'Was Really A Squeaker', Says Jubilant Yank Boss

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"I'm sure glad he hit that ball right at somebody," sighed manager Ralph Houk of the victorious New York Yankees, in the general jubilation of the winning dressing room.

"He couldn't have hit it much better. But I don't care how hard they hit them if they hit them at somebody."

Houk was talking about the rifle shot line drive that Willie McCovey of San Francisco Giants hit to Bobby Richardson to end the World Series, with the Yankees on top 1-0 and two Giants in scoring position.

"Phew, what a ball game," Houk exclaimed. "That was really a squeaker.

"We made some good plays. (Tom) Tresh's catch on Willie Mays in the seventh inning saved the game. So did fast fielding by (Roger) Maris on Mays double in the ninth.

"And the Giants didn't do anything to disgrace themselves either. They fought us right down to the last out of the seventh game.'

TERRY DAZED

Ralph Terry, the shy, almost frail right hander who pitched the shutout for the Yankees, sat in his locker cubicle, leaning his head back against the wall, a dazed smile on his face, and said:

"It was the biggest thrill of my life, but ooooh, Im glad it's over What an ending. What a perfect ending . . . 1-0 . . . That's how close the teams were in every respect in this series."

"They are a great ball club."

Elston Howard, the catcher, said the victory was "the greatest game Terry ever pitched."

"Were we nervous?" Howard asked, "Were we nervous? We were all tight. It was the last game of the World Series.'

As the shock of the hair-breadth victory wore off, the Yankees seemed to come to life.

"Terry gave them their Bye, Bye, Baby," shouted third baseman Clete Boyer, over and over

Bye, Bye, Baby, is the theme song of the Giants.

Terry called for champagne, and a glass was handed to him.

With the glass in hand, Terry leaned back again, banged his head aginst the back of the locker a few times as if to make sure that he was awake and not dreaming, and said, again:

"What an ending."

Many of the Yankees wandered around the locker room, some of them undressed, others in partial uniform. All had sweet smiles on their faces. Even Roger Maris, the angry man of the team, smiled, although he was into the shower within 30 seconds after the team entered the dressing room.

Houk was asked if he thought of walking McCovey intentionally in the ninth inning, with Mays on second, Matty Alou on third and first base open.

WAS TEMPTED

"I was temped to put him on," Houk said, "but I talked to Terry and he said he would just as soon pitch to him as the next man (Orlando Cepeda), and he thought he could get him out if he made good pitches."

Tresh's catch was the decisive defensive play of the game, however. He snagged a ball hit by Mays down the left field line that would have gone for a double. A triple by McCovey followed.

"I caught the ball in the web of my glove," Tresh said. "I was running so fast I grabbed it with my right hand to hold it in, because I knew I was going to hit the wall real hard and I didn't want to drop it."

Al's George Dixon Retains Scoring Lead

TORONTO (CP) — Montreal Alouettes' George Dixon could not manage a single point in the Eastern Football Conference's highest scoring week of the season—but he still holds the lead in the scoring race.

Dixon, whose 66 points on 11 touchdowns seemed to be an almost insurmountable lead last week, is now peeking over his shoulder at rivals who are closing in fast.

Alouettes and Hamilton Tiger-Cats fattened their totals considerably as they scored 117 points between them. Hamilton's Garney Henley made the biggest move when he doubled his season's output by scoring four touchdowns Monday night.

Henley, 16th last week with 24 points, moved into seventh place with 48.

Ticats' Hal Patterson, with three touchdowns, didn't move into a threatening position but also doubled his point total and now has 36.

Argos' Dick Shatto, who picked up two touchdowns, moved from fourth to second place, only one touchdown behind Dixon.

Ernie White of Ottawa Rough Riders, second last week, slumped to fourth place with 54 points.

Enjoy Trouble - Free Heat With SHELL
heat'n-a-hurry
STOVE & FURNACE OIL
CALL
R. C. BARWISE
DIAL 4-4316
Authorized Shell Agent for Charlottetown and West of Charlottetown
MALPEQUE ROAD

The Guardian

SECOND SECTION — Charlottetown, Wed. Oct. 17, 1962. — PAGE 9

Ralph Terry Hurls Yanks To 20th Series Victory

By JACK HAND

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ralph Terry pitched New York Yankees to their 20th World Series victory Tuesday with a magnificent four-hitter that stopped San Francsco 1-0 in the tingling seventh game of the playoff.

The battling Giants struggled to the final out when Willie McCovey lined a sizzler to Bobby Richardson with men on second and third.

Terry retired the first 17 Giants he faced until Jack Sanford, his pitching rival for the third time, singled to right centre with two out in the sixth.

This was the same Terry who threw the home run ball to Pittsburgh's Bill Mazeroski in the final game at Forbes Field in 1960. The 26-year-old right hander was superb in this blue-ribbon effort. Going in to the ninth he had a two-hitter.

The 43,948 fans at wind-swept Candlestock Park rose to their feet and chanted "go, go, go" in football style as the Giants came up for their last fling in this first World Series in San Francisco history.

BEATS OUT BUNT

Matty Alou, pinch-hitting for relief pitcher Billy O'Dell, dropped a beautiful drag bunt toward Bobby Richardson and beat it out for a base hit. There was that big run, sitting on first base with nobody out.

Felipe Alou, Matty's older brother, tried to bunt once but fouled the first pitch, swung on the second pitch and finally struck out The missed bunt proved fatal

After Chuck Hiller struck out, Willie Mays came through with a smash to the right field corner, good for two bases. Matty Alou raced to third and—taking no chances — stopped when Roger Maris' throw to Richardson was relayed promptly to Elston Howard at the plate.

Ralph Houk, the Yankee manager, came out to talk to his pitcher with McCovey, a 6-4, 200-pound left handed slugger, next at bat. McCovey had hit a towering home run off Terry in the second game.

HITS LINER TO SECOND

McCovey swung from his heels and delivered a long foul that the wind helped swerve into the right field stands. Terry, pitching carefully, threw once more. The ball rocketed back at Richardson, almost toppling the little second baseman, but he held on and the ball game was over.

A foot—or maybe six inches—either way — and they would have been dancing in the street at Market and Power.

The lone run of this well pitched final game was scored in the fifth with Bill Skowron coming home while the Giant infield completed a double play on Tony Kubek's smash to short Sanford had been throwing goose eggs, too, although his control was off and he was struggling. In the third the Yanks had men on first and second with two out but Sanford escaped when Tom Tresh grounded out.

Skowron opened the fifth with a ground single to left, the second Yankee hit. Clete Boyer promptly followed with a single to left centre, moving the Moose to third.

WALKED TERRY

Sanford then made his fatal error, walking Terry on four straight pitches. That loaded the bases with nobody out. If he had retired Terry, the subsequent double play by Kubek would have eased him out of the inning instead of yielding the fatal run.

The Yanks finally got rid of Sanford in the eighth when a bad throw by Jose Pagan on Richardson's grounder, a single by Tom Tresh off Pagan's knee, and a right field single by Mickey Mantle loaded the bases with nobody out.

Alvin Dark, Giant manager, sent for O'Dell, a lefty, and he turned in a brilliant relief job. O'Dell made Roger Maris force Richardson at the plate and then got out of the inning on Elston Howard's double play grounder to Jim Davenport. O'Dell needed only five pitches, all strikes, to escape.

The stiff wind, between 25 and 35 miles an hour, blew all afternoon while the Giants lofted fly balls into the gale. Of the 27 Giant outs, 19 were on fly balls, including five fouls, and four struck out. There were only four ground ball outs.

MAKES GREAT CATCH

Proving once more that baseball is a game of inches, a sensational running catch by Tresh on Mays' curling wind-blown drive to left saved the ball game in the seventh. The next hitter, McCovey, then lashed a long triple to deepest centre.

Terry, top Yankee winner with a 23-12 record, had been plagued by the home run ball through his career. It beat him in Pittsburgh in '60 and it cost him plenty of games this year, for he led the league with 40 home runs hit off his pitches.

McCovey in the second game and Jose Pagan in the fifth game hit homers off him during the series.

Terry never had won a series game and was a four-time loser until he bested Sanford in the fifth game 5-3 on Tresh's three-run homer

Mantle finally got a hit—three in 25 at bats for a .120 average, but he also was picked off first base in the sixth after walking.

Although the Yanks managed seven hits in the finale, they finished with a team batting average of only .197.

WORTH $4,000 MORE

The victory meant a difference of about $4,000 to each Yankee and Giant. Although official cuts are not announced until later by the office of commissioner Ford Frick, on the basis of 30 shares for each, a Yankee would take home about $12,000 and a Giant about $8,000. There was $362,578.32 to be divided among the winners and $241,718.88 among the losers, a difference of $120,859.44.

7This was the Yanks' 20th World Series triumph in 27 classics and the Giants' 10th defeat in 15 series. Not since 1922 have the Giants beaten the Yanks, who hold a 5-2 edge in their private rivalry that used to be a "subway series" but now means a coast-to-coast jet run.

Saints Meet Welshmen

Saint Dunstan's Jayvees and Prince of Wales Welshmen tangle this afternoon in a football tussle at SDU field with action starting at 4 o'clock.

This is the first in a best-of-three series for the Prince Edward Island intermediate championship. Saints have won the crown for the past couple of years but the city collegians are expected to be favorites in this 1962 set. Welshmen have a couple of games under their belts and although beaten by St. Thomas College and UNB Jayvees in these, it still has given the PWC boys the experience they were needing.

Saints, under coach Jack Kane, will have a great many new faces on their lineup and it could well be that Kane will present some rather interesting talent.

Both colleges will have their full cheering sections on hand for this encounter.

Game time again is 4 o'clock.

Coach Dark Didn't Think Alou Could Have Made It

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"No, I don't think Matty could have made it home on Willie Mays' double in the ninth. He would have been out."

Manager Alvin Dark thus echoed the sentiments of the Giants that Matty Alou couldn't have scored from first on Mays' hit in the ninth inning as San Francisco lost 1-0 to New York Yankees in Tuesday's finale of the World Series.

"That's the hardest line drive a guy can hit," Dark added of Willie McCovey's shot to second baseman Bobby Richardson that ended the game.

Asked how he felt, the Giants manager declared:

"I feel like this club had a great year. I'm as proud of them as I can be of them. They played just great."

National League president Warren Giles came into Dark's office to say, "Alvin, you gave our league great representation, you and your Giants. We could not have asked for better."

The Giants dressed quietly and answered questions calmly.

SANFORD GLUM

Losing pitcher Jack Sanford sat glumly. Asked if he were missing with fast balls when he walked pitcher Ralph Terry in the fifth, leading to the Yankees' run, he snapped, "certainly I was, why do you think I walked him?"

Sanford had struck out Terry six of seven times he had faced him previously but the walk filled the bases and the run scored as the Giants executed a double play.

Third base coach Whitey Lockman said he held up Matty Alou in the ninth, "because in my opinion, he couldn't have made it."

Matty agreed, saying "I think I would have been out."

Alou was on first base when Mays rifled a double to the right field corner. Roger Maris, the Yankee right fielder, made a quick recovery and fired the ball to the infield—and Alou stopped at third. McCovey lined out to end the game two pitches later.

WAS TOO EARLY

Shortstop Jose Pagan, who started the double play in the fifth for the first two outs, said he didn't throw home for the force "because the fifth inning is too early. If it had been the eighth or ninth, I would have thrown home."

After Tony Kubek bounced into the twin killing with the run scoring, Richardson fouled out to end the inning.

Dark felt Tom Tresh's spectacular catch of Mays' drive to the left field corner in the seventh had to be one of the key plays. McCovey followed with a triple that was wasted.

"He saved them a run, of course," Dark said, but you don't know how it influenced the outcome. I've never seen such an even pair of clubs in the World Series."

Asked if on second guess he would have done anything different in this game, Dark replied, "you do something in a ball game, you do it for a reason. I wouldn't do anything different.

"Wait until next year."

SERIES FACTS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

	W	L	Pct.
New York (AL)	4	3	.571
San Fran. (NL)	3	4	.429

First game, Thursday, Oct. 4:

New York 200 000 121 - 6 11 0
San Fran. 011 000 000 - 2 10 0

Ford and Howard; O'Dell, Larsen (8) Miller (9) and Bailey, Orsino (9). W—Ford (1-0). L—O'Dell (0-1). HR—NYk—Boyer (1)

Second game, Friday, Oct. 5:

New York 000 000 000 - 0 3 1
San Fran. 100 000 10x - 2 6 0

Terry, Daley (8) and Berra; Sanford and Haller. W—Sanford (1-0) L—Terry (0-1). HR: SF—McCovey (1).

Third game, Sunday Oct. 7:

San Fran. 000 000 002 - 2 4 3
New York 000 000 30x - 3 5 1

Pierce, Larsen (7) Bolin (8) and Bailey; Stafford and Howard. W — Stafford (1-0) L—Pierce (0-1). HR: SF—Bailey (1).

Fourth game, Monday, Oct. 8:

San Fran. 020 000 401 - 7 9 1
New York 000 002 001 - 3 9 1

Marichal, Bolin (5) Larsen (6) O'Dell (7) and Haller; Ford, Coates (7) Bridges (7) and Howard. W—Larsen (1-0) L—Coates (0-1-. HRs: SF—Hiller (1), Haller (1).

Fifth game, Wednesday, Oct. 10:

San Fran. 001 010 001 - 3 8 2
New York 000 101 03x - 5 6 0

Sanford, Miller (8) and Haller; Terry and Howard. W—Terry (1-1). L—Sanford (1-1). HRs: SF—Pagan (1). NYk—Tresh (1).

Sixth game, Monday, Oct. 15:

New York 000 010 010 - 2 3 2
San Fran. 000 320 00x - 5 10 1

Ford, Coates (5) Bridges (8) and Howard; Pierce and Bailey. W—Pierce (1-1). L—Ford (1-1). HR: NYk—Maris (1).

Seventh game, Tuesday, Oct. 16:

New York 000 010 000 - 1 7 0
San Fran. 000 000 000 - 0 4 1

Terry and Howard; Sanford, O'Dell (8) and Haller. W—Terry (2-1). L—Sanford (1-2).

Financial Figures

Seventh Game

Attendance—43,948.
Net receipts—$356,545.04
Commissioner's share — $53,-481.76
National League's share—$75,765.82
American League's share—$75,765.82
San Francisco club's share—$75,765.82
New York club's share—$75,-765.82

Seven Game Totals

Attendance—376,864
Net receipts—$2,878,891.22
Commissioner's share—$431,-833.66
Players' share — (first four games only)—$863,281.71
National League's share—$395,943.93
American League's share—$395,943.93
San Francisco club's share—$395,943.94
New York club's share—$395,-943.96.

Carry Back, Kelso Won't Meet Sat.

NEW YORK (AP)—Kelso and Carry Back will not meet Saturday at Belmont Park in the $100,000 added jockey club Gold Cup, so their scrap for 1962 horse-of-the-year honors must be deferred for another day.

Jack Price, who trains Carry Back, said today that "after thinking it over, I don't believe it would be fair to the horse to subject him to such a hard race of two miles so soon after he got off the plane from France."

Kelso, owned by the Bohemia Stable of Mrs. Richard C. du Pont, will be shooting for an unprecedented third straight victory in the two-mile Gold Cup.

The 1960 and 1961 American champion, now a five-year-old whipped Don Poggio and Bald Eagle in the 1960 Gold Cup, and last year turned back Hillsborough and Peace Isle.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

The Smart Move

CHARLOTTETOWN intermediates who captured the provincial urban baseball championship in the long, long ago decided last weekend to quit the Maritime playdowns.

We commend those responsible for such a move and it may indeed wake up these folks who are trying to run or ruin the Maritime Baseball Association. The way things have been going as regards to dates is surely ridiculous and action such as the locals have taken could possibly bring about a change for the better.

It has been a mystery to us why these playdowns are left so long. We certainly don't think that extending regular schedules means much to anyone with ball clubs in these seaside provinces Things, however, have been allowed to drag on and on. Football and hockey are going full blast before the baseball season is over. Weather has become too cold to even hold practices and teams such as the Charlottetown outfit are just left hanging in thin air.

Surely there must be a better way to run Maritime baseball. It looks as though the present moguls desire to see things all messed up. Deadlines were made and all were broken. Teams were allowed to extend the length of their playoffs while other teams waited impatiently on the sidelines. As usual they went right into the world series time and if they are not careful, they'll collide with Grey Cup day.

If more teams showed their disapproval in the way the locals did then there'd be a chance for a change. The Maritime intermediate urban winner this season will have a hollow victory knowing that one of the provinces never got a chance in the playoffs.

Surely the farce made of things this season will serve as a lesson to those handling the reins of office next year. Probably there'll be a honest effort made to conduct the baseball playoffs in the baseball season. Then and only then will there be any sense to this baseball picture.

Ticats Go Wild

THINGS brightened considerably for Hamilton Tiger-Cats Monday night when their new quarterback ace, Joe Zuger, went wild against Saskatchewan Rough Riders.

Joe was recently acquired when Bernie Faloney was injured and after that showing Monday night Zuger might make the fans forget about the brilliant Bernie. He broke all records Monday with eight touchdown passes. That was one better than Toronto's Tobin Rote threw against Montreal Alouettes in 1960.

Prior to Monday's game, the word was the Hamilton Tiger-Cats were finished now that Faloney would miss the playoffs. Most of the would-be-experts were not giving them a chance at all to get into the Grey Cup classic.

Now things have changed in a real hurry and once again the Tiger-Cats must be considered a real threat for the Big Four championship. If Zuger could perform this way against Saskatchewan, then he will surely cause all the eastern clubs plenty of grief.

The former Arizona State star appears to be just the medicine for distressed Jim Trimble and it's going to be mighty interesting to see how far Zuger can take the Hamilton club. Some are openly predicting that he can lead them to the Grey Cup but that's asking a whole lot. However, if he keeps throwing with any of the accuracy of the other night, then the Grey Cup might indeed find itself coming back to the city of steel.

Of course, nobody has conceded anything in the Big Four yet. Argos think they still can make it, Alouettes feel elated over their decisive triumph in Toronto and Ottawa and Hamilton have their own blessings to count.

One thing is sure and that is that Mr. Zuger will receive plenty of attention the rest of the season. His touchdown passes will take quite a dip from here on.

The Season Ends

HARNESS racing concluded its 1962 season at Charlottetown Driving Park Monday night. It was the 50th race program staged at the CDP and it brought the curtain down on an interesting season. Although the weather was the worst in years, somehow they did manage to race 50 times.

We'll have more race data at a later date.

Terry Thankful For 2nd Chance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Thank God for the second opportunity. Seldom does a man get a second chance. I'll be eternally grateful."

Ralph Terry's hazel eyes welled up and his voice choked as he spoke with deep feeling of his brilliant four-hit 1-0 World Series triumph over San Francisco Giants Tuesday which brought another World Series championship to New York Yankees.

"I'm the luckiest man in the country," said the 26-year-old right hander. "This was to be the greatest game I have ever pitched. More than that, this is a personal triumph for me. It wipes away two years of worry, two years of doubt."

The reference was obvious to most of the reporters crowding around the good-looking, slender Oklahoman. Terry has never forgotten his "goat" role in the 1960 World Series. It was he who threw a home run ball to Bill Mazeroski in the ninth inning of the final game that gave Pittsburgh Pirates the series.

TRIED TO FORGET

"I've tried to forget it, but people just wouldn't let me," he said. "People were always reminding me of it.

"Only this morning I got a anonymous letter from a fan in Pittsburgh. He reminded me of that home run ball I threw to Mazeroski and said he was looking for me to throw another one like it today."

The slender, frail - looking pitcher was magnificent as he mowed down the first 17 batters to face him. It was not until Jack Sanford, his rival moundsman, singled with two out in the sixth that he allowed a Giant runner to reach base.

"I was aware I had a perfect game going for me," Terry said. "In fact, I even got to thinking, in the back of my mind, of Don Larsen's perfect World Series game a few years back

"But I tried not to think too much about it. When I came out to pitch the sixth inning, I said to myself, 'forget the no-hitter. Keep your mind on the game. The game's the thing.'"

Terry credited his fast ball and slider with keeping the heavy Giant hitters at bay through most of the game. It was not until the ninth that the Giants were able to threaten seriously. In that inning, the Giants had runners on second and third with two out when Willie McCovey drove a liner right into the glove of second baseman Bobby Richardson to end the game.

BOX SCORE

New York	AB	R	H	RBI	PO	A
Kubek ss	4	0	1	0	1	0
Rich'son 2b	2	0	0	0	3	0
Tresh lf	4	0	1	0	6	0
Mantle cf	3	0	1	0	3	0
Maris rf	4	0	0	0	0	0
Howard c	4	0	0	0	5	0
Skowron 1b	4	1	1	0	6	0
Boyer 3b	4	0	2	0	2	2
Terry p	3	0	1	0	1	1
Totals	32	1	7	0	27	3

San Fran	AB	R	H	RBI	PO	A
F. Alou rf	4	0	0	0	1	0
Hiller 2b	4	0	0	0	1	3
Mays cf	4	0	1	0	1	0
McCovey lf	4	0	1	0	3	0
Cepeda 1b	3	0	0	0	12	0
Haller c	3	0	0	0	5	0
Davenport 3b	3	0	0	0	3	4
Pagan ss	2	0	0	0	1	2
aBailey	1	0	0	0	0	0
Bowman ss	0	0	0	0	0	1
Sanford p	2	0	1	0	0	1
O'Dell p	0	0	0	0	0	0
bM. Alou	1	0	1	0	0	0
Totals	31	0	4	0	27	11

aFouled out for Pagan in 8th.
bSingled for O'Dell in 9th.

New York 000 010 000 - 1
San Fran 000 000 000 - 0

E-Pagan. Dp - Pagan, Hiller and Cepeda; Davenport and Cepeda. LoB-New York (A) 8, San Francisco (N) 4. 2b-Mays. 3b-McCovey.

	IP	H	R	ER
Terry (w)	9	4	0	0
Sanford (l)	7	7	1	1
O'Dell	2	0	0	0

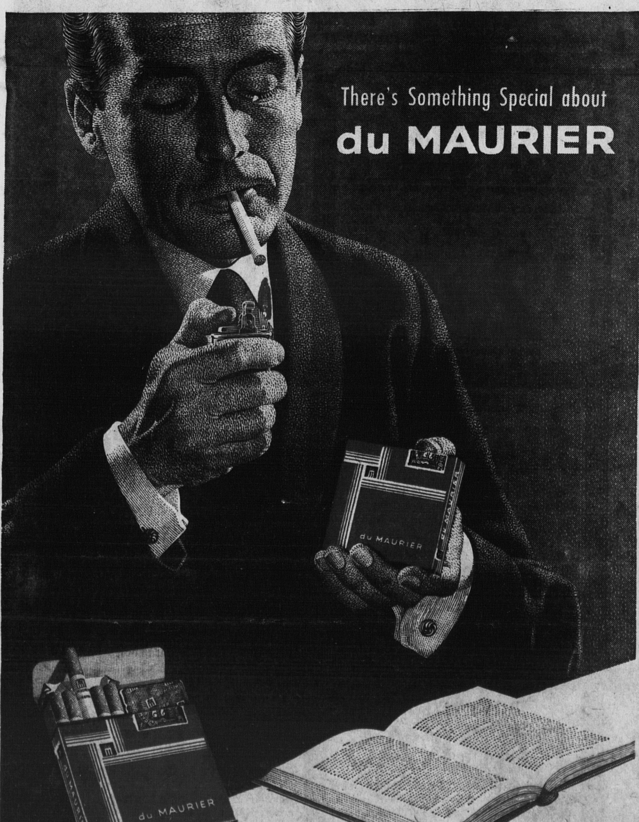
xFaced three batters in 8th.

BB-Sanford 4 (Richardson 2, Terry, Mantle). SO-Terry 4 (Cepeda 2, F Alou, Hiller). Sanford 3 (Terry, Mantle, Howard), O'Dell 1 (Terry). U-Landes (N) plate, Honochick (A) first base, Barlick (N) second base, Berry (A) third base, Burkhart (N) left field, Soar (A) right field. T-2:29. A-43,948.

VISIT ITALY

Among tourists visiting Italy in 1962 were 137,000 Norwegians a 32 per cent increase over 1961.

Additional Sport Page 16



• most effective filter tip yet developed
• choicest, extra mild Virginia tobaccos
• rich flavour, exceptional smoothness
• firmly packed for longer-lasting smoking pleasure
du MAURIER
A Really Milder High Grade Virginia Cigarette with the EXCLUSIVE "Millecel" SUPER FILTER
a product of Peter Jackson Tobacco Limited — makers of fine cigarettes

H. T. JAMES
PLUMBING & HEATING
DIAL 4-9868

NO OIL SHORTAGE:
Automatic refills protect you from running out of heating oil
LET US KEEP TRACK of your fuel supply for you.
No more running out. No more last-minute calls for oil.
Everything is automatic. We compute your rate of fuel consumption based on the weather. Using the degree-day method, we can accurately predict how much oil you will use and when you will need more.
When time comes for more, our truck appears at your home—well before you run low. No need to phone. No bother. We handle everything for you.
There is no charge for this special service. And you'll be getting Shell Heating Oil for top burner performance. Call us today for details.
SHELL
J. W. SKINNER
Shell Agent for Charlottetown and Charlottetown East.
Kensington Road
Dial 4-4044

"Old at 40,50,60?" Man, Get Wise! Pep Up
Thousands are peppy at 70! So, if you feel weak, low in energy, "old" at 40, 50 or 60, quit blaming it on age. If you want to feel younger, try Ostrex Tonic Tablets at once. Also for debility due to rundown body's lack of iron, the "below-par" feelings you may call "being old". Puts pep in both sexes. Try Ostrex—feel peppy, younger, 3-day "get-acquainted" size only 69¢. All druggists.