FACTS OF HISTORY.

Experience is the Best of All Teachers.

LET CANADA BE WISE.

And Profit by the Mistakes of Other Nations—What Other Peoples Have Done and What They Have Been Sorry For—Protection and Free Trade Viewed in the Light of Experience.

After most careful enquiry by commission and otherwise, Germany in 1818 adopted a protective system. Under that protective system her industries were greatly developed and the country became prosperous. Indeed no country in modern times has shown so great an industrial progress as Germany has, since her entrance into the Zollverein, which removed the customs houses between her several separate states to a common frontier and protected her industries against foreign competition by a high tariff.

In 1864, through following the example of France, Prussia reduced her tariff to a protection to a revenue basis. The foreign competition at once set in and the result is a matter of history, viz., that disaster overcame many great industries which had been developed by the early protective policy of the Zollverein. Very gladly indeed did Prussia return to the protective policy, in 1879, and to-day Germany is thoroughly protectionist and her industries great; her people well employed and no free trade doctrines affect them in any way. Indeed within the past few years they have increased their protective acts. The German people are a careful, sensible, level headed people.

Let Canadians be guided by their good sense in holding to a national policy.

THE EXPERIENCE OF IRELAND.

Great Industries Under Protection—Thorough Kain Under Free Trade.

Before the union of Ireland and England the former country had great manufacturing industries. For instance, when the union took place and Ireland's protective policy was destroyed she had hands employed in Dublin, according to statistics, in the manufacture of woollens to the amount of about 5,000 and in the manufacture of carpets nearly 1,000 were employed in Dublin.

The result of the union upon these Irish industries, followed as it was by the great influx of English goods, is told by the history of that time in the following language:

"There are only 682 (instead of 5000) employed in all branches of the woollen industry in Dublin and its vicinity. So far as the carpet industry is concerned, it can hardly be said to exist at all."

Another example of the free admission of English goods upon the industry of Ireland is given in the facts with regard to Cork.

Before the union there were 457 looms there and 2500 people in the City of Cork engaged in manufacturing. Thirty-four years afterwards that 2500 had dwindled to 156 and a very short time after that period the manufacturers were absolutely gone.

Let us quote from the history of the times again.

"The most fatal effects have followed because of the destruction of our tariff, and the premature withdrawal of the protective duties, whereby Ireland's industries have been left open to a fruitless competition against the overwhelming capital and influence of England. Before the withdrawal of protection about 150,000 people were making their living and acquiring a competency out of the manufacture of this country. These now are wholly thrown upon charity: our cotton industry is gone; our woollen industry has disappeared; our looms are silent. No doubt the union will contribute to the greatness of the Empire and possibly to the safety of Ireland but the influx of English and other goods from the continent will for ever prevent Ireland possessing prosperous manufacturing and laboring classes, upon which depends the prosperity of the farming classes."

Canada has been warning her industries established during the past 15 years. These industries have been established by our defensive policy steady-ly the home market. Let us take down that defensive tariff and we should find the same destruction wrought. The enormous amount invested in the manufacturing of England, Germany, and of the United States, and the great power of those industries is ready to crush Canadian industries just as Ireland's industries were crushed before the greater power of English capital.

France Learns a Lesson.

Under all changes of government France clung to the commercial protective policy of Colbert and Napoleon down to a short time ago. That she advanced most rapidly in the development of every material interest is as persistent rumors are still afloat regarding the marriage of one or other of the Prince of Wales' daughters. The Duke of Anguineburg's visit to the Queen is said to have for its ultimate object his union with an English princess and that the choice lies between two Victorias, the daughters severally of the Prince of Wales and Prince Christian. The Duke, who is 32 years of age, is the only brother of the Emperor of Germany and is connected by his sister's marriage to the Duchess of Connaught. He owns large estates in Silesia and Holland and has a government allowance of $60,000 per annum.

MONNET-SULLY.

The Celebrated French Actor.

The features of Monnet-Sully are familiar to Canadians, as the great actor, during his American tour, played to delighted audiences in this country. Monnet-Sully mimes the passions to the life, and there is a subtlety, an intellectuality in his delineations which places him in the front rank of great actors. Monnet-Sully is a patron of the famous "Vin Mariani" and it is thus that great actor speaks of it—"When we drink it, we sing, we are gay, we love, we dream of the future, of glory, of the infinite. In fact, nothing can be better for strengthening than 'Vin Mariani.'" And this is the universal testimony, that this famous tonic coca wine nourishes and strengthens to cultivate a morbid, building up the nervous and debilitated system, driving away the blues and all despondency, and giving a new lease of life to those who were disposed to cultivate a morbid pessimism. If you desire to know something about the celebrated persons who have spoken admiringly of "Vin Mariani," send your name to Lawrence A. Wilson & Co., Montreal, and they will send you an album containing their portraits, free.

BRANDOLATHY-FRENCH TREATY.

The public have recognized the fact that the day has passed that they should pay for labels or brands—BRANDOLATHY will soon be a thing of the past. This is proven by the enormous daily increase of our now famous wines, all guaranteed sound and imported direct from the vineyards of France. We challenge the vine-growers to prove that the brands we are offering at $2.00 and $4.00 are not the equal of those they have been and are now selling at double the price. If your dealer does not keep them, write for particulars and price list to The B. J. Wilson & Co., 251 Hospital Street, Montreal.

Medical Testimony During half a century proves Cod Liver Oil to be the most necessary thing to take for consumption. But the trouble has been its improper method of preparation for invalids. Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the only reliable formula on the market. None but the livers of the Norwegian Cod are used in making it. In conjunction with the hypophosphites of lime and soda it has the most wonderful effect on consumptive patients, who, after taking it for a while, get new strength rise from their beds, and enter upon a new lease of life. Miller's Emulsion is great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c. and all at all Drug Stores.

One of the women members of the Colorado Legislature has refused to have her picture taken in order to complete the group which custom has made an essential feature of every legislative body in the States. The house has just instructed the sergeant-at-arms to get the counterpane removed whether or no. It is not stated how the officer will proceed to carry out the orders of the house, but it is to be hoped that the lady will not yield to an unreasonable demand.
