OBITUARY

Inserted by the family. MRS.—EARLE L. CALLBECK The death occurred at the Prince Edward Island Hospital on April 7, 1965, of Mamie Caroline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pearson. She was in her fifty-second year.

Born in Chelton, on November 20th, 1913. In 1938 she married Earle L. Callbeck of Tryon, where the family lived for several years before moving to Hampton where she remained until her death.

Through the years she was a devoted wife and mother. Her cheerful kindly manner won her many friends and she will be greatly missed by all who knew and loved her.

In addition to her husband, there are left to mourn two sons, Ralph and Moyses of Hampton; her parents Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pearson; Chelton, sisters, Muriel, (Mrs. Earle Mabey) Tryon; Esther, (Mrs. F. Court) Summerside; and Wanda of Chelton, besides a host of relatives and friends.

The largely attended funeral was held from the Hampton United Church on April 10th, 1965 and was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Bryer R. Jones. The choir with Mrs. J.W. Morrison as organist sang the hymns, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "In the Sweet Bye and Bye." A solo, "Beyond the Sunset," was sung by Mr. Stephen MacLeod.

The pallbearers were: Hazen Dawson, Clifford Best, Edward Pearson, Buddy Morrison, Marshall Konderson, Edgar Doull. The flowerbearers: Wendell Ferguson, Eric Inman, Fred Dickieson, 4. Allison H. O'Neil, Vance Molyneux, Donald Molyneux.

The many beautiful floral tributes and contributions to the Cancer Society testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Interment took place in the Crapaud Peoples Cemetery.

Her memory is a keepsake—From which we never part. God has her in His keeping. We still have her in our heart.

SOVIET PAPER COMPLAINS RED TAPE IS EXCLUSIVE

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet youth newspaper, complaining of nightmarish government red tape, suggests the country must be run by a "ministry of inconveniences."

The report of "mounting inconveniences" came in a biting satire on Soviet bureaucracy which appeared in Friday's edition of Komsomolskaya Pravda.

The writer, Ilya Zverev, proposed that those responsible for idiotic regulations should be punished as criminals.

To illustrate his case, Zverev described his attempts to get two new lenses for his eyeglass frames. This is what he said happened:

He went first to the optical department at a drug store. There a saleswoman told him she could only sell him one lens.

"Two lenses are strictly forbidden," she said. "Only two drug stores in Moscow have this right (to sell two lenses)."

HAS ANOTHER TRY So Zverev went to one of them and this conversation ensued. Salesman: "We cannot accept your frames because they are in a soft case. According to the rules they should be in a crush-proof case."

Zverev: "Why?" Salesman: "To protect your glasses better." Zverev: "Okay, put my frames in a crush-proof case."

Salesman: "But we are not given them." Zverev: "Okay, then I'll buy such a case myself." Salesman: "But we only have soft ones on sale."

The writer did not say whether he eventually got his lenses. Zverev said Soviet newspapers had received letters from transformed a former boarding house into a barracks. Later, crews cleaned up three neglected cemeteries which had been used between 1911, when the town was formed, and the early 1950s, when Braseau Collieries moved out.

A declining demand for coal and a series of fires were blamed for the closure of the mines.

After restoring the cemeteries, prisoners were put to work on forestry roads. The camp works closely with the department of lands and forests to handle the growing influx of tourists and fishermen.

The prisoners build and clear roads and camping spots, cut and stack firewood, and have constructed dozens of picnic tables to be placed throughout the area.

"We are on stand-by forest fire call," said O. L. Weisgerber, assistant deputy superintendent.

"I believe the immediate availability of firefighting crews here could have saved millions of dollars worth of timber."

Mr. Weisgerber said he believes the chance at a useful outdoor life has been beneficial to the men. Despite the experimental nature of the camp, it has become firmly established as an integral part of the Alberta system.

CLAY GOES INTO PAPER About 70 per cent of England's production of china clay is used in making good-quality paper.

Prison Camp Gives Life To Coal Town

NORDEGG, Alta. (CP)—The establishment two years ago of a prison camp here has provided a breath of new life for this abandoned coal town 110 miles west of Red Deer.

The camp, a satellite of the Bowden Institute for first and young offenders, was established as an experiment in Alberta's penal policy.

First objective of the authorities when the camp opened was to keep prisoners busy. They started cleaning buildings and
