ICT announces four-play festival

Island Community Theatre Inc., is pleased to announce a Community Theatre Festival April 11-14 at the MacKenzie Building in Charlottetown. It's being jointly sponsored by I.C.T. and the theatre department at Confederation Centre.

As a result of the success of last year's festival of full-length and one-act plays, I.C.T. has decided to go ahead with another. This year the entries are all full length plays. Four groups will represent Island communities from Prince and Queens Counties. There is no Kings County group attending.

The Island Theatre Guild opens the festival with the well known comedy Arsenic and Old Lace by Joseph Kesselring followed by the Trinity Players on Thurs., April 12 with They Went Thataway. The U.P.E.I. Theatre Society is seen on Friday April 13 in Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead by Tom Stoppard and the final entry is Maid to Order by the Lot 16 group on Saturday April 14.

All shows start at 8:00 and tickets are available at the door only. A book of tickets admits you to all the shows for $10. Single tickets are $3.50 for adults, $3.00 for senior citizens and students. Get out and see what drama groups are doing. Your attendance at the event will help encourage and nurture community theatre on P.E.I.
