An Enquiry.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR—I have seen it stated that in ordinary years the imports of flour into this Island are paid for by the eggs exported. Can you tell me if this statement is correct?

ENQUIRER.

Oct. 24, 1878.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—On behalf of many leading men in this County, I have to thank you for quotations lately given in your Daily from European and other markets. The writer knows a number who are now going to become "pay in advance subscribers," from the fact of your notice of Liverpool markets in yesterday's issue. It is a want long felt by our Island people, who are kept in the dark on this most important matter.

It is cheering to learn that oats have taken a slight rise in Charlottetown, and it would be well if our oat traders would put the oats at once to what they can fairly pay and leave sufficient margin for profits. It is a great mistake to keep advancing slowly and only come up to a big figure at the end of the shipping season. It affects both sellers and buyers alike; as those who can will hold on to their grain, and it often happens that those engaged in buying are at the last moment obliged to pay more than the real value in order to complete several cargoes in different places, and thereby make losses, which is not the wish of anyone. Our traders should endeavor to establish the trade for the time to come in the interest of all. Give what they can, and give no more. But do so at all times alike.

If possible our Island press should at this particular time bring to the notice of the European traders that our Island can now, and would gladly sell hundreds of cargoes of potatoes (early rose) at from twenty-two to twenty-five cents per bushel. Such facts can soon be made known in all parts of Europe, should the press generally announce the same, whilst very many of our people would rather read such matter in the press just now than to be treated weekly to some uncalled for political tirade, which cannot possibly produce any good, now or in the future.

The writer is pleased to know from actual knowledge that ere long you will be called upon to add largely to your subscription list, as the farmers of this Island are fast learning how and by what means they, as a class, and the Island generally, may be benefited. In future, the newspaper that is best deserving will only be taken. Economy is the watchword, but let us know how to effect it.

Yours, &c.,

A FARMER.

The Imperial Alliance.

The correspondent of the London Standard at Dresden in writing of the dissolution of the Three Emperors' Alliance relates something as to its origin. When, after the victorious issue of the French campaign, the Emperor Francis Joseph announced his intention to come to Berlin, and, by a personal visit, make up for his delinquency in joining an anti-German league previous to the outbreak of the war, the Czar Alexander, fearing his Austrian friend might be induced to enter into close relations with his Prussian friend, likewise invited himself to the Royal interview at the German metropolis. As the Czar's visit could not well be declined, Alexander II. incontinently appeared upon the spot and by offering the right hand of friendship to Francis Joseph prevented the latter allying himself to his late rival of Berlin. Francis Joseph in those days accounting himself weaker than either Alexander or William, by balancing between the two, hoped to add to his independence. Thus Russia was eventually encouraged to venture upon the Turkish war; and thus Austria, finding herself injured by Russia, not by Germany, was ultimately induced to desert the former and join the latter, which was represented by the former as Austria's evil spirit and foe. Those sufficiently conversant with matters diplomatic to imagine the disappointment of Bismarck on finding Alexander at Berlin, when he only expected to see Francis Joseph, will be able to realize the satisfaction with which he is now turning the tables upon his Muscovite friends. The Three Emperors' Alliance has never been an alliance of the three Cabinets.

ALONG THE WHARVES.—A large fleet of small schooners from Nova Scotia and Newfoundland appeared in port on Monday morning for cargoes. Through the day many of them left for neighboring shipping places to secure freights. A number went to Montague, others to Cardigan, Grand River, Sturgeon, St. Mary's Bay, Mink River, and some remained here. One schooner is loading at St. Andrew's Point, and another at Aitken's wharf. We learn that some schooners are loading at Murray Harbor South and Murray River Bridge. The price paid for potatoes ranges from 20 to 22 cents per bushel. So far as we can learn there is very little grain shipped from the surroundings, and the price still continues from 32 to 34 cents per bushel, without much demand, although the shipping season is pretty well advanced.—K. C. Advertiser.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Emperor of China announces the discovery of perpetual motion.

Four thousand eight hundred and thirty-five emigrants landed at New York last week.

A South African digger recently turned up a diamond which he sold on the spot for $35,000.

Official returns in California show the vote on Chinese immigration, in favor 880; against, 154,000.

Will Sir Francis Hincks lose his pension of £1,000 from the Imperial Government as a result of his conviction?

A sarcastic English writer says "that American women are the most beautiful in the world, and also the most useless."

The brigand Gasparoni, formerly the terror of Italy, died recently in a poor house at Abbiategrosso, Lombardy, aged 90.

Now man doth say with feelings blue,
'E'en be he plumber, clerk or printer,
'Will that there overcoat put me through Next winter?"

A gentleman who was asked for his marriage certificate quietly took his hat off and pointed to a bald spot. The evidence was conclusive.

The London Society of Arts intends awarding a gold medal for the discovery of the best means of protecting ships from fire and from sinking.

The Prussian budget for the ensuing fiscal year shows a deficit of $10,500,000. Prussia's contribution to the exchequer of the German Empire is estimated at $5,500,000.

"I have searched for truth, and nowhere could I find it, not even in myself, therefore I die." This singular note was found on the body of a Russian nobleman who recently committed suicide with a pistol.

The rich Englishman, Thomas Holloway, is erecting at his own expense an institution for the higher education of girls. The building alone, which has been begun, is to cost $1,385,000; it is 410 feet in length.

Dr. Grantham Munton Yorke, Dean of Worcester, fell dead almost at the door of the cathedral ten days ago just as the choir were singing "I will lay me down in peace and take my rest, for it is Thou, Lord, only that makest me dwell in safety."

An editor having read in another paper that there is a tobacco, which, if a man smoke or chew it, "will make him forget that he owes a dollar in the world," innocently concludes that many of his subscribers have been furnished with the article.

An increased demand for tonnage is a gratifying feature of the shipping trade. At Quebec there is more freight than can be carried by the vessels in port, and accordingly freights have advanced. A similar report comes from Montreal. The lake trade has also signs of improvement. Sailors are, moreover, receiving higher wages. Although this better condition of shipping affairs has taken place at so late a period of the season of navigation, it is nevertheless encouraging, and will stimulate confidence in our lake trade next season. To the people of the Maritime Provinces the advance of ocean freights will not be an unexpected boon.

The Mail in a leader on the Government and the Opposition, referring to Sir John A. Macdonald and some of his colleagues at the Quebec banquet, says:—"They had no abstract trade problem between Adam Smith on the one hand, and Henry Carey on the other, to serve, but they could point to the returning prosperity of the country, and to the general content that reigns within its borders, in proof of the soundness of their policy, and as a guarantee of the correctness of their judgment;" and concludes:—"On the whole, Ministers may, without uncharitableness, compare their position favorably with that of the leaders of the Opposition, who, just now at least, have neither a sufficient excuse for their appearance before a popular audience nor even a raison d'être."

The barn of Mr. Daniel McKinnon, of Murray Harbor North, was destroyed by fire on Thursday last, together with all its contents, consisting of a large and valuable crop and farming implements. The fire originated from matches in the hands of young children. It is a bitter lesson, and should warn others against leaving these destructive agents in the way of thoughtless children.—K. C. Advertiser.
