Strange But True

By F. H. MacArthur
Among birds, one of the great travellers is the Arctic tern. One branded in Newfoundland was found three months later a thousand miles away on the Natal Coast of Africa.

All the names are classified. Among them are place names of 26 states, 4 Canadian provinces, 19 foreign countries, 47 parts of the human anatomy, five days of the week, 17 colors, 10 months, 5 presidents, 4 directions of the wind, 29 animals, and 24 birds.

Wax the feet of chairs and tables when you wax the floor. This will prevent scratching of floors and make the job last longer.

Recently I wrote in this column of the singing sands. To-day I am going to tell you about a singing river, flowing past the Gulf Coast town of Pascagoula, Miss., whose bee-like sound continues to awe both residents, tourists, and scientists.

Many scientific explanations have been given, but none has ever been proved. It may be that the singing is caused by certain fish, the grating of sand against the bottom, and the river rushing past underwater caves. But whatever the cause, Mississippi's singing river is one of the wonders of that state.

When a starfish faces danger it simply sheds one or more of its rays. With small tube feet attached to the underpart of its arms it can walk; it can also open a mussel shell and wrap its stomach around the defenseless creature until it is digested.

HENDERSON & CUDMORE WHERE QUALITY IS SURE

Canadian geese never build their nests in Prince Edward Island. This seems strange when we learn that they nest beside the ponds or "flashes" in our tenth province. But the north to Labrador and the Arctic to raise their young.

Did you know that a kind of tea plant grows in Labrador? The plant has bronze leaves and creamy white flowers. Indians and pioneers used these leaves to make medicine. The balsam fir was also used as a medicine by the pioneers.

Paper making started with the Chinese some 2,000 years ago. The simple process was to soak wood in pots of lime-water and beat the fibres between stones until they became pulp which was then spread out in thin layers to dry in the sun.

There are 17 different birds all belonging to the sparrow family. Although the waxwings are classed with song birds, they never sing.

The interjection "wa-o" frequently used by certain radio comedians was borrowed from the fish cry by negroes in the South, transferred to Harlem, and from there to the radio and popular usage, strange but true!

The pitches of crow calls in general are two or three octaves lower than those of most common songbirds.

Ellen's Diary

from end to end with a white wash, we being one of eight, could recognize as little gowns and petticoats, and bands and barrow-coats, shirts and head-squares, feet-flannels and diapers and a shawl, she giggled, "you can put out a wash like that with a song in your heart, well, all I can say is," she twinkled, "you'd better grab 'im —and fast! Be he," she added with a chuckle, "like the uncle I once knew — or not!"

Bird voices about dripped honeyed phrases today as sweet and bright as the sunlight that poured in a golden wave over the length and breadth of the farmlands. And here encompassed by its delights, a farmer continued the cultivating and there another planted high hopes along with the seeds of his potatoes, and on every farm about folks were at some phase of their cropping.

"It's a great time of year — and what a spring!" one hailed us in passing. "Whatever will come of it?" The answer is in the stars that now keep watch and ward over our quiet fields and farmsteads.

Until tomorrow — -Diary — — Good-night . . .
