

Suffering caused by Piles

Is Quickly Ended when
Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is applied

Besides the intense agony caused by the itching, burning sensations of piles, there are other symptoms which produce restlessness and at times excruciating pains known only to the victim of piles.
What would one give to be free of this terrible disease? And yet there is a cure—a positive cure—which does not cost much and is not painful or difficult to apply.
Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is, so far as is known, the only absolute cure for blind, itching, bleeding and protruding piles. It gives relief at the first application and affords a perfect cure in the most aggravated cases.
Mr. Isaac Foster, Enewick, Ont., says: "I was troubled with itching piles for two years and could not sleep at night. I was half-crazed and tried everything. Finally seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised I tried it and found it good. After a second application I found relief, and one large box cured me. Have never been bothered since, and I can recommend it to all suffering from the same trouble."
Dr. Chase's Ointment is for sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto

For The Children

Her Awful Dream.

EXAMINATION.

A little maid of tender years Had such an awful dream! She came to me almost in tears—"I just was going to scream.

"When both my eyes came open wide, And oh, I was so glad To find it was a dream," she cried, "Because it was so bad."

"What could it be poor child?" I said: "Were you pursued by bears? Perhaps your dolly broke her head, Or did you fall down stairs?"

"Oh dear! It's most too bad to tell! You know in school our class Are havin' zamination. Well, I dreamt I didn't pass!"

A Meat Eating Plan.

"Now, children, I am going to show you a few curious experiments with the Sundew, I believe were first tried by a celebrated named Francis Darwin. On this plate I have a pill box full of fine gravel, another filled with finely chopped raw meat, the third holds raw white of egg, and this one has in it small chips of wood. Now, Eva, take a very small pinch of sand, sprinkle a few grains on this leaf and tell me what you see. Don't push children. There is plenty of room for everyone, as I said before. I will sprinkle some on a second plant, so you can divide it up into two parties. Tommy, stand by me. I know there are seven, but I count as one, so now there are four at each pot. Well, what do you see?" A feeble chorus of "nothing, oh nothing," did not depress uncle Grim. "Look again. I take a different leaf on each plant and I drop a little white of egg from the blade of my knife. Now watch." "Oh!" "Ah!" "It's shutting up!" "It's eating it!" were the cries, after a minute or so. "Quite right. You see we cannot cheat this plant. It knows what suits it and what does not, and it is neither so ignorant nor foolish as to eat gravel which it could not possibly digest. Now I offer a third leaf on each plant a chip of wood, and you see they both again refuse to have anything do do with it; and last of all, see how these same leaves which refused not a moment ago the chips of wood, now close tightly over the pieces of meat."—Cassell's Little Folks.

How Do They Grow?

This is only a blade of grass: But how does it grow? Does anyone know?

The seasons come and the seasons pass, And with every year we have the grass here,

So green and bright in the sun and rain; And then it is brown when the snow comes down,

But young and fresh in the spring again.

This is only a little girl; But how does she grow? Does anyone know?

With her hair of gold and her teeth of pearl, From a maiden so wee she will grow to be

A maiden as fair as a blooming rose; But no one can say as day follows day, How a blade of grass or a little girl grows

A Little Lad's Answer.

Our little lad came in one day With dusty shoes and tired feet; His play-time had been hard and long, Out in the summer's noontide heat.

"I'm glad I'm home," he cried and hung His torn straw hat up in the hall, While, in the corner by the door,

Pussy's Mid-air Victory.

A cat belonging to a farmer of Herrick, Pa., was strolling out toward the barn carrying in her teeth a piece of meat for her young. A bald eagle, which had been hovering about, suddenly descended upon her and whirled her upward in a rapid vertical flight.

The path of ascent was clearly indicated by loose feathers violently tossed from the point of combat. After a time the struggling pair came to a standstill in the sky. The eagle's wings had drooped now and then, and he had given plain evidence of pain and terror, yet not once had his awful grip appeared to relax. At length a descent was begun, with a rapidity which increased every moment and the two animals struck the ground at the point where they had at first encountered each other but the eagle was dead, and the cat as soon as she felt the earth beneath her feet, shot away for the barn, still carrying her bit of meat.

Investigation proved that the cat had cut the eagle's throat and so lacerated its breast that its body was literally laid open. After the death in mid-air, however, the cat had been too clever to relax her hold and thus fall to the ground, but had let her enemy serve as a parachute to ease her descent.

The dead-letter office sustained by our government is not the only one. Death runs a dead-letter office, to which are consigned thousands of intended letters that the would-be writers never wrote because of premature death, as a result of their own reckless disregard of health. There are letters of love and hate, affection and fury, pleading and forgiveness and borrowing and lending. Letters to sweethearts and rivals, husbands and wives, and sons and daughters. They never reach their destination, for they were never written. Death stamps them "only intended"—and the world is full of tears.

The man who wants to live to realize hopes and ambitions, to do deeds good or bad, to carry out cherished intentions, must pay some attention to health. # No Mystery

The Sherwin-Williams Paints are not patent paints, nor chemical paints, but pure white lead and zinc and oil and drier and color and nothing else. These make honest paints that cover most and best, and wear longest.

There is a reason why these are the best paints. This reason is not a secret nor a mystery. It is because by hard study, hard work and patient improvement for thirty years we have made the best paints that can be made—

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS

The prejudice which many sensible people have against ready-mixed paints is due to the number of inferior mixtures sold in cans. No one doubts to-day that paint can be made with the latest scientific appliances better than can be mixed from the raw materials by hand-work and guess-work. The moral is plain. Buy ready-mixed paints in which you have absolute confidence. The paints with the best reputation. The Sherwin-Williams Paints. Send for booklet "Paint Points." Free.
