

The Danger of PILES

Too frequently overlooked, Dr. Chase's Ointment a Prompt and Positive Cure.

The burning caused by the intense itching and burning sensations of piles is only one of the horrors of this disease, for there is always great danger of piles developing into fistula, one of the most disgusting diseases imaginable. Even the great danger and expense of an operation are preferable to running the risk of contracting this most loathsome of diseases.

But there is no necessity for a surgical operation for piles. Dr. Chase's Ointment is guaranteed to cure any case of piles, no matter of how long standing, or how aggravated the case may be, so long as piles have not become fistula.

It is only by rare chance that internal treatment will cure piles. But it matters not from what cause they arise, Dr. Chase's Ointment will at once stop the itching and burning, and soon effect a perfect cure.

You can use Dr. Chase's Ointment with fullest assurance that what has cured scores of thousands of cases of piles will cure you. For sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Of Special Interest to our Farmers

Rape

Our readers will probably remember the article on Rape which appeared in THE EXAMINER last fall. The following is from the last number of the Farmer's Advocate:
For sheep and young cattle there is probably no green crop that will furnish as much good feeding pasturage or promote growth and put on flesh as rapidly as will rape. It has the property of springing up again after being eaten off, and can thus be fed over several times in a season. It is not, as a rule, considered advisable to sow it early, as it is more suitable for the late fall months, and early-sown rape is liable to turn yellow and become infested with plant lice during the hot months in summer unless it is pastured off before it reaches that condition, and allowed to grow up again for later pasturage. Rape may be sown any time from May to August, but as a rule the best time to sow is about the end of June, or any time after the 15th of that month. This is a time when farm work is generally not pressing, and there is ample time to prepare the land well for the crop. A rich soil is not absolutely necessary for a fair crop of rape, though of course, a stronger crop may reasonably be expected on rich than on poor or fairly fertile land. The principal thing is to get the land into good condition, so that a fine seed-bed is secured. A clover sod, or even a timothy sod, inverted and well worked on the surface until fine and friable answers the purpose very well. Failing these a stubble field which has been manured, if not previously in a good state of fertility, may, by a good preparation of the seed-bed, serve the purpose fairly well. If the land has been plowed in the fall, it may not be necessary to re-plow in the spring, if the surface has been kept cultivated by the use of a broad-toothed cultivator to cut and destroy thistles and other weeds. This system has the merit of retaining the moisture in the soil, and if showers of rain do not come will be found to favor the early germination of the seed and growth of the plants. If the land must be plowed the roller should follow the plow the same day, and the harrow should follow the roller, if not the same day then the next day, as the land will by this means crumble and be reduced to a fine tilth more readily and satisfactorily than if these last processes are delayed till all the field is plowed. If it is considered too early to sow, or if there is not sufficient moisture in the soil to insure germination of the seed, it may be well to wait till a shower comes, when the land should be well harrowed and cultivated, if necessary, so that any weeds which have started may be killed and the seed bed be left in fine condition.

It is generally considered preferable to ridge the land in low ridges from 26 to 36 inches apart—the same as for turnips—when the seed may be sown with a turnip drill, sowing about two pounds of seed per acre. By commencing to horse-hoe between the drills early weeds may be kept under and the growth of the rape hastened, and it should be horse-hoed at least three times, if possible, in order to insure a good crop. If a drill that will sow in rows on the level the proper distance apart is available, it will answer the purpose, though after cultivation can be earlier and easier prosecuted where the plants are grown on raised ridges. We have seen the ordinary grain drill with grass seeding attachment used to sow rape, by placing the seed in the grass seeder, closing up part of the openings and slanting the rubber tubes into the shields of two or three of the hoes. The difficulty in this case is that the rows will be only about 21 inches apart, which leaves rather too narrow spaces between to work a horse-hoe advantageously. On land that is clean, rich and mellow, a very good crop may be grown by sowing the seed broadcast at the rate of four or five pounds per acre. It is well to sow a small proportion of Greystone turnip seed with the rape seed, as the stock will enjoy scooping these.

The value of rape as fall food for sheep and young cattle is only fully appreciated by those who have had experience with it. There is no other pasture crop which will put on flesh so rapidly and keep the animals in better health. There are occasionally losses of animals fed upon it from bloating, but if care is exercised to put them on it at first only when it is dry and the animals are not very hungry they will gradually become accustomed to it, and may safely be left to graze on it till the snows of winter come. It is well to sow a piece early to be ready for the lambs when they are weaned, and to have other pieces in different fields for later feeding, so that the ram lambs may be separated from the ewe lambs; and there is nothing equal to rape for freshening the ewe flock for the breeding season, and fattening such as are to go to the butcher; while calves and other young cattle thrive on it, and are brought into excellent condition for going into winter quarters.

SEED WHEAT

DEAR SIR,—
I am very glad to be able to inform you that after testing the WHITE FIFE WHEAT, imported by you from the North West last fall, I have no hesitation in recommending it to the farmers of P. E. Island

I sowed twenty grains without making any special selection, and out of the twenty, nineteen grew strong and healthy.
Farmers in this section of the country pronounce your seed wheat the best sample that they have seen imported to this Island.
Yours etc.,
R. P. BAGNALL, Farmer,
Hazel Grove, P. E. I.

I still have a few bags of this specially selected wheat to dispose of.

Artificial Teeth on Metal Plates

A dentist who knows his business, and one that has any regard for his patients will always advise them to have a metal plate.
PROF. MELVILLE B. BUCKLEY, Instructor Boston Dental College, Boston Mass.
In view of the vast amount of injury done to the mouths of wearers of rubber or vulcanite plates, by the retention of undue heat, owing to the non conductivity of rubber, and as siumium is now so cheaply produced, and making as it does a rigid, light, cleanly, unobjectionable plate there seems no reason why any person should wear a rubber or vulcanite plate. Not only this, but better results in fit and adhesion are obtained in difficult cases, than in the use of rubber.

L. P. HASKELL, D. D. S. Chicago Ill Dental School
The above quotations are from hundreds by eminent dentists whose close observation in many years experience in plate work has learned them the many advantages of metal over rubber.
Many persons who are compelled to wear artificial teeth on a plate find that the ordinary plate causes heating of the mouth, bad taste, shrinkage of the gums, etc., finally causing the plate to get loose, sometimes sore lips, sore mouths and sore throats, and caused directly from the wearing of an ordinary plate.

We recommend a metal plate either of Gold, Platinum, Aluminum.

It is a conductor of heat and cold, it is non-irritating, and is thinner, lighter, and stronger than any other plate.
We have testimonials from persons for whom we have made metal plates—not one would wear an ordinary plate again. You can have your impression taken, and a metal plate made same day, fully guaranteed because we make them ourselves and know all about the material used. Call and see specimens of our work.
Every piece of work done by us must give entire satisfaction to the patient, else we will not allow it to leave our office.
