Charge Against Press Dismissed

VANCOUVER (CP) - Mr. Justice H. W. McInnes of the British Columbia Supreme Court Wednesday dismissed applications to proceed against Vancouver's 17 weekly newspapers for contempt of court.

In a written judgment, Mr. Justice McInnes said: "It is the business of newspapers to gather and publish information... of public interest and that right will not be interfered with unless the higher right of the court determine the guilt or innocence of the accused."

"Both papers had a perfect right to publish what appeared in the articles. There has been no prejudice to the accused as a result."

Applications for attachment or committal had been made on behalf of Alphonse Fortin against publishers A. W. Moscarella of The Province and Donald Cromie of The Sun and against the Southern Company Limited, Sun Publishing Company Limited, and Pacific Press Limited.

Lawyer E. L. Whiffen claimed that stories which appeared in the two papers July 15 prejudiced Fortin's trial on a charge of possessing an offensive weapon.
