

Editorial 16: It's all over now, Baby Blue or The Idiot's Guide to Academia Part 2 (49-1)

49. If you do not believe in yourself, you had better find something and hold on.
 48. Sheer terror is only known by those who have lost confidence in their own ego.
 47. Despite the title there is nothing over here, the CADRE is stronger than it has ever been thanks to the following people: Sarah Murphy, Heather Christie, Stephan MacLeod, Jeff Coll, James Scheib, Ryan O'Connor, Marc MacDonald, Danica Jackson, Matt Hogan. If you still think it is bad then you are either a Philistine, ill-informed or stupid.
 46. Cruelty loves inequity.
 45. Freedom breeds fearlessness, just as comfort breeds caution.
 44. I am becoming what can only be called "anti-theist."

43. Though a spellchecker is an editor's best friend, integrity and cigarettes are important too.
 42. Ex Cathedra. Look it up.
 41. There are two types of mentors: The reluctant ones, and the bad ones.
 40. The best kind of summers are the death-free ones.
 39. "Arm the homeless."
 38. If you scratch a three piece suit you will find a fascist.
 37. The academic too often looks at the principal of action, and reaction, rather than looking at the thing in its environment, in its nature. And that is my problem with academics.
 36. Littering should be legalized.
 35. "The CADRE rules," Alejandro Bustos, National Bureau Chief, Canadian University Press.
 34. "The CADRE sucks," fill in name here.
 33. Even if I know where I am going I ask someone else how long they think it will take to get there.
 32. The real CADRE poll was conducted by me this Monday. I spent four hours walking around the halls of Main Building handing out surveys. I asked each professor as politely and as gently as possible to fill them out right now, and drop them in the internal mail.

Some were downright gracious in their acceptance, and others, well, were assholes more from apathy than intent. Nearly 40% returned their surveys so a big pat on the back for the faculty (just don't tell them I said it).
 31. The reason I am so hard on the School of Business is because it is the only one I truly care about.
 30. The most interesting thing written on a bathroom wall in this building is: "Do what thou Wilt Shall be the Whole of the Law."
 29. The only difference between you today and you tomorrow is that you tomorrow always has possibilities.
 28. You cannot choose your relatives.
 27. Ike Turner is a musical genius.
 26. This may be the first CADRE ever with 100% local content.
 25. Two companies, Xerox and IBM, gave away the computer industry out of hubris.
 24. The IT business is the devil's playground.
 23. I know several internet rich kids, but no Pulitzer Prize winners.
 22. If you spend an entire afternoon first interviewing, then listening to a career politician you will hear the same ten words at least fifty times.
 21. Any person forced to endure 8 hours of "group work" will contemplate murder at several points.

 20. Just because you are awarded doesn't mean you are any good. Any asshole can get an award.
 19. It is better to earn it than to have it given to you.
 18. It is awfully nice if someone wants to give it to you.
 17. I am spending my summer: working the graveyard shift at Aubrey's bottle exchange, playing outside hitter for the San Dimas Quales of the world professional beach volleyball league, trying to find out why Old English matters, checking my head, trying to find my humility, trying to find out why Old Spice smells, preparing my rise through student government on a bike, working on my spelling, believing everything that I read, and changing my clothes every day.
 16. Not everything is somebody's business.
 15. The best records of all time are: Tom Waits (Rain Dogs), The Rolling Stones (Exile on Main St.), Duke Ellington (Sophisticated Lady), Paul Simon (Graceland), What's Goin On (Marvyn Gaye), Burnin' (Bob Marley and the Wailers) Bob Dylan (Blood on the Tracks)

 14. Changing your mind is far easier than admitting you were wrong in the first place.
 13. Trischedecephobia (Check spelling)
 12. "I'm a pock, I'm a little black dot"
 11. Watching you read, best thing.
 10. If you have the right kind of attitude you can park on campus all year, and no one will hassle you.
 9. The CADRE is a student paper. Without students it makes no sense. I saw ten people tonight who could make the paper ten times better. Where are you? I mean, you care right?
 8. Watching you read, worst thing.
 7. This job is not hard, and amazingly rewarding if you are fearless and don't care what anyone thinks.
 6. It is hard to be fearless and not care what anyone thinks.
 5. Thank you (to the staff and volunteers).
 4. Fuck you (to all the enemies, past, present and future)
 3. Thank you (to Sherri)
 2. Everybody needs a nickname
 1. Deny everything

THE CADRE

a student union joint

Kent J. Bruyneel	Editor-In-Chief
Heather Christie	Graphic Design
Sarah K. Murphy	News Editor
Stephan MacLeod	Ad Manager
Ryan O'Connor	A & E Editor
Marc MacDonald	Sports Editor
Brian Herrell	Circulation Manager
Danica Jackson	Photographer
FWP	House Band

Comrades:

Jim-beau Lieyeah
 Leo Cheverie
 Jeff Coll
 Matthew MacKay
 Stephen McQuaid
 David MacDonald
 Trevor Nicholson
 Matthew Hogan
 Adam Gauthier
 Sherri Mackenzie

EMAIL: Newspaper@UPEI.CA

INSIDE

like a bomb

Paul Martin	4	NSO 2000	15
		Reviews	18
The Faculty Poll	6	Island Studies	20
Business School Wins	7	Chaplaincy Centre	20
Politics	9	Cool Love	22
Hope and Expectations	11	Fact & Opinion	23
Special Pull-Out Calendar	12	April 7, 2000	Volume 31
Sports	14	Issues 9-10	