Weather Spoils Easter Parades In Many Areas

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Skies which smiled on Good Friday—the most solemn holiday on the Christian calendar—opened on Easter Sunday, the day of rejoicing and spoiled traditional Easter parades in many parts of Canada.

In the East, winter coats covered the finery of the crowds as they made their way to church Sunday to celebrate Christ's rising from the dead or as they lined the streets to view the latest in spring fashions.

Sunday snow fell in Eastern Ontario and Quebec, while mild temperatures held in some parts of the Prairies.

Montreal reported that straw hats triumphed over sun, freezing temperatures and crowds estimated at up to 900 persons turned out for the 24th annual sunrise service atop Mount Royal. However, the tiny straw hats of the fashionable were one of the few signs of spring and soggy snow began falling in the afternoon.

The picture was duplicated in Ottawa.

RAW IN QUEBEC
Quebec reported unpleasant, cloudy weather with a cold, raw wind.

An early rain left dull skies and a chill wind in Toronto, but the annual Easter parade down fashionable Bloor Street was held anyway.

Out West, however, the picture was different.

Mild, sunny weather greeted Manitobans and thousands poured into the churches on Sunday. Temperatures rose to the high 50s.

Western Alberta, including Edmonton and Calgary, experienced cloudy weather most of the day. Eastern Alberta and Saskatchewan basked — it was pleasant parading weather with temperatures in the 50-degree range.

GLORIOUS IN B.C.
In the Vancouver area of British Columbia, the weather was described as "glorious" as motorists, sunbathers, golfers and tennis players took in the holiday in 58-degree weather under a cloudless sky.

Skies were also sunny at the other end of the land and the Maritimes reported Sunday services well-attended in all churches. Catholic churches started observance with an hour-long vigil Saturday night followed by midnight mass. Temperatures Sunday hit 55.

In Pictou, N.S., 3,000 lilies flown from Bermuda went on display at the Presbyterian Church, gift of an anonymous former parishioner who has sent them each year for the last four.

The display drew thousands of visitors who later took the blooms home with them.

were presented by the Guild, shop found the windows smashed out and the floor littered with broken glass, pop bottles and stones.

Just a few days prior to the vandalism the police arrested other juveniles whose parents paid for the damage done to the Summerside "Y" Center and a barn on Duke Street when a total of about thirty windows were broken almost two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Aitken, Charlottetown, were weekend guests of the latter's father, Mr. G.H. Hardy, Alberton, during the Easter weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay Hardy, Parkdale, spent the weekend with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Green, Alberton.

Sgt. and Mrs. T.D. Trenouth and family motored from Pictou to spend Easter with Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wells, Alberton.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Peach of Slemmon Park was guest organist for the Easter service and LAC Kenneth Neve, soloist, gave beautiful renditions of "O Morn of Beauty" and "The Lord's My Shepherd" (Brother James Air).

Potted flowers and spring flowers, arranged by members of the Ladies' Guild, included Easter lilies from Bermuda.

Alberton W.M.S. Easter Meeting

The Easter meeting of Alberton auxiliary of the W.M.S. was held in the United Church Hall Wednesday afternoon. Worship was led by Mrs. J. M. Sproule and the vice - president, Mrs. A. I. C. Green, conducted the business. Correspondence was read by the secretary, Miss Annie Leard.

Mrs. J. W. Waugh volunteered to lead the worship at the next meeting. Community friendship work during the month included forty home calls, eighteen hospital calls, seven cards, two letters, four treats, and one removal notice sent. The study "Current trends and women's work" was led by Mrs. Sproule.

The meeting closed with a circle of prayer in which all participated, the singing of "Crown Him with many crowns," and the Mizpah benediction. Refreshments included a birthday cake which was presented to the secretary, Miss Leard, on the occasion of her birthday.

White recalled that a United Nations resolution, opposed by the Soviet bloc but overwhelmingly adopted by the rest of the General Assembly, last November had laid out a step-by-step disarmament program beginning with a test ban under international inspection.

Picking up Khrushchev's use of the "goodwill" idea, White said that this resolution represented "the greatest expression of intention of goodwill" which had been made in recent months but it was rejected by the Soviet Union.

"It is perhaps significant," White added, "that this statement by Mr. Khrushchev is made in Budapest where the U.S.S.R. demonstrated its 'goodwill' by the slaughter of Hungarian people just over a year ago when they sought to lift from their backs the yoke of a foreign-imposed domination."

SOVIET TREACHERY
"The world will long remember the use of Soviet tanks and treachery on that occasion. White said Khrushchev seems to wish to distort the United States attitude toward a summit conference although it has been fully set forth in the voluminous exchange of correspondence between President Eisenhower and Nikolai Bulganin, the former Soviet Premier.

"The main problem, however, is to reach meaningful agreements with the Soviet Union," he said, "and we in association with the British and French have specifically proposed talking with the Soviets through diplomatic channels the latter half of this month. We are awaiting the Soviet reaction to this proposal."

Hammarskjold's first day in the Soviet capital was a busy one. He called on Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko this morning, lunched with Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov and other Soviet officials. He visited Khrushchev after lunch and turned up later at the Pakistani Embassy for a reception honoring Pakistan's national day. He went to the Bolshoi ballet Monday night.

But as for his mission to Moscow, Hammarskjold was just as silent as when he arrived Sunday. He has said, however, he expects no specific results from his meetings here but regards the discussions "as important in themselves."

Mail Delivery Retarded For Crapaud And Victoria

If mail deliveries are made today in the villages of Crapaud and Victoria located on the Trans-Canada highway midway between Charlottetown and Summerside, it will be the first time since last Wednesday that the mail courier has been able to traverse the 13 miles of spring roads between the pavement at Crapaud and the railway station at Breadalbane, at least until yesterday these roads were impassable for any kind of vehicle or normal means of transportation.

Commenting on the swift delivery of Patriot newspapers in this area by truck every afternoon within thirty minutes of rolling off the presses at Charlottetown, local residents are renewing their desire of receiving mail service to and from some point accessible by paved highway.

The logic of this desire is emphasized by the unsuccessful attempts of the mail courier, Mrs. Steford Storey, to reach Breadalbane by tractor on Thursday, and again on Saturday when she left her home in Victoria before 7 a.m. with a horse and wagon, returning through the mud at 5 p.m. without having been able to penetrate the snow banks encountered further inland, after having waited in vain in the Inkerman-Rose Valley area for a snow plow that failed to appear to open the road.

Traversing this rural route, known as Breadalbane R.R. 3, mail is also carried to and from the post office in Crapaud village from where rural deliveries are made eastward in an area extending to Hampton. From Breadalbane station mail is also carried on the R.R. 3 to and from a post office in Victoria village which serves this village as a rural route extending westward through part of the Tryon and Lady Fane districts.

Advocates of mail delivery by paved highway to the Crapaud and Victoria villages point out that the neighbouring village of Hampton, about three miles east, receives its mail daily from Charlottetown over the paved highway which serves all these areas.

U. S. Accuses Khrushchev Of Trying To Mislead World

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States accused Soviet Premier Khrushchev Friday of distorting U.S. summit conference policy while standing amid scenes of Soviet "slaughter . . . in Hungary."

A state department statement chided Khrushchev for demanding a show of "goodwill" in the issue of suspending nuclear weapons tests. It prodded him to reply quickly to a Western proposal for beginning diplomatic talks later this month on summit conference arrangements.

The United States reaction was voiced by Lincoln White, state department press officer, after Khrushchev, on a visit to Budapest, called on the U.S. and Britain to follow the Soviet example and announce suspension of the testing of nuclear weapons.

Khrushchev said he was prepared to accept international supervision of a ban on tests, but White said that Khrushchev did not say what he meant by international supervision.

White recalled that a United Nations resolution, opposed by the Soviet bloc but overwhelmingly adopted by the rest of the General Assembly, last November had laid out a step-by-step disarmament program beginning with a test ban under international inspection.

Picking up Khrushchev's use of the "goodwill" idea, White said that this resolution represented "the greatest expression of intention of goodwill" which had been made in recent months but it was rejected by the Soviet Union.

"It is perhaps significant," White added, "that this statement by Mr. Khrushchev is made in Budapest where the U.S.S.R. demonstrated its 'goodwill' by the slaughter of Hungarian people just over a year ago when they sought to lift from their backs the yoke of a foreign-imposed domination."

Sacred Heart Church Holds Easter Services

At the Sacred Heart Church, Alberton, on Thursday evening the Mass of the Last Supper was celebrated by Rev. Phelan McKenna. On Good Friday the solemn liturgical service proper to the day began at 3.30 p.m. and included veneration of the cross.

Saturday evening the Easter vigil service began with the blessing of the paschal candle and the new fire, the blessing of the Easter water and the public renewal of baptismal vows. The Mass, beginning at midnight, was followed by the distribution of Holy Communion.

At 10 a.m. on Easter morning low Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father McKenna.

The altar was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies and chrysanthemums donated by the C. W. L. of the parish. A gift of flowers was also made by Mrs. Stephen McAlduff of Halifax, a former parishioner.

Man Is Held After Car Theft

A Summerside man was picked up by the Mounted Police over the week-end and held in connection with the theft of a car owned by another Summerside man. The vehicle was taken from its parking place on First Street. Summerside police received reports on the movement of the stolen car from citizens who observed it travelling rapidly and gave information as to the direction.

R. C. M. P. were close behind the vehicle when it smashed into a telephone pole on the highway about a mile west of the town. A man suspected to have been the driver was picked up nearby.

Meter Job Is Tough One

KITCHENER (CP)—Three Kitchener war veterans who enforce parking meter regulations here say they are subjected to more abuse than any other public servants.

The three, members of the corps of commissionaires, are Henry Baird, John A. Johnson and Arthur Ingram.

They said today their daily experiences include threats that their noses will be punched and being called dirty names when they issue parking tickets.

They added that owners of the biggest cars are their sharpest critics and said only one motorist in 100 is completely honest about parking meters.
