With a convention called to decide upon the claims of rival candidates, what do fair-minded Liberals think of the course of the Patriot in permitting slanderous attacks in its columns day after day upon one of them while the right of reply is refused? In this Liberal fair play? The Patriot not only refuses fair play in its own columns to Mr. Haszard but would if it could also have him and his friends shut out of other newspapers as well.

The Prince Albert Advocate of Sept 23rd says: It is our painful duty this week to record the death of Mrs. S. McLeod, which occurred at her home on Second Street this morning at one o'clock. Although not unexpected, death came as a great shock to her husband and family, robbing them of a loving and tender wife and mother, and leaving a void which cannot be filled. The bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their heavy affliction. The funeral will take place on Wednesday, 25th inst., from her late residence to the Presbyterian church thence to the public cemetery. Elizabeth Ann McLeod was born May 10th, 1857, at Springfield, Lot 67, P. E. I., being the fourth daughter of Mr. John Biggar. She lived at the old homestead until the time of her marriage to Mr. McLeod, in February, 1874, remaining on the Island with her husband 1881 when they came west locating in Winnipeg where they remained a couple of years. In the summer of 1883, she, with her husband and family came west and settled in Prince Albert, where she has resided ever since, proving all the while a kind and willing companion and helpmate to her husband, who built up a successful business here. In her husband's public life, too, she always took the same keen interest, and always proved a wise confidant. She enjoyed robust health until two or three years ago, when the first symptoms of the fatal malady manifested itself, at first at long intervals gradually shortening, until the final attack some six weeks ago, which laid her on her death bed. The immediate cause of her death was vavular disease of the heart, causing severe hemorrhage. Some few months ago, realizing her serious condition, the household furnishings were disposed of, and a trip to California, accompanied by Mr. McLeod, for the benefit of her health, decided on. But fate willed it otherwise. Deceased always displayed a kindly Christian disposition, and freely distributed charity to the needy. She enjoyed a large circle of acquaintances and was beloved by all with whom she came in contact. She was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church, in the works of which institution she always took a leading part. She was also one of the most active members of Rupert Council R. T. of T., and many were her good offices in the cause of temperance, to which she was devoted. Four children were born of the union, three boys and a girl. The boys, John, Fred. and Willie grew up to manhood, the youngest, Willie, attaining his majority a few days ago. The daughter Elizabeth, died at the age of four months. Mrs. McLeod's life was one of good deeds, gentlessness and comfort to those in sorrow, and her kindly acts will live long after her. She died happy in the conviction that duty had been done, and nothing was left for regret at the parting
