ANOTHER PRINCIPLE GONE.

ONE by one the principles of Liberalism as enunciated from the opposition benches are being ruthlessly stamped under foot. Mr. Tarte has declared that he prefers the giving of contracts without tender, to the old plan of putting everything up to competition and in this way giving every one a fair chance. Tarte, as usual, has his way. His colleagues in the Ministry swallow their convictions (publicly expressed) on this point. The extent of the feat performed by some of these gentlemen in this connection can be the more readily understood by resurrecting the speeches they made while in opposition. Our own Sir Louis Davies had a horror of such conduct when he sat on the opposition side of the House. Some years ago a work which it was necessary to push forward at once was undertaken without tender, and here is what he said on the point (Hansard, 1895, pages 2818 and 2819):

"The Act lays down explicitly that these public contracts shall be given after tenders have been called for, public tenders invited by the Minister, and that, except in cases of pressing emergency in which delay would be injurious to the public interest, these tenders have to be called. Now, we find the hon. gentleman in the beginning of the construction of this work deliberately ignoring the policy which Parliament had laid down for his guidance. He was bound to call for public tenders for the construction of that work unless he did violence to the policy of the Government as embodied in the several Acts of Parliament.

"The moment the Minister dispensed with the calling of tenders and began the work by day's work that moment he began to open the door through which fraud could be perpetrated. Political influence then began to be brought to bear. Hon. gentleman who wished to give employment to political friends, and who found they could not give this employment if tenders were called, found the door opened wide by the Minister himself, by which they could pass through as many political proteges and friends as they liked, not tens or dozens, but hundreds of the political friends of hon. gentlemen opposite could be employed under the system of day's labor to an almost unlimited extent."

The other Sir Knight, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, also held up his hands in horror at the idea of letting work without tender, even though it was a contract which required expedition. He said (pages 2891 and 2892):

"Sir, he not only violated the law, but in view of the event he committed a most lamentable error of judgment." No reason existed why the present Minister should not on this occasion have complied with the requirements of the law. There was no reason that I can see unless possibly there was the contemplation of immense plunder for those who manipulated the work."

But when the Master of the Administration cracks his whip his associates cringe before him and quickly fall into line. The two courtly Knights referred to above swallow their old-time utterances and meekly submit to the wishes of the dictator. Such is Liberalism in the closing hours of the nineteenth century.

—The Manitoba Legislature has been adjourned again to allow Premier Greenway to consult with the ministers at Ottawa. There is, says the Gazette, one big subject on which the ministers at Ottawa may be presumed so concerned in Manitoba's affairs—the school question. Mr. Greenway has ideas on this that do not agree with those of the Laurier Government, but the Laurier Government has lands and money which Mr. Greenway desires. Mr. Greenway is probably coming East to barter some of his school principles for some of the Laurier Government's lands and money.

OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.

It may be interesting to Prince Edward Islanders to know that notwithstanding the good times reported in the United States there are thousands out of employment in New York city alone. With a view to alleviating the distress of these men the Knights of Labor are urging the issue of $2,000,000 in bonds to be appropriated to the repaving of the streets of the city in order that those who are now idle maybe given something to do. What is true of New York city may with equal truth be said of almost every large city of the Union. Yet hundreds of people from country districts flock to these cities year after year in the expectation of bettering their condition. While some of these do well, there are very many who do not. It is a great pity that more cannot be done to keep the young people at home. Something should be done to induce the young men to look more favorably upon agriculture. It even a portion of the large sum of money spent in bringing emigrants to our shores were turned into some scheme calculated to keep our young men at home they as well as the country would be the better for it.

WINDSOR COLLEGIATE SCHOOL.

Islanders Ahead—More Particulars From King's College.

The Halifax Herald to hand to day contains the list of prizes awarded at the Windsor Collegiate School. Master Noel Tooker, of this city, wins the Senior Alumni prize of $40 and the Alumni prize for French of $10. Master Geoff Fitzgerald wins the junior prize for the best all round athlete. The Herald also gives further particulars than those published in yesterday's EXAMINER of the King's College Convocation. Revs. G. F. Scovill and C. W. Vernon, both of whom have many friends here, received the degree of Master of Arts.

Mr. J. L. S. Foster, who spent a week in Charlottetown last year, the guest of Dr. Hodgson, and who will probably assist at St. Peter's school next term, received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Mr. Walter Cotton, besides the degree of B. A., obtained the Governor General's medal and the McCauley classical scholarship.

The Board of Governors vetoed the alumni's request for a four-year art course, instead of three. It was decided, however, to accept an examination in German or French, instead of Greek at matriculation.

Water Famine in Australia.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 22.—The people of Cobar mining district, Western Australia, are, according to the advice brought by the Warrimoo, suffering great distress through the failure of the water holes and artesian wells, several having died of thirst during May. Mines are closed down and hundreds of men thrown out of employment find themselves unable to pay the exorbitant price demanded for water for domestic use. The present charge is one shilling a gallon at the nearest reliable source of supply, and from 7s. 6d. to 9s. 6d. is added for delivery.

Alfred A. Taylor, of Margaree says: One bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT cured a swelling of the gamble joint, and saved a horse worth $140.00.

Thos. W. Payne of Bathurst, saved the life of a valuable horse that the Vet. had given up, with a few bottles of MINARD'S LINIMENT.

Didn't Call it Lynching.

SCRANTON, Mich., June 22.—"We, the jury find that the deceased came to his death by climbing a tree venturing too far on a limb and broke his neck." Such was the verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of Daniel Patrick, colored, who was lynched here at 2 o'clock yesterday morning for an assault upon Miss Bessie Ireland.
