

Jewell-Acorn Wedding

A simple but pretty ceremony took place at St. Peter's Cathedral, Charlottetown, on Saturday afternoon, November 28th at 2:00 o'clock, when the Rev. Canon G. E. Moffatt united in holy matrimony, Helen Shirley, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Acorn, and Allison Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Jewell.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Garth Hooper of Millton. The best man was Wendall McLaine. The ushers were Earl Jewell and Robert S. Acorn. Miss Sue Brennan played the Wedding March and other appropriate music. The bride wore a ballerina-length dress of deep pink embroidered net over taffeta and close fitting feather hat to match, with navy accessories, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her attendant wore green taffeta with white hat and accessories and carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Describes Progress In Developing Ottawa As Capital

"The Federal District Commission is making definite progress towards developing Ottawa into one of the finest capitals in the world," said Dr. J. H. Blanchard, former vice-principal of Prince of Wales College, in addressing the Rotary Club at their weekly dinner in the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

Dr. Blanchard, who is the Commission representative on the Island or ten members, one from each province of Canada, described the inauguration of the Commission and its objective. Beginning in a modest way under appointment of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1899, the organization made no spectacular move towards the over-all improvement and beautification of Canada's capital until 1946, when it became obvious that every province in the Dominion would share in the financial responsibility and should be given representation on the Commission.

The site of the present city of Ottawa was visited by French explorers in 1610, followed by Champlain in 1613 who has left to us a glowing account of the general location, referring especially to the Gatineau Valley and the beautiful Chaudiere and Rideau Falls. Following the war of 1812, the British authorities were anxious to have a route from Kingston, Ont., to Montreal, removed from the American border and as a result, in 1827, Col. By undertook to build a canal from Lake Ontario to the Ottawa river, using the Rideau river. At the mouth of this river, a settlement grew up under the name of "By-Town" which in 1855 was incorporated as a city under the name of Ottawa and became the capital of United Upper and Lower Canada on the recommendation of Queen Victoria. Being the centre of a great timber country, Ottawa rapidly

Two Missionaries From Africa Are Visiting Province

Two Franciscan Sisters, Missionaries from Africa, are now visiting the Island. Sister Annunziata Mahoney, a native of the Miramichi district in New Brunswick, was brought to the province by Mr. S. H. Burhoe when he held the regular executive meeting of the Community Club of Spring Park of the receipts taken in by the Club. During the meeting a motion was passed extending a vote of thanks to all who made the show such an attraction.

A committee comprising Mrs. T. Hansen, Mrs. E. Morrison and Mrs. C. Shaw was empowered to purchase a stove for the kitchen of the club. At the same time Mrs. Morrison, who is the convener of the proposed rummage sale, told the gathering that it would be held on December 5 at a place to be selected. It was also decided to hold a card party on December 9, followed by a social evening December 11.

Speaking of the fine race of people who inhabit Uganda, the Sisters described them as very intelligent and most interesting to work among. The first Catholic Missionaries went to the country in 1870 and the first Christians were put to death for their faith in 1886 by Mwanga the tribal king. At the present time there are approximately a million and a half Christians in the country with a total population of four million. There is an excellent school system of primary secondary and college status by both Catholic and Protestant missionaries under British Government grants and protection. Hospitals are also operated on capitulation grants and trained native nurses go all over East Africa to work in Hospitals when their training is complete. A recent expansion of the Franciscan Missionary Sisters of Africa has been successfully engaged whereby three hundred Native Sisters have established their own Order following the routine of the parent body.

The visiting sisters who have many interesting experiences to relate, are making their headquarters whilst on the Island at Mount St. Mary's, Charlottetown.

Card Of Thanks

I wish to thank Dr. McIntyre, Dr. Inman and staff of Montague Hospital. Also those who visited me, brought treats and gifts, sent cards to me while I was a patient there.

Cattle Feeding Tests At Farm

The second year of a three-year experiment in cattle feeding is in progress at the Experimental Farm here. The cattle are being fed in three groups with the group receiving silage being fed from an upright silo, the second group being fed from the horizontal silos and the third group being fed on the normal rate of hay. Mr. R. C. Parent, superintendent of the Experimental Farm, said yesterday that no conclusions could be drawn as yet regarding the value of the feeding, but it is expected that at the end of the three-year test there will be valuable information available to Island farmers. The purpose of making the test is to determine for cattle breeders here the effectiveness of silage feeding and the relative value of the upright and horizontal types as compared to the ordinary straight hay feed.

Capacity Audience Delighted By Show At P. W. C. Hall

The Great Morton and his dozen local subjects had the audience literally rolling in the aisles at the Prince of Wales Auditorium last evening as the show developed from the opener at 8:15 until the curtain was rung down at midnight. Unproportionally funny even while it's uncanny, the blend of mystery and mirth by a master showman must be ranked with the best of all entertainments that have played in Charlottetown. The audience couldn't get enough. They kept Morton and the 12 sound-asleep subjects on the stage far beyond the usual hour, and everyone was having a wonderful time. The fast moving show did not let the audience down for a second and in the second half, the Auditorium rocked with the antics of the men and women who were put to sleep by hypnosis. Able to hear and follow his suggestions while they slumbered, the dozen went through the motions of being passengers on a long bus ride, looking out of make-believe windows and brushing make-believe dust from their clothing. Their eyes tightly closed, they munched peanuts in a theatre and kicked the shells beneath the seats. When Morton said the mood was sad, they sobbed and sniffed.

Went Fishing

They fished from a mythical boat after baiting hooks. They pulled in their catch and cleaned it. When Morton said there was sand in their shoes off they came to for cleaning out. He said it was hot and the men doffed their suit coats. Then it was cold and one man used the floor rug for a blanket while two others tugged at a coat and cuddled under it. To wind up the show, presented under the auspices of the Centennial Y's Men's Club, Morton gives orders to the participants which they obeyed after awaking, without knowing why.

Sharpshooting

To open the performance, in which he demonstrated amazing powers of memory and astonishing skill with a 22 calibre rifle, the Great Morton had a young Charlottetownian named Morton on schedule by Hon. B. Earle MacDonald, Minister of Health on the stage. She had been placed in an hypnotic trance early in the afternoon and reclined on a bed in R.T. Holman's limited store where she was viewed by thousands as they filed past.

Local Blood Donor Clinics Slated Today

Hon. B. Earle MacDonald, Minister of Health and Welfare will officially open the Charlottetown Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic to be held at The Armouries beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon by being the "first" donor. It is fitting that Mr. MacDonald should act in this capacity since it was at the request of the Department of National Health and Welfare that the Can. Red Cross Society has undertaken the collection of blood for the manufacture of gamma globulin to help the fight against polio in addition to its ordinary commitments to supply the blood needed by patients in our local hospitals as well as for the armed services overseas and the civilian defence stockpile. The spade work for a successful clinic in Charlottetown has been done by members of the Junior Red Cross High School Council in the City Schools who arranged for the distribution of posters to all the business establishments and by the Charlottetown Red Cross Corps who have contacted the donors. It only remains for the public to respond generously to this appeal.
