Irishtown Will Host County Line District Convention

KENSINGTON — Cut flowers and potted plants, streamers in the W.I. colors, blue and gold, and a banner calling attention to the theme of the convention, decorated the Irishtown Community Hall for the County Line No. 1 District convention, held on Wednesday afternoon.

While the president, Mrs. Louise MacLeod of Graham's Road, presiding, and Mrs. Ralph Simpson of Long River, acted as secretary, the meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada," followed by the Mary Stewart hymn.

The president congratulated the Irishtown members on the re-decorating of the hall, a voluntary community project, and spoke briefly on the theme, "Pride in the Past, Faith in the Future."

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Leigh Paynter of Irishtown and Mrs. George Cole of New London responded. Brief reports of year's work were given by the 12 institutes of the district... Irishtown, Long River, Northbrook, Clinton, Graham's Road, Norboro, Springfield, Emerald, Kelvin Grove, and Marzette. Clinton's contribution "Fun and nonsense" was a humorous reading by Mrs. Stirling Mackay.

Mrs. F.L. MacMillan, Director of Home services Dept., spoke on home nursing, and Mrs. Stanley Brown demonstrated ways which home nursing care may be made easier and better with aids made with articles found in the home. Mrs. George Millan said that with hospitals overcrowded, home nursing is often necessary, and the simple training of a home nursing course makes home nursing easier. "It is time for women to accept greater responsibility for home and community" she asserted, and pointed out that preparation should be made by the mother for the protection and care of her family in case of disaster. She urged that home nursing classes be organized, and Mrs. J.E. Fleming who assisted by modelling a bathrobe quickly fashioned one from a blanket.

A musical service for these three members, Mrs. Elmer MacLeod and Mrs. Bruce Bell, was conducted by Mrs. Lorne Adams of Margate and five young girls, Lois Mackay, Grace Brander, Betty Paynter, Vivian MacLeod and Hilda Pidgeon who sang "The Lights of Hope."

Diagrams of handicraft and utility articles were presented by Mrs. Leiland Mayne of Emerald and Mrs. Everett Glover of Norboro. Kevin Grove's contribution to the program was the presentation of solo selections, "Take Me to a Green Hill" and "If ever I Marry," by Margaret Murray accompanied by Gordon Murray.

Mrs. Lena Bayer, Halifax, spent the weekend at her brother, William C. Donald, Kensington, and visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Donald.

Frederic Bernard, Halifax, spent the weekend at his home at Kensington.
