IN MEMORIAM

McGAUGHEY—In loving memory our dear mother, Mrs. Michael McCaughey passed away 16 years ago today.
The kindest mother in all the world
Has passed away to rest.,
She couldn't have been equalled
She was the very best.
Her hands were always hard at work,
Her job on earth she did not shirk,
We know she now in heaven rests.
And mingles with the very best
She labored on from morn till night
To give us what she thought was right,
And now that we have older grown
And she has left us here
Treasured memories of her love
Will guide us through the years.
Sadly missed by Sons and Daughters.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank those who so kindly remembered me during my illness. To those who visited me, sent treats, flowers, cards and letters, sincere thanks. Mrs. Elmer Burt, Travellers Rest.

Urges Caution In X-Ray Use

VANCOUVER (CP) — Reasonable caution in the use of X-ray is urged by Dr. Gordon Shrum, head of the physics department at University of British Columbia.

Addressing an annual roentgenology workshop, he said that people are exposed, dentists and doctors should limit use of X-rays to the necessary minimum.

"The reason why we must use caution is because we don't know how much radiation we will be exposed to in the future," he said.

Dr. Gordon M. Fitzgerald, dentistry consultant at the radiation laboratory in Berkeley, Calif., said he would not minimize the danger from radiation. "But there is a great deal more we have to know before we become hysterical," he said.

Dr. Edward Slakov, Vancouver dentist, said patients had no reason to fear X-ray machines operated by trained personnel.

Talented Cast Coming In Shakesperian Parts

When the Earle Grey Shakespeare Festival Company appears here next week, it will present a very talented cast to Island lovers of theatre. James Annand is typical of the calibre of this fine professional group. He started his career in England with the great Granville Barker, and is seen to advantage in dignified elderly parts. As a young actor he was with the Shakespeare Company of Sir Frank Benson, playing in ten Shakespearen productions and well-known comedies. He has been on tour throughout England, Ireland and Scotland, with Granville Barker in the Royal Court Theatre. Productions were personally directed by Bernard Shaw. Mr. Annand recalls that Shaw was a splendid director. Coming to Canada to attended family business in 1928, Mr. Annand founded the Toronto Branch of the Shakespearan Society.

The stage director of the Earle Grey Company is Charles Palmer. He began his theatrical experience with an English Theatrical Trade Paper; later he became manager of a book agency for Theatrical and film stars. He stage-managed several companies on tour playing parts in many of the shows. He is best known as an accomplished comedian, playing Dogberry in "Much Ado About Nothing" the porter in "Macbeth" Stephano in "The Tempest" and other roles.

ORIGINAL MEMBER

Mary Godwin, an original member of the Earle Grey Company, which she founded with her husband, has played 14 leading parts since the organization of the Company in 1949. She played Juno in "The Tempest" Katherina in "The Taming of The Shrew". She comes from a family of strong literary and cultural tastes in London, England, where she was well also known in musical circles. She was a member of the London Repertory Players, understudying Diana Wynyard and later Marie Ney. She played "St. Joan" with Dame Sybil Thorndike and Sir Lewis Casson, benefitting greatly from Dame Sybil's strong helpful influence. Later she joined Sir Phillip Ben Greet's famous Shakespeare Company.

Earle Grey himself is a distinguished actor and director. He came from England in 1949 and he has spent all his life in the theatre. His vast knowledge and experience of Shakespeare was gained in the famous Shakespearan Companies of Stratford-on-Avon under Sir Frank Benson and Sir Phillip Ben Greet. He has played leading parts in London and South Africa.

YOUTHFUL TALENT

Anthony Grey, his son, has literally grown up in the Earle Grey Shakespeare Festival Company. As a child he played walk-on parts, in his teens he played minor parts in each annual Festival. Last season he played "Hamlet". . .one of the youngest actors to have played the Prince.. being yet in his early twenties. In "The Tempest" he plays Antonio, and Tranio in "The Taming of the Shrew."

Peter Sturgess returns to the Earle Grey Company to play Trinculo in "The Tempest", after several years with the Canadian Repertory Theatre in Ottawa. He plays Grumion in "The Taming of the Shrew."

Alexander de Nasxody will play the important part of a Caliban in "The Tempest" and Petruchion in "The Taming of the Shrew". A leading actor in the Royal Hungarian National State Theatre, he came to Canada more than seven years ago as an actor, coach and director. He did the choreography for "Tamburlaine the Great" at Stratford, Ont., and is associated with the C.B.C. Leading Theatre in Toronto.

IN THIRD SEASON

Michael Julian in his third season with the Earle Grey Shakespeare Festival Company plays Ferdinand - son of Alonso the King of Naples, suitor to Miranda - in "The Taming of the Shrew". Mr. Julian played in four English repertory companies and a London West End Production. He, tour the United States for a year with the Clare Tree Major Theatre Company and has played in television - radio shows and films in England, the U.S.A. and Canada.

Donald Kerr MacKay, who plays Alonso King of Naples in "The Tempest", was stage manager and actor with the Canadian Players on their last tour. Prior to that he was stage director of the Peterborough Summer Theatre. His stage career began in England in the Nottingham Playhouse Theatre, followed by several years in the Northampton Repertory Theatre.

The actors mentioned are some but not all of those who will be appearing in Charlottetown next Monday and Tuesday.

"Integration" Involves Being One's Own Customer

The "diversification" and "decentralization" policy of A. V. Roe Canada Ltd. includes quite a bit of "integration."

Diversification means getting into a wider range of industries rather than having all its eggs in one basket.

Decentralization means letting each subsidiary company virtually run its own show—and it also means putting each company into a position to actively seek business in other than its traditional fields.

But "integration" comes in when it is seen that the various companies even while seeking other business — are also good prospective customers of one another.

By whatever name the program is called. Roe plans to spend a minimum of $50,000,000 in the next five to ten years on expansion of present companies on top of some $65,000,000 spent in the last 10 years.

The common interests of such subsidiaries as Avro Aircraft Ltd. —makers of aircraft frames—and Orenda Engines Ltd.makers of jet engines are obvious. Nevertheless, Orenda seeks and gets wider markets than its sales to Avro.

NATURAL PARTNER

Canadian Steel Improvement Ltd., producers of light alloy forgings and castings and developers of a new titanium process, is a natural partner of its aircraft associates.

But, whereas 100 per cent of its output once went to Orenda, now only 40 per cent goes to the sister company, and Steel Improvement is said to be doing work for about every major American aero-engine manufacturer. It has also branched out into commercial products ranging from drying pans to automobile distributor camps.

Canadian Car Co. Ltd., acquired in 1955, perhaps best illustrates the decentralization policy.

Its foundry division was formed into a new company, Canadian Steel Industries (1956) Ltd. it still gets Canadian Car's business which takes about 70 per cent of production, but in the words of an official, it now has an incentive to "dig" for new business.

Also, in Canadian Car, a railway car operation was set up as a separate division with a $15,000,000 modernization and consolidation program — which will, among other thngs, produce in Canada for the first time the Budd line of stainless steel equipment.

TAKE OVER SALES

A railway - equipment division will take over the sales and serving of railway equipment previously handled through agents and will undertake some manufacturing, some of it new in Canada. One proposed line consists of the "anchors" which hold rails to ties of which millions are imported. This division is also studyng 10 other new lines now being imported.

Canadian Applied Research Ltd., recently acquired, operates in the broad field of electronics as applied to aviation, as well as in a wide commercial field, and may also be considered a natural in the Roe set-up.

The purchase by Roe of 150,000 shares of Algoma Steel Corporation Ltd. last April caused more surprise than any of its other aquisitions.
