District Convention Plans Discussed At WI Meetings

KENSINGTON—Roll call at the May meeting of New London WI was answered with an exchange of potted plants by 13 members at the home of Mrs. Wilbur MacKay.

The meeting opened with "Our Island Hymn" followed by the Creed.

Plans were made for a label, and were to be held in the hall.

Correspondence consisted of a letter regarding the district convention one from the convener of citizenship and one from the Kensington Board of Trade regarding handicrafts.

Mrs. Douglas Cole was appointed the new executive member for the district convention. Plans were made to have two members from New London WI at the concert to be held at Stanley Bridge to finance a swing site. It was decided that members be packed at the school on Friday evening, May 25.

Mrs. Wilbur MacKay read an interesting paper on Citizenship.

The program consisted of two contests, "Places in P.E.I." prepared by Mrs. Oscar MacKay, and "Newfound Dinner" prepared by Mrs. Ellis Burrows.

Giadli bulbs from an Island nursery were distributed among the members of the district. Meeting closed with the Queen.

meeting will be under the direction of Mrs. Alfred Fisher.

Following the adjournment, lunch was served by the hostesses.

BRACKLEY WI
Mrs. Gerald Robinson was hostess to the members of the Brackley Point WI for the group's May meeting which was held recently. The meeting opened in the usual manner and eight members answered roll call.

The meeting was attended by Mrs. George Shaw and Mrs. Fred Hughes were appointed to the sick committee for a three month term. It was decided to pay for a rhythm whist and also the music festival entry fees.

Several members volunteered to canvass the district for the annual meeting. Mrs. Vera was made regarding the lunch for the district convention.

Mrs. Willard McCallum and Mrs. Gerald Robinson gave an interesting description of their recent visit to Toronto, Ont. and Sherbrooke, Que. Lunch was served by the hostess and the meeting was adjourned.

DESARLE UCV
The members of the Desarle United Church Women met recently at the home of Mrs. Wilbur MacKay for the May meeting. The theme of the worship service was "What Is The Church?" Ten members attended the meeting. The wine for the same roll call will be "blissom". The treasurer reported a balance of $12.84.

Reports were heard from the supply secretary, Mrs. H. Dunford, the sick committee convener, Mrs. Gordon Holm and the program convener, Mrs. Lorne Ferguson. The devotion was by Mrs. Mark Dixon.

WHIM ROAD
The Whim Road Women's Institute held their May Meeting at the home of Mrs. Webb Nichol. Mrs. Richard Campbell, chaired the meeting which opened in the usual manner.

Roll call was answered with a donation for a family in the district who had lost their household goods in a fire. The committee reports were heard and the new committees were appointed. Notices business was attended to.

A penny sale put on by Mrs. Mack Munro was won by Mrs. Arthur MacDonald.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cecil Campbell.

St. Dunstan's Basilica Is Scene Of Nuptial Ceremony

A very pretty spring wedding was solemnized at St. Dunstan's Basilica on Saturday, May 5, when Miss Margaret MacDonald, daughter of Mrs. R.J. MacDonald and the late Mr. MacDonald was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Peter G. MacEACHERN, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacEACHERN.

Right Rev. Patrick McMahon performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass. The solemnist was Mrs. Ralph Pinesse and the accompanist was Mrs. Joseph Dogan.

The bride given in marriage by her brother Kenneth MacEACHERN wore a street length dress of blue lace over tulle with white accessories. Her ivory tulle was adorned with roses and streamers.

Rita MacDONALD, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a daffodil yellow tulle dress trimmed with lace and carried a nosegay of tallinnian roses. Her accessories matched her dress.

Mr. Fred McAdam was the groomsmen and the ushers were Albert MacRAE and Frank LAWLER.

Mrs. MacDONALD chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of blue lace over tulle with matching accessories and a mustikr style. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for 40 guests was held at the Queen Hotel. The floral and candle decorations were in blue and yellow shades.

Dr. Joseph Catrus, brother-in-law of the bride, acted as master of ceremony. He read a number of telegrams and called on Rev. Preston Hamill to propose the toast to the bride to which the bridegroom responded.

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. L.J. MacDONALD and Frank LAWLER.

For a honeymoon trip to Toronto, Waterloo, Kitchener and Halifax, Mrs. MacEACHERN wore

ELLEN'S DIARY

Night Rain Of The Roof Is Lullaby Of Mother Nature

James stirred beside us in the wide old bed, in the room above the kitchen, this morning. He wakened — hisener, ear lifted from the pillow.

"Ellen" he called softly "are you awake? Do you hear the rain?"

"I patterned on the roof, and stirred the distance, between us and the white birch branches, across the yard."

"Now" he said, getting down again "if we just get some heat, that will bring the grass!"

"And the green of it was clean, washed and bright, given, as we nestly we came down stairs, in a pair, to meet our new day —"

"After supper, when the sky was back to its blue, Mack went to a white to the cultivated, gloved and jacketed wicket against the coolness, which had come surprisingly, in a sudden change of the wind's heat, and reeked, on the loveliest day of the year."

James and Alex chat now, as they lunch together happily, at a small table in the kitchen. "It's a cool night, isn't it?" the lambs' James says.

"It's just as well the sheep aren't about, isn't it?" the youngster offers.

"Because if they keep in close to their mothers, they will be warm."

There is a silence. "Now, what's next?" James utters kindly.

Alex reaches for cap and jacket. "Home, I guess?" he smiles.

"And bad for a tired little fellow" James nods.

"Snap!" The yard is flooded brightly, to light the led home through the dim.

"I believe, Ellen, if it's all the same to you" James says "I'll be off to my bed."

His has been a busy day. There was no fieldwork for the farmers, but what a great tidying up of things there was at the buildings: box-stalls, sties, a number, were cleaned and some ones moved to solitary pens.

"Things don't look too good for your talpa!" Alex observed in a stinging voice, coming by through the morning. "There's a new in the yard, Granddaddy says for you to keep an eye to her for a few minutes, until they get around to putting her in another pen—Oh, oh, she's headed for the lawn! Better get your broom!" he bawled.
