Eight children of George Lynch, living at Hinkley, Texas, were murdered, at midnight, by an unknown party. Lynch, the father, was awakened by a pistol shot striking him in the breast. He sprang up and saw a masked man standing in the middle of the room. Another shot was fired and Lynch fell unconscious. When he recovered he found himself in a lane outside of the premises. The assassin, thinking Lynch dead, seized a hatchet and put all witnesses out of the way, then set fire to the house. The distracted father saw the house burn and fall in on the bodies of his children. Lynch, it is thought, will recover. Suspicion rests upon a young man named Boatware, with whom Lynch had trouble.

A Farmer on the Victory.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Hurrah for Pope and Brecken! Hurrah for a change of ministry! And a big grand hurrah for Canada's emancipation from the misrule of the incapables, the "mixers and muddlers" and revenue absorbers of the past.

It is most amusing to see the present band of officials, both Dominion and local, bracing themselves up for the future. Many of them, up to this time, were loyal and true. But alas the cause of their loyalty has flown—yes, gone not to return again. Hence their passive salutations and their general backing down. They now say they did their duty only, as privileged, and are now believers in Sir John's policy. They freely admit that in Sir John's ranks are to be found the ablest men; and many have been heard to say this day that Queen's County acted wisely in choosing two representatives either of which can (and one surely will) fill a Ministerial chair, with honor to themselves and profit to this Island generally. Yes, fellow electors of P. E. Island, we all have great cause for true rejoicement this day on the result of yesterday's test, and I don't see why Messrs. Sinclair, McGill, and their scanty number of friends don't join with us in rejoicing.

In conclusion, allow me to say that we must get rid of our local Government without any further delay, and get in its stead men who will look after our interest. Surely L. H. Davies, Esq., will not any longer continue to hold on to power, which is not in justice his, by any right or mode of reasoning whatever, nor can he do so, only against the wish of four-fifths of the farmers of this Island.
Yours, &c.,
A FARMER.

Springton, Sept. 18, 1878.

A pretty story is told of Admiral Sir Edward Inglefield, now commander of the North American squadron, to the effect that when a young officer he had the luck on one occasion to be particularly handy in assisting Her Majesty down a ship-ladder. The Queen took a fancy to the young fellow, inquired his name, and then said: "You have helped me down the ladder; I must try and help you up it. If you need my special aid let me know." Years went by, and the admiral was too smart an officer to need adventitious assistance, but at length he found himself in a hobble, since, under certain admiralty regulations, he would be compelled, in the ordinary course of events, to accept a rank which probably would practically "shelve" him. At this juncture he found means to remind the Queen of the ladder episode. Her Majesty, who never forgets her friends or their faces, was as good as her word, and the admiral, by being sent out to Washington as naval attache, contrived, under the limitation exempting from the rule officers on special service, to gain his desired object.

Sitting Bull has crossed the lines in full war gear, being at present in the vicinity of Fort Benton. Although it is said his men are fully armed and equipped, it is to be hoped they will make no hostile demonstrations; for in that event Canada could no longer shelter them. It may be that the Chieftain is acting in this manner with a view the better to obtain a satisfactory settlement with the United States, who now appear to be adopting a policy that may tend to Indian pacification, if only loyally carried out.

STATISTICS of vessels reported lost during the month of July, 1878.—Sailing vessels: 26 English, 15 American, 6 Norwegian, 4 French, 3 German, 3 Italian, 2 Russian, 1 Bolivian, 1 Danish, 1 Spanish, 1 Greek, 1 Dutch, 1 Portuguese, 5 of which the nationality is unknown; total, 70. In this number are included 4 vessels reported missing. Steamers—9 English, 1 American, 1 Mexican; total, 11. In this number are included 2 steamers reported missing.

Much interest is manifested at Washington in the arrival of the Chinese Legation who are expected there about the 20th of this month. It is reported that in addition to a modification of the Treaty of Commerce it will be claimed under the provisions of the Burlingame Treaty that they should be as effectually protected as American citizens in China.

The Emperor William left Gastein on Saturday. His cure has surpassed all expectation. Prince Bismarck has started for Berlin. The Emperor William arrived at Cassels yesterday in good health and proceeded to Wilhelmshohe. He was enthusiastically cheered on the way. His Majesty is said to be desirous of resuming the reins of government next month.

As General Butler was walking down Somerset street, Boston, the other day, a horny-handed son of toil slapped him roundly on the shoulder and cried, "How're ye, gunner?" but the General resented the familiarity by hitting the man with his cane.
