NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP) — A sluggish stock market took a fairly sharp loss Monday as financial analysts saw the list as going through a further "consolidation" of its large gain early this month.

As one advisory service noted the big investment companies have already invested most of their assets in common stocks and "obviously can't do much buying unless they also do some selling."

The big three auto stocks declined despite their recent reports of big profits. Chrysler fell 1⅜ to 51½ on 52,200 shares. General Motors slipped ⅜ to 94⅞. Ford dropped ¼.

The market remained on a fairly even keel until the final hour when traders, giving up on the idea that the market might rally after last week's irregular retreat, began to unload.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 4.59 to 841.05.

Brokers took the setback in stride, however, remarking that the volume of 4,090,000 shares was pretty light for 1964. It compared with 4,220,000 Friday. The dullness of trading showed there was no real rush to get out of stocks.

AP AVERAGE SLIPS

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.4 to 318.8 with industrials down 2.1, rails down .9 and utilities down .5.

The most active stock was Sunshine Mining which advanced 1⅜ to 24¾ on 84,600 shares.

Among Canadian issues traded International Nickel lost ⅞, Aluminium Ltd., Canadian Pacific and Distillers Seagrams ½. Dome Mines gained ½, Hudson Bay Mining ¼.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly lower. Fargo Oil gained ⅛, Preston 1-16. Canadian Javelin lost ⅞, Jupiter Corp. ¼.

Charges Dismissed In Big Stock Fraud

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—U.S. District Judge T. Emmet Clarie ordered all charges dismissed Saturday against three men accused of stock fraud in a huge Newfoundland iron mining operation.

The judge said the three were denied their constitutional rights when the government kept a federal grand jury indictment against them secret for 13 months.

The three defendants ordered freed of charges are Robert M. Sherwood of Montreal and Geneva, Switzerland and Milton Berman and Arthur I. Korn, both of New York.

Charges against a fourth defendant, John C. Doyle, chairman of the board of Canadian Javelin Limited, are still pending.

Doyle, however, has already contended that he was promised immunity from the charges in return for his co-operation in clearing up U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission complaints about the operations of Canadian Javelin in 1958.

A hearing for Doyle is scheduled for today before Judge Clarie.

RIGHTS IMPAIRED

His lawyer said he would argue then that Doyle's constitutional rights also were impaired by the sealing of the indictment. Doyle had not presented such a motion earlier.

In dismissing the charges, Judge Clarie criticized the government's failure to disclose the charges for 13 months after the grand jury returned its indictment as an unnecessary delay that was unfair to the defendants.

The four defendants were indicted in July 1962, but the indictment was not made public until August 1963. The government said that one reason was that Sherwood and Berman were reported to be out of the country.

A five-year statute of limitations expired on the charges in September 1962, two months after the indictment. Judge Clarie said that keeping an indictment secret after the statute of limitations had expired was "not in keeping with our heritage."

It amounted to the government's "lying in wait with a secret indictment," he said.
