

GEORGE SUTHERLAND JUDGED BY THOSE WHO KNOW HIM BEST.

It appears by the following extract from an article in the Halifax Academic Review, on P. E. Island affairs, that the Chaplain to the House of Assembly in this Island has established for himself in Nova Scotia a rather enviable reputation as an unscrupulous trading politician.

The Rev. George Sutherland, well remembered in this Province for the part he took at the last General Election in heralding the "No-Popery" cry, and in discussing the "No-Slavery" question, was the party who adopted that cry to carry them into power, has received the appointment of Chaplain to the House of Assembly, for acting in the same capacity in the Island.
