Many Missed Sleep

A lot of fellows decided to watch the first half of the Riders-Lions game Wednesday night and then retire for an abbreviated night's sleep. Their thinking was that Lions would, at the end of the first half, have things well in hand and the rest of the contest would be a mere formality.

We're numbered among that group of individuals but we miscalculated. We didn't get to bed at half time but we were delighted that we didn't. We saw a great football contest and enjoyed every minute of the show. We're certain that these other fellows who started out with similar intentions to us didn't hit the hay' until those amazing Roughriders from Regina had deadlocked the best-of-three western final and forced a third and deciding contest this afternoon.

We have always wanted to see these British Columbia Lions get into a Grey Cup classic. The way the folks around Vancouver have backed the Leos since the team went there is surely something. We were wondering when the day would arrive that these folks would get an opportunity to see their own 'darlings' in the biggest football classic in Canada.

We think this is the year. Despite the great comeback by the Roughriders on Wednesday, we feel the Lions will snarl loud enough today to turn back the invaders from Saskatchewan. But the only trouble with the whole setup at present is that we aren't overjoyed at all about this thing coming to pass.

The way these Roughriders have been bouncing back has captured the hearts of football fans right across Canada. We know that British Columbia folks aren't enthused over their doings but the rest of the people have been captured by these followers of Bob Shaw. That comeback Wednesday was one of their greatest games ever. Lions had won ten straight at Empire Stadium. They hadn't been beaten all season until Regina threw the 13-8 upset.

Much as you like to see a team win a series, it's mighty hard to get yourself enthused about hollering against a group of fellows who refused to accept defeat. These Riders are such a group and although they'll be underdogs again today, you can bet your last dollar that all these Saskatchewan boys think they are going to represent the west in The Grey Cup game.

Dramatic Comeback

THAT dramatic touchdown on third down Wednesday was a thing of beauty. Ron Lancaster, the Ottawa castoff, was on Lions 33 yard line. It was third and eight with Lions in front 8-3. Word came from Bob Shaw to 'go for it' and Ron called his boys into the huddle. Dick Cohee, the gamest man on either team on Wednesday, was given his instructions. Lancaster was to try to hit him in the end zone. The play worked perfectly as Lions and their supporters were stunned in amazement. The convert was good and Riders had a 10-8 edge. The extra three points were 'icing on the cake' as the Shawmen refused to give up another point to the hometown Lions.

These kind of things shouldn't happen again today. Lions know what they are up against. There'll be certainly no complacency in the Leos' camp. They fully realize the abilities of these Regina boys and they'll take every precaution to make sure things don't go astray again. They'll need to be on the alert every moment because Shaw and his boys have a barrel-full of tricks.

Pick Lions _ Like Riders

AND so, although we pick Lions to make the grade this afternoon, we are hoping we are wrong. As much as Vancouver deserves a crown, we can't get ourselves up to cheering against a band of fellows who have provided such thrills as these Regina boys.

This should be a dramatic encounter today. Everything favors the Lions to come through. They'll have over 35,000 fans roaring their heads off, hoping to bring about a Vancouver victory. They'll have far more reserve strength than the 'much-tapped' Riders. They'll be playing on the field that has seen them chalk up ten victories in eleven starts. Yet despite all this, Vancouver will be on edge on the eve of this battle. The Lions, considered a shoo-in for The Grey Cup, now could lose everything this afternoon. The thought is shocking to them and their army of followers. They still don't think such a tragedy will occur but the dread is there. Causing the dread are those horrible upstarts from Regina, a team that should have been on the sidelines long ago.

But here they are facing the Lions today in a sudden-death fixture for the western crown. It's downright frightening and Lions' backers are really on edge.

No doubt you'll be watching the action which comes our way at 6 o'clock this evening.

SAINTS HOST EAGLES TONIGHT

Jack Kane's Varsity Saints entertain RCAF eagles this evening in an exhibition hockey game at St. Dunstan's rink. Saints begin their intercollegiate play next weekend with games at Fredericton and Chatham. Kane wants to get a look at them in action before these struggles and tonight's skirmish with the Summerside Airmen is a grant opportunity. Here are the members of Saints' big line, from left to right: Vince Mulligan, right wing, Billy MacMillan, centre, and Gordie Whitlock, left wing. Tonight's action commences at 7 o'clock sharp.

National Hockey League Headed For Weird Year

By DAVE BETTS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Common sense dictates that big changes are in store for the National Hockey League.

If things continued for the rest of the 210-game season the way they've been going for the first 50 games, it would be one of the weirdest years in the annals of the sport.

Projecting statistics for the first quarter of the season, and multiplying everything by approximately four, here is the way things would stand Sunday night, March 22, 1964:

Bobby Hull of Chicago Black Hawks would have won the scoring title with a record 110 points and would have scored approximately 55 goals, eclipsing Maurice Richard's long-standing record of 50;

HAWKS FIRST

The Hawks would have finished atop the heap with 110 points, far better than Detroit Red Wings' record 101 in the 1950-51 season;

Boston Bruins would be in a coma at the bottom of the pile with only 30 points, far worse than their last-place 45 of last year.

Rookie John Ferguson of Montreal Canadiens would be among the top 10 scorers;

Perennial leaders Gordie Howe of Detroit and Frank Mahovlich of Toronto Maple Leafs would be well down on the list;

Defenceman Tim Horton would be Toronto's leading point-getters;

And New York Rangers' goalie Jacques Plante, six-time winner of the Vezina Trophy, would have had 210 goals scored against him.

UNLIKELY TO HAPPEN

No one can say that some of these strange things will not happen, like Hull becoming the greatest scorer of all time. But the most ardent Horton fan for instance, would be loathe to predict the rugged defensive star will wind up with more points than Mahovlich, Dave Keon or George Armstrong.

So, something's got to give.

Things could start getting back on an even keel this weekend when four games are scheduled. Tonight the Bruins will invade Toronto for the second time and will try to even their series. The Leafs have won two of the three previous encounters.

Sunday Toronto moves to New York, Detroit is at Boston and second-place Montreal tackles the high-flying Hawks in Chicago.

Some hockey experts feel that the league is lop-sided, not because the Hawks are playing any better than they did last year, but because a form of sleeping sickness has struck the other five clubs.

Riders Determined To Win 2nd Contest

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders will try to prove to football fans across the country Sunday that they're not as bad as they looked a week ago when they were humiliated 45-0 by Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the opener of the two-game, total-points Eastern Football Conference finals.

Nobody in the Ottawa camp has been rash enough to predict that Riders can overcome the overwhelming Ticat lead in the final game of the series in Hamilton and go on to the Grey Cup game in Vancouver Nov. 30.

But there's a grim determination among the Riders to at least win the game and thus partially wipe out the memory of a day in which they appeared to be able to do nothing right.

General manager Red O'Quinn said that the one-sided loss was especially unfortunate since the Riders enjoyed such a good season up to that point. Picked for last place, they finished in second and were unbeaten in eight straight home games.

"But the fans remember how you played in November, not in September and October," said O'Quinn.

Coach Frank Clair, who says the team pride is at stake Sunday, plans two lineup changes. He'll use Don Estes at defensive tackle instead of Gilles Archambeault, and plans to have halfback Ernie White on offence in place of Joe Williams.

Clair says losing the series won't be too bitter a pill to swallow as long as Riders "make a respectable showing in this second game.

Quarterback Russ Jackson appeared to sum up the feeling among Riders when he said overtaking Hamilton wasn't impossible.

"Anything can happen in sport," the all-star quarterback said.

Sunday's game starts at 2 p.m. EST and will be televised by the CBC and CTV networks. There'll be no local blackouts.

Top Racing Card Goes Here Today

Another fine harness racing program is on tap for Charlottetown Driving Park this afternoon.

Promoter and classifier Frank Acorn has again lined up eight sizzling dashes and action promises to be fast and furious this afternoon.

The free-for-all has six starters for the word in dashes four and eight. Harry Poulton has drawn the rail with his Jolly Dick in the first outing and this should make Harry's pacer tough to beat in the half-mile jaunt. Trying to do just that will be WMX, Izzie Reynard, Loraine's Watchim, Lizzie Clegg and Susan Pointer. Both these dashes should be sizzlers.

Races three and seven have a full complement of eight with Lucky Lark waiting around as an also elegible. The first trip of this class will be the first ex-actor and it surely should be rough picking them 1-2 in his outfit. The starters are Callie Hal, Clover Boy, Cyclone Kelly, Ginger Will, Mary Leah, Brown Budlong, Chet Lynn Roya and Zither.

The junior free-for-all has six starter and you can expect a humdinger of a fight in these two outings. Don MacNeill drew the rail in the first trip with Leigh Semple's Moab. The others going are Dennis Herbert, The Sheik, Josedale co-Pilot, Dazzling Rush and Jean Clegg.

The first daily double will combine the junior free-for-all with another eight-horse event in which Frankie's Chief leaves on the rail. With Frankie's Chief will be The Gladiator, Diplomat Royal, Miss Ellis, Way Mon, Perfect Hal, Money Royal and O'Brien's Nightmare.

The entire show looks like a real crowd-pleaser. Racing commences at 1.45.

CLARENCE CAMPBELL

NHL Schedule Is Unchanged

MONTREAL (CP)—The National Hockey League announced Friday night all four weekend games will be played as scheduled.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, said the league was prepared to postpone the games if the United States government called for special mourning for President Kennedy.

But he said there had been no such proclamation from the White House and the NHL will follow the lead of the National Football League in going ahead with play.

Lions Choice For Ch'ship

VANCOUVER (CP)—Today is the day Saskatchewan Roughriders try to accomplish what no other team has ever done — complete a leap from third place to the Grey Cup football classic.

To make it, they have to defeat the favored British Columbia Lions in the rubber game of the best-of-three Western Football Conference final.

The Lions won the first game 19-7 in Regina a week ago. But the Riders came back Wednesday in the snow to win 13-8 here.

B.C. is a seven-point favorite to wrap it up at 2 p.m. PST at Empire Stadium. It took a 16-point odds advantage into the second game.

Allard Leads Scoring Race

NEW GLASGOW (CP) — Jacques Allard of Windsor Maple Leafs, last year's individual scoring champion in the Nova Scotia Senior Hockey League, is rolling away from the field again this season.

Allard, sharp-shooting centre with the league-leading Leafs, has 32 points on 22 goals and 20 assists. He is 13 points up on Simon Nolet of Windsor who has 30. Mark Dufour and Rod Gaudreault, both of Windsor, are next with 37 and 33 points respectively.

Oscar Gaudet of Moncton Hawks is in fifth spot with 32 points.

Tight Contest Is Predicted

HALIFAX (CP) — Coaches of both football teams in today's fifth edition of the Atlantic Bowl, Friday prdeicted a "tight" game.

Neither Don Loney of St. Francis Xavier University X-Men nor Dalton White of Toronto University Blues would go much further.

Loney said he figured the game would "probably be decided by a touchdown or even a point."

White would say only that it would be "tight" and that he felt varsity was "capable of winning."

Both coaches made their cautious predictions following a press conference and luncheon here. The game will begin at 1 a.m. and will be telecast by CBHT.

BOWLING AT Basilica Recreation Centre

By Counter Pin

This is the second of a series of columns to keep you informed about bowling at the Basilica Recreation Centre.

History of Bowling

Bowling may autaentically trace its history back 5000 years. Sir Flinders Petric Emeritus Professor of Egyptology at the University of London, discovered implements for a game similar to our modern ten-pins in the grave of an Egyptian child. The date of burial was authentically placed at 5200 B. C. The place of bowling origin in Europe is traced to Nortaern Italy. In the Alpine regions during Caesars time a game similar to the modern Italian "Bocc" was played.

Well, the big chatter at the Centre this week, was the stunning upset of Barbers over the City Police in the Commercial League. The Barbers led by Len Phillips and Reg MacDonald shaved four points from the Police on Wednesday night. Rumor has it that Harry Senters' "Duck" had something to do with the Barbers victory. Apps and Bomber need Sergeant Neil back in the line-up if they are to stay on top of the pack. The line-up for the Supercuts is Joe Dykeas, Len Phillips, Harry Sentner, Reg MacDonald, Keith Wakelin, Matt McCarron, Bill MacInnis and Gordon MacKenzie. Tied for the league lead are Barbours' Dodgers and Martin' Larks.

The B. Y. C. league with fourteen teams are having a most successful season, Don MacLean's team is leading at present but are being chased closely by No. 5, Louis Smith. The ery was heard last week in the restaurant, to break up the "Cakekees" or Don MacLean's League leaders. Members of Don's team are Edna McAdam, Glen McCabe, Shirley Murray, Keith McCabe, Shirley Reid, Cuker Pineau.

The Bankers League under the guidance of John Comeau are in terrific competition. The Aces are out in front with 32 points. Members of the Aces team are Georgina Reeves, M. Peters, Brenda Howatt, John Comeau, Gennie Pineau, Stirling Roberts.

Butch McGee's team are currently leading the Pius X league, members of the aggregation are Phyllis Walsh, Jay Dowling, Mary Currie, Hector Arsenault, Reina Breau, Butch McGee.

A large number of bowlers have been enquiring re casual bowling. There is casual bowling every day from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. except Saturday and in the evenings from 5 - 7.
