

BRAIN FAG

Is the result of Overwork and an Exhausted Nervous System. Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food creates New Brain and Nerve Tissue.

Business and professional men, accountants, stenographers, teachers, students and all brain workers know only too well what it means to have the brain so tired that concentration of thought is almost impossible.

One-fifth of all the blood in the human body is found in the brain, and unless the blood is pure and rich the brain becomes exhausted for want of proper nourishment.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Blood Food creates new brain and nerve tissue, and produces rich red blood, "the vital fluid" of the body.

All brain workers quickly recognize the merits of this great food cure, and after a few doses enter on their work with new energy and ambition.

Brain fag is unknown to persons whose brain and nerve have been invigorated by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, which is for sale by all dealers at 50c. a box.

A TRAGEDY.

She passed me in the crowded square,
And on her little face forlorn
I caught a glimmer of despair
Her childish brow had never worn.
Yet as she lightly smiled at me
I saw the old half-wistful air
Still lurking in her sea blue eyes;
For I had known her as a child,
And ere she grew so woefully wise,
When she was like a flower and fair,
We two had wandered, free and wild,
Down hills that faced the sea.

Oh, she who seemed a flower of old
And knew each hill and highland place
From April green to autumn gold
I saw go through the drifting rain
With rage upon her childish face
To hide a shadow of the pain
And all the aging sorrow there!
Yet with the same old queenly tread
She faded down the darkening square
Amid the night she knew too well,
And like the stateliest flower that grows
She held her queenly little head.
And still, it seemed, from that poor rose
An old sweet perfume fell.

FROZEN IN FORMS OF ICE.

Posters, Fishes and Flowers Put Up For Purposes of Display.

Artificial ice is commonly frozen in blocks 11 by 22 by 40 inches, weighing 320 pounds. Into such or even larger blocks theater posters are sometimes frozen for the purpose of novelty in display, the blocks being placed lying flat or standing on end upon the sidewalk. Even when thus exposed a block of such size will last for a considerable time. Now and then a florist has a bunch of flowers frozen in a cake of ice for the same purpose. A butcher may have a leg of lamb frozen in an ice block, and sometimes a fish dealer has a fish frozen in a block of ice, which is set on edge, the fish showing in its natural position in the center of the block.

Occasionally flowers are frozen in ice to make a decorative piece for a dinner table, the molds used for such purposes being more or less ornamental in design or decorative in effect. One mold that is used for this purpose produces an ice form having a square base, slightly tapering, surmounted by a dome. This piece is about 12 inches square at the base and about 30 inches in height. Another form used for this purpose is a pyramid, another is an obelisk, and still another is a column supported on a base.

It takes care and labor to freeze the flowers in the ice in attractive and suitable shape. Separate buds may have to be held in position in the water until the gradually freezing ice comes up to support them where they have been held. Roses and various other flowers are frozen in ice forms in this manner. At an ice manufacturing establishment in the city at Christmas time, there was frozen into a block of ice for a customer a bunch of holly. Decorative pieces for the table are of course set upon a suitable holder. Such pieces will last without great deterioration for hours.

While ice in these various forms for display and decorative purposes is called for occasionally, the demand is not great.—New York Sun.

Two Easy Berths.

Two bluejackets were once overheard arguing as to who had the least work to do on board a man-of-war.

"It's the parson," said one.

"Ow d'ye make that out?" queried the other.

"Cos 'e's got no work to do and all day to do it in."

"You ain't quite got it, Bill," retorted his friend, "while an inspired grin illumined his features. 'It ain't the parson. It's the cap'n o' marines.'"

"'Ow's that?"

"Well, as you say, the parson's got no work to do and all day to do it in, but the cap'n o' marines 'as nothin' to do and all day to do it in and 'as a lewtenit o' marines to 'elp 'im to do it!"—Cornhill Magazine.

Bringing the Time of Day.

In Ulster you can find the "bull" flourishing. Here is a pretty example of the acted bull: A certain squire had just

A city business man, who gets to work at nine in the morning, takes an hour for lunch and leaves for home at four or five in the afternoon, little understands the hardships of the life of the farmer, who starts to work at break of day and frequently works on into the night by lantern-light.

A man to endure the hardships of a farmer's life, must be robust physically at the outset, and if he would live a long life, always keep a watchful eye upon his health. He should remember that it is the apparently trifling disorders that eventually make the big diseases. It does not do for a hard working man to neglect bilious attacks or spells of indigestion. If he does, he will soon find himself flat on his back with malaria or crippled with rheumatism. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all medicines for hard working men and women. It makes the appetite keen and hearty, the digestion perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and rich with the life-giving elements of the food, and the nerves strong and steady. It builds firm muscles and solid flesh. It is the greatest of all blood-makers and purifiers. It cures malarial troubles and rheumatism. It is an unfailing cure for biliousness and indigestion. An honest dealer will not try to substitute some inferior preparation for the sake of a little additional profit.

"I was a sufferer for four years with malarial fever and chills," writes Robert Williams, of Kiowa, Barber Co., Kan. "Four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured me, and I now weigh 160 pounds instead of 130, my old weight."

Costiveness, constipation and torpidity of the liver are surely, speedily and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. They stimulate and strengthen the faded organs until a regular habit is formed and may then be discontinued without a return of the trouble. They stimulate, invigorate and regulate the stomach, liver and bowels. Medicine stores sell them, and have no other pills that are "just as good."

set up with great pains and elaborate mathematical calculations a sun dial in his garden and was naturally a little proud of it. One day, as it so happened, being close to the garden, he was in doubt as to the right time and told a boy who was with him to run down and get him the time from the dial. After a few minutes the boy appeared dragging with him something heavy.

"Here she is, yer honor, an hard set Ah was to get her up." He had torn up the dial from its setting and dragged it up the hill.—Spectator.

Siamese Beliefs.

One of the strangest beliefs of the Siamese is that they must under no circumstances take life, and the Buddhist priest goes so far as to strain insects out of his water, not because he thinks them nasty, but because it would be wrong to kill them.

Another is not to bathe after dark lest he should crush insects while drying himself. Yet he does not mind eating meat which others have killed, and he has no objection to taking fish out of the sea and leaving them to die.

Natural History.

A little boy was walking with his mother in the park, when they passed a procession of schoolgirls, arranged in order according to their ages. The skirts of the pupils varied in length according to their years, the youngest having the shortest, the oldest the longest. And the boy said to his mother, as he remarked this phenomenon with innocent curiosity: "Mamma, why do girls' legs grow shorter as they grow older?"—London Judy.

The Weather.

"The weather," said the oldest inhabitant, "is not what it used to be when I was a boy."

"For that matter," commented the smart young man, "the weather is not what it was seven months ago." And the oldest inhabitant could not be persuaded to talk for more than an hour.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Sure Scheme.

Young Wife—I am determined to learn at what hour my husband comes home at nights. Yet do what I will, I cannot keep awake, and he is always careful not to make a particle of noise. Is there any drug which produces wakefulness?

Old Wife—No need to buy drugs. Sprinkle the floor with tacks.

While the wedding service is proceeding in Japan the bride kindles a torch and the bridegroom lights a fire from it and burns the wife's playthings.

Americans and Russians are said to be the best dancers, though the French and Italians posture better.

Women Stock Speculators.

"My experience leads me to believe that no woman stock speculator can ever be taught that there is no such money to be made in selling stocks at the time as there is in buying them," said a broker. "Most husbands are bulls anyway. There are several offices down town and more up town which are supported almost entirely by women speculators, and many of the bucket shops have women's departments. When the market booms, the women make money, and when it signs a little instead of hanging on to their holdings they close out at a loss and with bad grace. Some of the most successful women speculators whom I have known have played the market in a way that would stagger a man. Sometimes they buy a stock because they like its name, and more frequently they take it because it is below par and therefore cheap."

Artemus Ward's Criticism of Chaucer.

It was not Artemus Ward of whom such a remark was made, but it was Artemus Ward himself who said: "Some kind person has sent me Chaucer's poems. Mr. C had talent, but he couldn't spell. No man has a right to be a literary man unless he knows how to spell. It is a pity that Chaucer, who had genenys, was so uneducated. He's the wuss speller I know of."—Boston Pilot.

Where He Was.

A little 4-year-old occupied an upper berth in the sleeping car of the express train. Awakening once in the middle of the night his mother asked him if he knew where he was. "Tourse I do," he replied, "I'm in the top drawer."—Household Words.

In Ireland an acre comprises 7,840 square yards, while in Scotland 6,140 go to the acre.

Poetical Figures.

Common people often use figures of speech which are both poetical and strong. While visiting in Norfolk near the North sea Tennyson was much impressed with the saying which he there heard, "The sea is moaning for the loss of the wind."

This poetical saying he used to compare with another he heard used by an old fisherman who had lost two sons at sea. On a stormy day she, clinching her fist at the advancing tide, cried out:

"Aye, roar, dol! How I hates to see thee show thy white teeth!"—Exchange.

A Bank Director.

Stranger—Boy, can you direct me to the nearest bank?

Boy—I kin for sixpence, sir.

Stranger—Sixpence! Isn't that high pay?

Boy—Yes, sir, but it's bank directors what gets high pay.—London Punch.

Inkman.

"Ah, yes," she sighed. "I was robbed of a lover by the cruel war."
"Which one," her dearest friend asked.
"The Mexican, the civil or the Yankoo Spanko."—Chicago News.
