Dodgers Win Anyway

LOS ANGELES (CP)—The Dodgers remind you of something that just shouldn't happen, especially if you're a Giants or Phillies' fan. Here's the situation.

They're in last place after eight games and their ace pitchers, Sandy Kousser and Johnny Podres, aren't doing too well. They both get some arms. The rest of the L.A. team start playing like they were Toronto Maple Leafs in the last game of the Stanley Cup final. The result: Four wins in a row and they're on the way back up the standings. In seventh place already.

The Dodgers hit giants in the last few days, with the exception of Don Drysdale and Frank Howard, had not been the outstanding performers in other years. Most of the guys who have been tossing the ball for Alton weren't over in the Dodgers' plans this time last season. Casey Stengel came up with a wisecrack the other day when he said he'd doubled very much if some of the Dodgers' new stars would even be capable of playing in "this American League."

Walt Alston doesn't seem to care what should be and what shouldn't be, however. He wants to win ball games. If he thinks Bruce Kistner could hit or throw the ball he would be given the OK sign by Alton and his Bird Dogs.

Some players who have been coming through with big games are sub-infielder John Wehrman, pitcher Phil Ortega, infielder Wes Parker, pitcher Joe Moeller, pitcher Nick Wilk, and old time pinch hitter, Walt Moon.

They didn't have much trouble with Houston Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. But then who does have trouble with Houston? Drysdale shut them out 6-0 in the series opener with Howard and Parry supplying the hitting strength. Melillo went 2-0 in the second and Willard did the trick Wednesday 7-2 with Wehrman behind the big bat.

Sports By The Plenty

IF YOU'RE a "thin diet" sports fan who can't take those Saturday afternoon ball games, don't ever go to Britain. On Sunday they get nothing but sport, sport and more sport.

A BBC program entitled Grandstand takes it a national emergency in the English language. It's a Saturday, interrupted occasionally by nothing less than a national emergency of an assassination, a race, an English-Scottish schoolgirls' field hockey game, a hillside joust, a boxing match, a swimming tournament, and, of course, soccer results.

And it looks like the TV channels are drawing heavily on the regular number of spectators. Soccer games drew more than 1,000,000 fans on weekends in the post-war years. Now they only get about 450,000 before the BBC has promised relief. A good idea is to turn your TV set on for the wild, woolly, thrilling nature of the sports. For then the BBC has promised relief. A good channel will carry non-sports items.

Off The Cuff

THE PERSON who won $132,328 in the Roosevelt Raceway race on Monday Tuesday night hasn't claimed the winnings yet. The man who purchased the ticket bought 18 tickets for $10 each, paying for the tickets with two $100 bills, and getting $20 in change.

An All-Star team from the National Basketball Association will leave U.S.A. presently on a tour of the South Atlantic.

WESTER, former Montreal Alouettes' backfielder, now under the wing of the New York Giants, may find himself playing ball elsewhere this season. Coach Alvin Stern thinks he's all through.

Italy's International of Milan has defeated West Germany's BOURSAU OF DORTMUND 2-0 in the central semifinal of the European Soccer Championship Cup tournament.

How are two questions CASSIUS CLAY failed to answer correctly when he flunked the Armed Forces Qualification Test. "If a low pays 10 cents for a milk, 20 cents for a sandwich, 15 cents for me, how many times longer than four miles?" and "Five miles is how many times longer than four miles?"

WICK Downs will operate this season. Backers have run into multi-million problems.

GERARD MCGILLIVRAY, Antigonish, has been appointed pro at the Seaside Golf Club in North at Antigonish, during the past two years.

Quebec Rifles of the U.P.F. have signed RUFUS HARRIS Jr., 25-point guard who captured the Gambelling Louisiana Negro college team last season. He can run the 100-yard dash in 10.2 and is a 6 foot 2 inch tall.

Nicklaus Egeded Out In Opening Days Play

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Charles from New Zealand, Rapid-fire Doniz Ford shot a hole with Nicklaus, 47 under par, 67 in total, and then Rodriguez of Puerto Rico edged out Nicklaus by one stroke in the first round Thursday. Tied at 70 were Phil Rodgers, captured the Gambelling Louisiana Negro college team last season. He can run the 100-yard dash in 10.2 and is a 6 foot 2 inch tall.

National Open champion Julius Boros was in the group with Palmer at 72 along with a former winner, Arnie Olden, and four others, including George Knudson of Winnipeg and Toronto, who shot a 34-38.

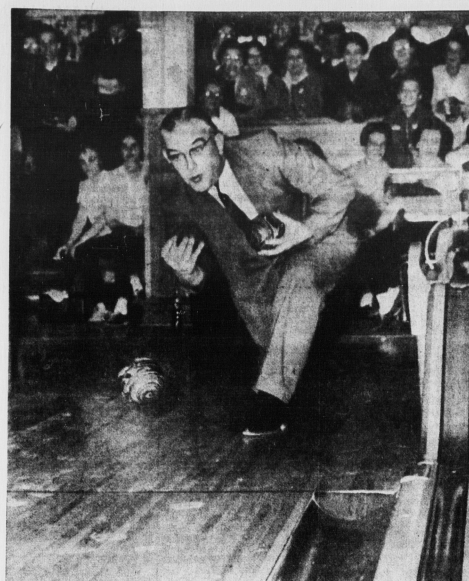

Nicklaus, the defending champion, toured to Toronto in a double-hoop to finish on the 18th for a total of 144.

Australia imports goods worth $200,000,000 in developing countries, with more than 70 per cent of the imports entering duty free.

THEY'LL FIGHT FOR STOCKHOLM

A playing left is thrown by former heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson to the club Eddie Machen at the two signed for a 12-round bout in Stockholm on August 15. Patterson hopes to fight champion Cassius Clay

If he wins fight with Machen. Contract signing took place in New York. Machen is from San Francisco, 30. High Tri

Monarchs Face Elimination In Fourth Game Tonight

TORONTO (CP)—The injury-riddled Montreal Notre Dame de Grace Monarchs must win tonight's game against the rough, tough Toronto Marlboros to stay in contention for the Memorial Cup.

They trail the Marlboros 2-1 in the best-of-five Eastern Canada junior final and there is no chance of a best-of-seven series starting Sunday.

The odds are stacked against the Montrealers.

They will be playing on the Marlboros own ice, they have taken a tremendous physical pounding from the Marlboros and they have two defenceless definitely out of this crucial fourth game.

Left Tappins, with a knee injury, and Clement Boudreau, with a shoulder separation, will all out the game. They were hurt in the third game.

Forward Andre LaSalle may play, although he is under observation for a concussion.

Maroons Meet Athletics Tonight

Winnipeg (CP)—Winnipeg Maroons coach Gord Simpson Thursday advised a reported advance his club may have when it meets Woodstock Athletics tonight in the Allan Cup final opener.

Woodstock playing-coach Ted Power said earlier this week his team may be sluggish against Maroons in the first game, because of an easy Eastern final against Ottawa Maroons, and a one-day layoff waiting for a Western Canada champion to emerge.

Canada's Teams Can't Survive

OTTAWA (CP)—It is rather hopeless to expect Canada to regain its international hockey supremacy until the "archaic" governing authority is changed, a president Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said Thursday.

Amateur teams in Canada can't match the state-sponsored teams in Europe, he said. Until the rules were revised to move amateur status from state players governing international scenes would continue to be dominated by them.
