MR. AND MRS. CHARLES A. PETERS AND ATTENDANTS

Couple Pledge Vows At Ceremony In Toronto

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of the Holy Name, Danforth Avenue, Toronto, when Miss Elizabeth Doyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Doyle, Toronto, became the bride of Charles A. Peters, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Peters, Mount Edward Road, Charlottetown, P.E.I., now residing in Toronto.

Rev. Father Lanoye, assisted by Rev. Father Webber, officiated in the Nuptial Mass double ring ceremony.

The bride was a picture of loveliness as she entered the church on the arm of her father to appropriate music played by the choir organist. Her gown was of gardenia white de lustre satin, with inset yoke of nylon, fitted bodice encrusted with seed pearls and moonstones, long sleeves coming to a point over her hands. The full skirt was pekin lined. Her fingertip veil of nylon net bordered with Chantilly lace was held by a crown of seed pearls and moonstones.

Her four yard train was carried by Master Bruce Doyle, young brother of the bride, assisted by Wayne Haggarty, close friend, each wearing white jackets and black trousers.

Miss Kay Doyle, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a ballerina length gown of white lace and nylon tulle, fitted bodice and full skirt, and bolero jacket, with blue cummerbund which formed a large bow at the back, white headdress and gloves, carrying bouquet of pink and white carnations, blue and white satin streamers with lilies of the valley attached.

The four bridesmaids were, Mrs. Evelyn Haggarty, sister of the bride, Miss Rhita Monkman, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Joan Tizzard and Mrs. Edna Blair, both friends of the bride, wore identical gowns gloves and headdress as the maid of honor, each wearing pink cummerbunds, carrying bouquets of pink and white carnations, streamers of blue and white satin ribbon with lilies of the valley attached.

Little four year old Rosemary Dobbin and Sharon Cook were flower girls, looking petite and lovely dressed in white nylon, with white picture hats white gloves, carrying umbrella baskets adorned with pink and white carnations, lilies of the valley, with pink and blue ribbon stream ers.

The bride carried a white mother of pearl prayer book, gift of the groom, from which fell white satin streamers with lilies of the valley attached.

Little five year old Frederick Strickland, friend of the bride and groom, wearing white tuxedo and black trousers, was ring bearer.

The groom was supported by his friend Mr. Bernard Boutlier.

The ushers were Mr. Clarence Peters, cousin of the groom, Mr. Henry Haggarty, Mr. Bill Blair and Mr. Jim Dobblin, friends of the groom.

The bride's mother received in a cocktail dress of pink chantilly lace over nylon tulle, with pink nylon sash falling into a fishtail at the back, pink picture hat white gloves and shoes, and a corsage of blue and white carnations.

The groom's mother wore a blue sheath dress of Chantilly lace over taffeta, with blue sash falling to a panel at the side, white accessories and corsage of pink and white carnations.

During the singing of the register, tenor soloist from St. Michael's Cathedral boys choir sang the beautiful Ave Maria." and O Lord I am not Worthy."

The guest pews were marked with white satin bows and lilies of the valley.

The grooms gift to the best man and ushers was each a set of gold cuff links. To the matron of honor and bridesmaids, white leather clutch bags, and to the flower girls, ring bearer and train bearer pencil sets.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner and reception was held in the Vimy room of the Baron Byng Hall, for over one hundred guests.

The bride's table was decorated with bouquets of flowers. In the center was a three tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

A toast to the bride was proposed by the best man, and responded to by the groom. A toast to the matron of honor and bridesmaids was proposed by Mr. Bernard Boutlier and responded to by the groom. A toast to the bride's and groom's parents was proposed by the groom and responded to by Mr. Doyle and Mr. Peters.

Following the reception the bride and groom left on a two weeks honeymoon at Kawatha Lakes, Ont.

For travelling the bride wore a white sheath lace dress over satin, with matching duster coat, black picture hat black gloves, black and white shoes and bag and white luggage.

Prior to her marriage the bride was entertained at several showers, where she received many lovely and useful gifts. Several telegrams of good wishes were received from Montreal, Ottawa, Kapuscasing, U.S.A. and Prince Edward Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters will reside in Toronto where the groom holds a responsible position with the firm of Carriere and MacFeeters Ltd.

Gillis-Clark Wedding Is Solemnized In Kensington

Potted plants formed the floral setting for a quiet but pretty wedding that took place at the home of the bride's mother on Wednesday, November 27, at 3 o'clock, when Eleanor Arelene, daughter of Mrs. Fair Clark and the late Mr. Clark, Kensington, and Donald Huch Gillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gillis, Shamrock, P.E.I., were united in marriage. Rev. Lewis M. Murray was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was attended by Miss Katherine Gillis, sister of the groom.

Mr. Donald Clark, brother of the bride, was best man.

The youthful bride looked charming in a ballerina length dress of silver-embroidered white nylon net over white satin. The bouffant skirt was topped by a fitted bodice and net bolero. Silver touches in embroidery and beads were repeated on bolero, mitts and the headdress of white velvet flowers and tulle She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bridesmaid wore a waltz length gown of mauve lace and nylon over nee skirt She also wore a headband of mauve velvet flowers and carried a nosegay of yellow and white carnations.

Mrs. Clark chose a dress of ice blue sheath with a corsage of rose carnations. The mother of the groom wore a dress of sapphire blue embossed bengaline and a corsage of pink carnations. bride's table was centered by a

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served by the classmates of the bride, Miss Shirley MacKinnon and Miss Shirley Mann and by Mrs. A. Silliphant, aunt of the bride. The three tier wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom within a heart-shaped frame of tulle.

For a honeymoon trip through the Maritimes the bride donned a fur-trimmed tweed suit of charcoal flecked with white, a white feather hat, black and white accessories and corsage of red roses completed the ensemble.

They will reside in St. Louis where the groom is the C.N.R. Station Agent. Out of town guests included Mrs. Thomas R. Beer, Charlottetown.

Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Clark. A white wedding bell and white and pink streamers formed the decorations.

Miss Shirley Mann ushered the bride-elect to the living room as the bridal chorus was played by Mrs. Herbert Moore.

Many beautiful gifts were carried in by Misses Nancy Clark and Marjorie Paynter. Others assisting were. Misses Elizabeth Brookins, Donna Silliphant, Shirley MacKinnon, Eleanor MacArthur, Dolores Smith, Shirley Gallant and Mrs. David Bryanton. Eleanor expressed thanks to all and to the Clark's for the use of their home and extended them an invitation to visit her in her new home.

HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Heartz quietly observed their 65th wedding anniversary on the 12th December. Mrs. Heartz, who had a severe attack of the flu, is making a splendid recovery.

The name Jones in this province is indeed well - known. Among those bearing it have been some of the most solid and leading citizens in the development of Prince Edward Island. There was the late Senator Jones and Mr. Robert Jones who built Belfast Church, to mention only two.

From Ontario comes the story of a Jones family in Maitland. Jennifer Jones was married recently to Anthony F. Inderwick Her maiden name will still mean a great deal to her because she is a seventh generation descendant of Dr. Solomon Jones, a farmer, counselor, magistrate and district judge as well as physician of early Upper Canada.

The family history of the family is known to all since they came to Canada as United Empire Loyalists in 1783. As in Prince Edward Island the Jones in Ontario are connected with a church. Jennifer Jones was married at St. James Church, founded by the Jones family in 1825. The wedding gown, ivory and satin, has been worn by three generations of the Jones family. The wedding reception was held at the family's "Olde Homewood" the Loyalist acres granted by George the Third, in 1783, and in the colonial house, built by Dr. Jones in 1797.

Mr. and Mrs. Inderwick left to spend Christmas in England with the groom's family after which they will spend two months on the continent. They will live at Ottawa.

The Jones home overlooking the St. Lawrence River is still very impressive and much like it was 170 years ago. Then it was one of the grand manors of Canada and its spacious rooms are filled with paintings, rare china and heirlooms. Some of the Jones prized possessions include the framed deed and seal of George the Third, in the hallway. One of the china sets was brought to Canada by the loyalists in a grandfather clock, slung over the backs of two pack horses, also an Adams Staffordshire dinner set. Even more prized than the Willow set is a dinner set which originally had 400 pieces but now is reduced to 200. Each piece of this set has a different scene of Regent Park.

The New Years Eve Dance with Don Messer and his orchestra at the Queen Charlotte High School is a much anticipated event.

It is sometime since Mrs. Elsie (Mutch) Gullison, R.N., visited Prince Edward Island but she is still affectionately remembered by numerous people here.

Mrs. Gullison who has built a large children's private nursery school at 107 Clover Lane, Menlo Park, California, is a very successful woman in a worthwhile work which she loves. Mrs. Gullison's school is surrounded by grounds and trees. Stanford College is near by and Mrs. Gullison has the children of the faculty and married students as her little charges.

She is very busy at present with three parties coming up (which include one for the parents!) and the designing and making of costumes, as well as preparing programmes.

Mrs. Gullison also delightedly writes that she is a grandmother now as her son Ralph is married and has a "darling baby boy." Her daughter Anne is at College and the twins Elizabeth and Patricia are seniors at High School. Elizabeth Gullison expects to spend Christmas in Connecticut, the guest at the home of some Yale students.

ALEXANDRA W.I.

The December meeting of the Alexandra W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Wood with an attendance of ten members and two visitors.

The vice-president, Mrs. Aubrey Gamble, presided and meeting opened by repeating the Mary Stewart Collect.

LET'S EAT

Time Saving Menus Are Of Vital Importance Now

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

The Feeneys like good food. I know because Mrs. Mae Feeney is on our test kitchen staff. Over the week end, she tries out the more unusual recipes. This week she came in with the following time-saving menu.

Tomorrow's Time-Saving Dinner: Sliced tomato and lettuce salad, chicken- vegetable - rice, stew - on - toast, buttered okra, Danish raspberry pudding, whipped topping, pound cake, coffee.

"Being a working gal," Mae said, "I have to cut cooking time so, for the stew, I used chicken parts instead of a whole chicken. I cooked them the preceding evening. Rice, onions and carrots were in the stew — this saved washing serving dishes and utensils. Every minute counts when you're a double-job homemaker!

BEFORE GOING TO WORK

"The okra was frozen. The raspberry pudding I made before I went to work, using the package directions. It refrigerated all day and so was cold and delicious."

"But why two desserts on your menu?" I inquired.

"It just wouldn't be dinner without cake and coffee," Mae laughed. "Weekends I bake cake, sometimes from a mix, sometimes I make your one-egg cake, but during the week I buy it."

All measurements are level; recipes proportioned to serve 4

Easy-Do One-Egg Cake: Cream until fluffy 2-3 c. sugar with ¼ c. butter or margarine, 1 tsp. lemon or vanilla extract, ½ tsp. salt and 1 egg yolk.

Sift together 1½ c. already-sifted enriched flour, and 1½ tsp. double - acting baking powder. Add alternately with ½ c. milk to the creamed mixture. Beat ½ min. Then fold in 1 beaten egg white.

Transfer to an oiled 8"x8" loaf pan, or 2 (8") round layer cake pans. Bake the loaf 35 min. in moderate oven, 375 degrees F.; bake the layers 20 to 25 min., or until a toothpick inserted near the centre comes out clean.

JAM FILLING

"I put the layers together with jam and dust the top with confectioner's sugar." Mae Feeney explained. "Sometimes, before baking, I dust the batter for loaf cake with shredded coconut to give it a finish. It's no use to think of frosting a cake in our house. There isn't time before we eat it up!"

Chicken - Vegetable - Rice Stew - on - Toast (Adapted from Mrs. Feeney's Recipe.):

Put 2 chicken breasts and 2 legs in a 2-qt. saucepan. With clean white string, tie together a "bolquet" of top celery stalks, scallion tops and parsley sprigs. Add to the chicken with 1½ tsp. salt, and boiling water to cover. Stir in 1 tsp. granular beef bouillon or beef extract, 6 scallion bulbs, 6 peeled small onions and 4 quartered peeled carrots.

Simmer-boil until fork-tender (1½ to 2 hrs.) Remove the "bouquet" and the chicken. Cut the meat from the bones and return to the stew. Add 2 c. cooked long grain rice. Reheat; serve in soup plates. Garnish soup with minced parsley.

Salad Suggestion of the Chef-Top sliced tomatoes on lettuce with sliced cooked frozen artichoke hearts and chiffonade dressing.

I was a bundle of nerves

My nerves were that bad the least little thing set me off. I was irritable, tense, easily depressed, and I slept badly. And as if I wasn't enough, I'd get indigestion.

Many people experience unpleasant feelings because their systems are disturbed by ingredients present in everyday beverages. While some people can drink tea, coffee, cocoa and some soft drinks without harm, others cannot.

Postum contains no tannin to interfere with digestion; no caffein, theophylline and theobromine which can cause nervousness, sleeplessness, irritability, palpitations, rapid pulse, followed by depression.

There is no need to endure any of these unpleasant feelings. Switch to Instant Postum which is guaranteed to contain no stimulants or drugs. Postum does not taste or act like ordinary beverages, but has a comforting flavor of its own. Make Postum easily, instantly, right in your cup. Just add freshly boiling water, stir and enjoy.

Try Postum for 30 days. When nerves are soothed, you sleep better, feel better, look better.

Get Instant Postum today. Saves you money. Costs less than 1c a cup. A product of General Foods, Limited.
