PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

Debate on the Draft Address.

THURSDAY April 14.

Hon H C Macdonald followed Mr Shaw. He explained that the delay in meeting the House was caused by a delegation to Ottawa. He failed to see why the Dominion Government should pay to send our boys to the other Provinces to learn dairying when this whole Province is a dairy school.

Up to the present time, continued Mr Macdonald, the Dominion Government built cold storage in no place except on the terms offered to this Province. The Government was under no necessity to send cold storage steamers here before we had cold storage established. No doubt such a steamer will call this summer and cold storage will be established here, helped by a Dominion subsidy.

Today the demand for pork and oats is good with fair prices, and the farmers are not complaining. Since the Liberals came in there has been a great expansion of trade throughout the Dominion. The Dominion Government's step towards preferential trade was a masterly one and was commended by British statesmen. The Leader of the Government did not advocate butter making at the expense of cheese, but advocated redoubled efforts in butter making on account of the success of our cheese.

Mr Macdonald then dealt with the delegation to Ottawa and related the steps taken by the delegates after they reached the capital. He said there was nothing in the Government's memorial to be ashamed of, and expressed the opinion that arbitration was the proper course to take.

The money to be borrowed under the Loans Act for building a new wing to the Asylum is not spent. The money has not been borrowed, and the same applies to the College.

Mr Bell followed. He said he did make a statement at one time in which he placed our claims at over five millions, and any honorable gentlemen before disputing this should show wherein it is incorrect. He said he was invited to go as a delegate to Ottawa and there proceeded to show the importance of the establishment of cold storage at an Island port and the placing by the Dominion of a direct steamer, fitted with cold storage, to the old country. That mission to Ottawa was of the most vital importance to the farmers of this Island. And it was promised that during the season a steamer would call once every month during five months of this coming season and that afterwards more permanent arrangements would be made.

Another matter referred to by the preceding speakers was the Jubilee. He believed that credit was due Sir J. A. Macdonald and Sir Geo. Cartier for what they had done. Still we must not shut our eyes to what Sir Wilfred Laurier has done to deepen the interest in the motherland regarding Canada.

Mr A. J. Macdonald was glad the jubilee had made the Liberals a loyal people. The sentiment of annexation among them has evidently died out. Referring to the speech he said there was nothing original in it. It is true agriculture is spoken of and we should do all we can to foster it. But the present government has done little to improve this industry. Credit for the dairying industry is due to those who inaugurated it. The success of this business depends upon whether the farmers will be able to stand by it in the days of adversity as well as prosperity. The probability is that it has reached its height.

The Kidneys

are the seat or the starting point of many maladies, all of them serious, all more or less painful, and all of them tending, unless cured, to a fatal end. No organs of the body are more delicate or more sensitive than the kidneys. When symptoms of disease appear in them not a moment is to be lost if health is to be restored. The best way to treat the kidneys is through the blood, cleansing it from the poisonous matter which is usually at the bottom of kidney complaints. For this purpose there is no remedy equal to

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For many years I have been a constant sufferer from kidney trouble, and have tried a number of largely advertised kidney cures without benefit. At last a friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The use of eight bottles of this remedy entirely cured my malady."—MARY MILLER, 1238 Hancock Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

and perhaps the tendency is downward. That must be the history of this as well as other enterprises and a revival will come if the farmers stick to it.

The pork packing enterprise is a matter of congratulation, but it is a private undertaking. The government had nothing to do with it. It will no doubt prove of much benefit to the Island. The Island is well adapted for pork raising and with a moderate price for the product no doubt some of those mortgages referred to will be lifted.

EVENING SESSION.

Mr L. E. Prowse, the junior member of the Assembly for Charlottetown, was sworn in by the Clerk of the House after which the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne was resumed by Mr A. J. Macdonald. Mr Peters said the Government delegation to Ottawa cost the country nothing. Mr Macdonald thought this was a bad sign and that the results of that delegation would be meagre. When people work for nothing for the public they are generally serving their own ends. They say there is a probability of receiving a large sum from Ottawa provided the door was not closed by the Conservative Government. Well, if that is all then we may look for a big sum because the door was never closed. He hoped the delegates did their duty and that we would receive something. The result of the last election is evidence that the government is losing ground in the country. Less than 100 votes properly placed would have upset the Government. Now we have a new government. He hoped they would legislate in the best interests of the country. He himself had the honor of defeating the late Leader of the Government. He had much pleasure in congratulating Mr Warburton on the position he occupied as premier and hoped that everything would be conducted fairly and honestly. With such a record he might appear to the country with success on future occasions.

Mr Sinclair, referring to Mr Shaw's statement that he (Mr Sinclair) said there were no claims of the Island against the Dominion, said that at that time he was speaking in regard to the negotiations carried on by the Tory Government. Since then certain things have transpired and today our claims are substantial ones and the proper way to obtain our rights is by first getting an arbitration. If we obtain this we may expect something handsome. He was much pleased with the speeches made by the younger members of the House and considered them acquisitions to the debating talent. He then referred to some of Mr McKinnon's statements respecting the Stock Farm and the sale of cattle to the butchers. Mr Sinclair explained this, and claimed that no injustice was done the farmers. The Farm requires fresh blood among the cattle which are at present excellent, as good judges from Ontario testified.

Cheese making was inaugurated by the Tory party, but it was given a wonderful impetus by the Liberals. The present government has taken a proper course respecting our claims, and if such are submitted to arbitration the country will have reason to rejoice.

The motion was then put and the House went into committee on the Draft Address in reply to the speech, with Mr Wise in the chair.

Mr Shaw wanted to know where the Liberals had given any assistance to the dairy industry of this Province. He strongly criticised the Stock Farm and the management thereof. He was pleased with the Leader of the Government for suggesting that the Farm be taken over by the Dominion Government and converted into a model farm for this Province. The experiments which suit the other Provinces are not always applicable here. The Stock Farm may not pay directly, but its results may be of much benefit to the country at large. He contended that no benefits came to the farmer by the Liberals getting in power in the Dominion.

Hon. Mr Warburton said the Government intended improving the Stock Farm. He would like to see a practical scientific man put in charge of the farm. But you could not get such for $1 a day. If that Farm is to be of any use to this country we anticipate a yearly deficit thereon that is if it is to become an educational institution. In Ontario the Model Farms go behind from $10,000 to $15,000 and no one complains—it is to be expected. Our Prince of Wales College costs so much yearly no one complains—it is educational. So it will be with the Stock Farm if we make it a Model Farm. He believed a Professor of Agriculture in Prince of Wales College of little use. He should be out on the farm to be of practical use. He hoped some day to try the experiment and looked for the support of the member for New Perth when the resolution was introduced.

Hon. Mr Gordon thought that more attention should be paid to the paragraph relating to fruit growing. The Government should give encouragement to this industry.

Mr Shaw wanted some assurance that we would receive a goodly sum from the Dominion in lieu of our claims.

The draft address was then reported agreed to without amendment.

Mr Peters moved that the address be presented to His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, and that the same Committee that prepared it be appointed to wait upon His Honor to see when he would be prepared to receive the Address.

The House then adjourned till 3 p. m. tomorrow.

FRIDAY, April 15.

House met at 3:30. Hon. Mr Warburton intimated that an invitation to visit the pork packing establishment had been received from the Messrs. Rattenbury, and it was agreed that the members of the House would visit the institution at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning.

The members then proceeded to Government House for the purpose of formally presenting His Honor with the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

After this ceremony, business was resumed, and the Speaker read the Lieutenant-Governor's reply to the draft address. Hon. Mr Rogers presented a petition from James Warburton, Mayor, and the City Councillors and Water Commissioners praying for an Act to further amend 'The Charlottetown Water Works Act' of 1897 and the Acts in amendment thereof, by empowering the Corporation and Water Commissioners to further extend and enlarge the powers of the said City to issue debentures. The petition was received and read and a bill in accordance therewith presented. The second reading of the bill was set down for Monday.

Hon. Mr Rogers presented a petition from Mayor Warburton and the City Council praying that power should be given to the City of Charlottetown to regulate the driving and riding of bicycles, tricycles and other like vehicles within the City limits, and if necessary license or tax the same in a sum not exceeding one dollar. After the reading of the petition a bill was presented, which was ordered to be read a second time on Monday.

Hon. Mr Rogers presented a petition from H. J. Cundall, F. de St. C. Brecken, William Dodd, Daniel Davies, and other Directors of the Charlottetown Gas Light Company, praying for an Act to amend their Acts of incorporation. The petition was read and a bill presented. Referred to Private Bills Committee.

Hon. Mr Warburton moved the House into committee of the whole for the purpose of considering the following resolution: "That it is desirable to introduce a Bill respecting assignments and preferences by insolvent persons to be entitled, 'An Act respecting assignments for the benefit of creditors.'"

The resolution carried, and Mr. McWilliam took the chair in committee. The resolution was reported agreed to and the Bill to which it had reference was presented. Second reading on Monday.

Mr. Wise presented a bill incorporating the Wheatly River Hall Company. Referred to Private Bills Committee.

Mr. Lefurgy introduced a Bill for the protection and preservation of partridges in this province. Second reading on Monday.

House adjourned until 10 a. m. on Monday.

CHARLES KINGSLEY.

Every one of the great army of Kingsleyites will welcome this story of the immortal Rev. Charles. It comes from an English lady whose country residence was under his spiritual care and at whose table he was, therefore, a frequent guest. The good man's well established habit of talking much about things of which he knew little is the cause for the story. He had a habit, particularly at dinner tables, of holding the guests agape with minute stories about the inhabitants of Mars or the fishes of Kamchatka. All of this availed except on such unhappy occasions as when he came unexpectedly across some one who had liked in Mars or fished in Kamchatka. It was on such an unfortunate occasion that Kingsley gave this excuse, which deserves to be preserved. Some unknown little man from the very foot of the table interrupted a very brilliant discourse about, say, the climate of Mars, with a very unexpected "I beg your pardon, Mr. Kingsley, but what you state is wholly untrue. I have lived there and am able to assure you that you have been grossly misinformed."

Embarrassed only for a moment, Kingsley replied: "I am very sorry if I have been making misstatements. You know, of course, that I would not do so intentionally. But I fear that it often happens. However, I always console myself with remembering an incident of my youth. I was on the usual grand tour and came to Strassburg. I was being shown the famous clock by a loquacious and ready witted old dame. I saw how the works went and how the apoplexies marched. But as she was growing far too eloquent over the wonders of the work I said: 'Yes, my good woman. It is a very fine bit of work. But I must call your attention to the fact that although my watch says it is only 1 o'clock this great dial says it is nearly 2. I know my watch is correct. Can not your great clock keep time?' She was very indignant. 'It keeps the time quite good enough, sir, always within an hour of the correct time. Why, what would you have? A clock which does so many very wonderful things cannot be expected to do them all well.' And may I not console myself sometimes with the thought that perhaps I, too, am like the Strassburg clock?"—Washington Star.
