ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind. mar17 eod & wy

More "Gazette" Exposures.

LONDON, Sept. 21.

The Pall Mall Gazette continues to attack Col. Hughes Hallett, Conservative member of Parliament. It asserts he maintained criminal relations with Miss Selwyn. This afternoon the Gazette says the young lady was accustomed to call him father, and he often declared that he regarded her as his child. The Gazette alleges that Hallett successfully used his influence on the young lady to influence her to will him her fortune against her own family and child.

The Mitchellstown Riot.

LONDON, Sept. 21.

Gladstone has written a letter to the Glasgow Liberals deploring the grave acts of the Irish police against the people of Mitchellstown, and what is still graver approval of those acts by the Government. He concludes: "I trust that the country will not be slow to condemn that indecent approval given without awaiting the result of an enquiry."

Another Big Blaze.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 21.

Capron & Wolverson's flour mills was burned this morning with 100,000 bushels of grain. Loss $150,000. Eight firemen caught in an upper storey were rescued with difficulty. The ladders proving too short were lifted on the shoulders of policemen, and the men dropped to them from the windows.

Bush Fires.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Upper Prince Street School.

SIR,—In yesterday's issue you give us an editorial paragraph respecting the manner in which the pupils of the Prince Street School enter that building. The information you give us on this important question is from the Secretary of the City School Board. Now, sir, I know it is an easy matter to find fault, and that we have a large number of "crotchety grumblers" in our midst who are often needlessly finding fault with our public servants, but I do not class myself among the number. I am a parent and am deeply interested in the Prince Street School. In common with a great many other interested parents I beg to enter my protest against the manner in which the children are admitted to that building, and I will give you my reasons for so doing.

According to the present custom, the children are admitted by the small rear door, and compelled to climb a narrow stair. On a fine morning, when the signal is given for the pupils to enter, they immediately swarm around this rear door, and the entrance being narrow, they accumulate until they are brought into close proximity with the outhouses. Gradually the crowd disappears through this small opening until the last "little rose-bud" climbs the narrow way! Now, sir, I am not going to enter into a discussion about the state of these outhouses at all times, suffice it to say that I do not accept the Secretary's statement; but there is another aspect of the question to which I wish to call the attention of both the parents and the authorities, viz: In the event of a fire, or any other casualty, causing a panic, to which door would these children rush to effect their escape from the building? They would most assuredly rush to the little rear door through which they have been taught to enter, and what would the result be? Why, too horrible to contemplate! Some may think that in the event of such a casualty egress would be sought by the large doors, but ninety-nine out of every hundred would mechanically rush to the little rear door. I, therefore, regard this as a very important matter demanding immediate attention. It is my opinion that these pupils should be taught to enter the school by the large front doors, and that these doors should always be in such a condition that they could be easily opened. They are on the south side of the building, and I do not see the wisdom of keeping them continually fastened except on the occasion of a public examination. When Principal Anderson, Harper and others taught there, both teachers and pupils entered by the front door. To my mind, any other way is absurd.

Before closing, I beg to ask the Secretary to kindly inform the public whether it is the intention to have the boiler in this school tested, and his connections carefully examined previous to putting it into operation for the winter?

Yours truly,

A PARENT.

Sept. 22, 1887.

The City Schools.

SIR,—The Secretary of the School Board has not answered the question relative to the entrance of the school children to the Prince Street School. He has evaded the question, leaving people to imagine that they entered by the front or proper door to the school. What the regulations were when under the control of the Methodists is nothing to the public now. Rent is paid for the school house and all the accommodation in connection therewith. The public want a more satisfactory answer to the question, "Why are the children compelled to enter at the back door?"

TESTIMONIALS.

MESSRS. MCKINNON & McLEAN.—GENTLEMEN,—With reference to the Heating Apparatus put into my house by you last fall, I would respectfully state that it has given very great satisfaction. My house, as you are aware, stands in an isolated and exposed situation, yet during the coldest weather the heat could be regulated to any desirable temperature. My experience leads me to believe that the hot water system of heating, as put in by you, is superior to all other forms of heating I have seen, in its saving of fuel and labor, simplicity of working, cleanliness, and safety from fire, and I hereby recommend it as being the most healthful, comfortable, safe and economical in use. I further wish to express my satisfaction with the manner in which the work was done by you. Yours truly, SAMUEL PROWSE. House of Assembly, P. E. I., April 21st, 1887.

MESSRS. MCKINNON & McLEAN.—DEAR SIRS,—The Hot Water Apparatus which you put into our store and offices last fall has given perfect satisfaction. Yours truly, CARVELL BRUS. Ch'town, July 23, 1887—2 m 3aw
