Mr. G. Walters General Chairman Of Y Campaign

George A. Walters, well-known local theatre manager has been named as general chairman for the Y. M. C. A. annual maintenance campaign which will open a special name drive during the week of Feb. 27 to March 3rd. It was announced yesterday by Arthur Duvar, Y. president.

Dealing with the cast of characters Miss Stirling said that Peter Shama as Felix Ducolet and Marjorie Ranahan, as Emille, his wife, acted as a friendly and attractive couple. Margaret Collings as Madame Parole played her part well but with a tendency to drop her voice at times.

Joseph Jules and Alfred, the three "Angels" as played by Art MacLean, Ivan Dowling and Roger Gardham, gave each personality in his part. Art MacLean was particularly effective in dealing with his forging the books of the establishment and Roger Gardham played his part well in proving a convict capable of sentiment. The adjudicator found Ivan Dowling in his part "a very ge-

Damage Action In Bus Accident

Problems relating to control of the turnip root maggot were discussed at an agricultural meeting held last night in Pownal Hall. Mr. Winston Smith acting with Mr. I.L. Tuplin chaired a panel, the members of which were: Dean Read, Science Service Laboratory; Ian Rankine, Island Fertilizer Co.; Robert Farquerson, Canada Packers; William Drake, farmer, Hazelbrook; Bruce Jones and Arthur Moore, farmers from Pownal.

Mr. Read who has done extensive research on the turnip maggot recommended the application of Heptachlor or Aldrin which he said should be applied at the rate of five lbs. per acre in a five inch band about one and a half inches below the seed in the drill.

HEPTACHLOR BETTER — In a review of the results from the past experiments carried out, Mr. Read said that Heptachlor gave a 93 per cent control as compared to 80 per cent control by Aldrin. At the same time he noted that surface applications of Heptachlor at five lbs. per acre gave between 80-90 per cent control when applied about ten days after thinning. Indications are that when a fertilizer-Aldrin mixture is applied broadcast, the chemical is so diluted that it becomes ineffective. Experimental work carried on in Eastern Canada has shown no

N.S. CCF Leader Urges Compulsory Auto Insurance

By DON HOFF Canadian Press Staff Writer HALIFAX (CP) — CCF leader Michael McDonald Thursday called for widespread social legislation and compulsory automobile insurance as he resumed the throne speech debate in the Nova Scotia legislature.

Mr. McDonald, speaking on the third day of the 1956 session, advocated a national pension scheme reconsideration of the proposed national benefits plan to provide greater benefits, and inclusion of illegitimate children in proposed government legislation to provide for families of wage earners in prison.

The CCF spokesman urged Nova Scotia's Liberal government to introduce a car insurance scheme similar to that in Saskatchewan which provided "the most extensive coverage available on this continent."

Mr. McDonald said the closest thing in Nova Scotia to the western province's compulsory passage policy, with a maximum premium of $30 is a $61.40 plan covering only public liability and property damage, fire and theft and with a $250 deductible clause for collision.

First Play Presented In Regional Drama Festival

"The play was extremely enjoyable," Miss Pamela Stirling, Regional Adjudicator said last night in her observations following the presentation of "My Three Angels" by The Little Theatre Guild of Charlottetown in the Auditorium of Queen Charlotte High School and directed by Bert Foster. This is the first of three plays in the Prince Edward Island Regional Drama Festival.

The choice of play was favourably spoken of as "humorous, logical, and loving and very French, apart from the horrible uncle." Miss Stirling said that the dialogue was good and the characters well cast. The director, Bert Foster was complimented on his very successful handling of the show.

The set was described as "nice-ly stylized" with the costumes blending well with the set. In addition to the cast and director, the following members of the Little Theatre Guild took part in the production: costumes, Mr. and Mrs. Jack MacKinnon; lighting, Peter Shama and Charles Willet; make-up, Vera Miller, Betty Holl and Miriam Matthews; properties, Mrs. B. H. Hughes, Mary McQuaid and Frank Brown; stage, Sutherland MacLean, Fred Young, ker, Gordon Swan and Beverley Place. The work of Mr. MacLean was particularly effective. The presentation was under the distinguished patronage of His Honour Lieut. Governor T. W. L. Prowse and Mrs. Prowse. Premier A. W. Matheson and Mrs. Matheson, His Worship Mayor J. D. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart, Lieut. Col. A. W. Rogers, E.D., who was accompanied by Mrs. Rogers, was in attendance on His Honour the Lieut. Governor.

Early Voting In Algeria Is Promised

PARIS (AP) — Premier Guy Mollet told the National Assembly Thursday his government will hold free elections in Algeria as quickly as possible. It will be the first step in sweeping political, economic and social reforms in the North African territory.

Reporting on his talks last week with Algerian leaders, Mollet did not elaborate on the government's plans. He merely outlined general objectives and said details would be announced later.

The premier said the existing division of Algerian voters and representatives into the chambers would be ended before the new elections. At present, Europeans and Moslems vote for separate lists of candidates.

Mental Patients Not Included In Health Plans

OTTAWA (CP) — Health Minister Martin held out no hope of the cost of treating mental patients being included in a national health insurance plan. Mrs. Agnes B. Davidson of Regina said Thursday.

Mrs. Davidson, president of the 15,000-member Saskatchewan division of the Canadian Mental Health Association, said Mr. Martin outlined this position after receiving a brief from the division which said exclusion of mental patients would be a renewal of discrimination against the mentally ill.

In the Commons on Thursday, Prime Minister St. Laurent said care of mental and tubercular patients was not included in federal proposals to share health care costs because for many years they have been recognized as a provincial responsibility. In reply to John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative member for Prince Albert, Mr. St. Laurent added that the federal proposal to the provinces at a conference in January was for provision of aid towards additional services to be already handled by provincial governments.

STILL GIVING STUDY — Donald Fleming, Progressive Conservative member for Toronto, Eglington, asked whether mental patients in general hospitals would be included. Mr. St. Laurent replied that this still is a matter to be determined.

At the January conference, the federal government offered to pay half the cost of a health insurance scheme covering hospital and diagnostic services. It excluded mental and tubercular patients.

The Saskatchewan division's brief pressed for an adequate federal-provincial hospital insurance plan that would make no distinction between various kinds of illnesses, but would cover every sick person.

Nine men aboard the 339-ton Norwegian ship Sagvåg have been missing since Sunday off Norway's icebound south coast. England and Spain, Turkey and

No Comment On Reports From Buckingham Palace

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret took tea Thursday night with the Anglican dean of St. Paul's Cathedral seemingly unaware of published reports that she planned to become a Roman Catholic.

Denials came from other quarters, however. The Duke of Norfolk, leading Roman Catholic layman, described as "sheer nonsense" reports he discussed conversion of a noted English personality with Pope Plus last week.

In a quiet university town, an Anglican clergyman who has often given Margaret spiritual advice said it was "wholly unlikely" that the 25-year-old princess would embrace the Roman Church.

The story undoubtedly had its beginning when the Duke of Norfolk had an audience with the Pope. There were several reports in connection with his trip to Rome (1) that he discussed the future of a leading personality; (2) that he was seeking annulment of his own marriage to the duchess, an Anglican; (3) that he went to Intercede on behalf of a friend who wanted an annulment. The 47-year-old duke denied all these reports.
