and father. He was a big guy, man though he was, and a scholarly appearance. A bit stern to a small child, but a friendly smile to the smallest, daintiest. Other interesting places and figures were natural in that village, but such memories have fled at this moment. We do remember how pleasant it was to come there during the summer season, particularly when in spring the evenings were filled with the music of the peepers in the stream which gave it its name. "Frogmore" always it remained to our pioneering grandfather, when in spring the homes and stores sent out their radiance across the snow was to catch a glimpse of a meadow, in which horse and sleigh moved, bells tinkled merrily, and pedestrians walked along actual streets. This Fair reminds me so much of those we used to call at home in England. Canadian by marriage and adoption, and by summer, the prevailing air I enjoy. It is a generally happy one. I am sure.

More than 1,000,000 workers in Romania took refreshment courses at their places of employment between the years 1945 and 1963.

Pickling Time

PURE WHITE VINEGAR
AGED IN WOOD
Vinaigre Blanc Pur
160 OUNCES

SCHWARTZ

Buy Pure White, Aged-in-Wood, SCHWARTZ VINEGAR in these sizes: 80 oz., 40 oz., 24 oz., 12 oz.

Say Schwartz and be sure!