The following action should be taken to improve your water supply system and to protect the Town generally:

1. Pump capacity and well production should be increased to upwards of 1000 imp. gals. per minute. Whether this can be best done by adding one 10" well or two wells will depend on this examination of your present well system, which we understand consists of 6" boreholes which are too small for good practice.

The rest of the recommendations have reference to other matters which do not concern the questions now in issue. It is clear therefore, that no mention was made by the firm of anything but a 10" hole, that is 12" down to bed rock and the balance of the hole 10", which was done in this case. This letter was signed by Mr. F. C. Wightman, head of the firm.

As the firm recommended one or two 10" wells, what right would a then employee, now no longer employed by them, and with very little experience, have in recommending something different than the recommendation of the firm. We think, and we know the public will also, that if he made such a recommendation, which we never heard of and therefore do not think he ever made, the same should not be given any consideration at all.

Delaney states that Mr. Spinney was present when the first measurements and test was made which is correct, but his implication as to the final measurement is very misleading. An effort was made to have the full board present at this time but Messrs. Delaney and Stewart were unable to attend. Mr. Spinney agreed to be present at the time set, namely 2 p.m. and all parties waited for about an hour and as he did not appear our Mr. Dewar proceeded to have the measurements taken. These measurements were carefully checked and we are fully satisfied that they are correct. After completion, Mr. Spinney arrived and upon being informed that they had been carefully taken, he stated that if we were satisfied he was also. We are surprised that Mr. Delaney should try to cast any doubt in the minds of the public in this regard and we can only say that if he were anxious to do his duty, he should have been there.

Mr. Delaney says that Mr. Spinney informed him that the quantity of water which could be pumped from the first well was 100 imp. gals. per minute and that he considered it a failure and was surprised when later passing, to see a pump house erected. We were unable to understand Mr. Delaney or any reliable person making such statements without first taking some trouble to verify the grounds of such information. The fact is that Mr. Spinney was not present when the final test was made and would have no personal knowledge upon which to base an opinion or give any facts. However, Mr. Delaney was present, also Mayor Widge, our Mr. Dewar and others.

Why then does Mr. Delaney give an opinion of Mr. Spinney who was not present instead of giving the facts as known by himself and the others that were present. He must have some motive or reason and the only one we can imagine is that he did not wish to state the facts but tried to mislead.

Upon a recent conversation with Mr. Wightman, he stated that we have no reason to be disappointed in Mr. Spinney's work and that he is producing approximately 172,900 imperial gallons per day.

In regard to the pump house, we fall to see how Mr. Spinney or for that matter Mr. Delaney himself could be surprised to see one erected, for tenders were called by the Board for its erection by the unanimous vote of the Board and Mr. Delaney brought in and submitted a tender from the County Construction Co. Ltd. of which he is a substantial shareholder. However, another party received the contract on account of being the lowest (lower by $379.). Mr. Delaney was that his company did not receive the contract. Mr. Delaney's question, therefore, as to why Mr. Dewar went against the advice of the consulting engineer is wholly imaginary and without any foundation whatever.

As regards the contract for the

Personals

His Excellency, Bishop James Boyl has returned from Antigonish where he was visiting last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Noonan left Feb. 1st for Brantford, Ontario, where they will visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dorsey. Mr. and Mrs. Noonan intend to visit relatives in U. S. A. before returning home.

well Mr. Delaney states he will publish the contract. We suggest to do so and in fairness publish the others also to show that the contract awarded was to the lowest tender. As regards the second well, what object would there be in asking again for tenders when we already had the tenders from companies interested? It was considered that we would be doing the right and proper thing in having the second well bored on the same terms as the first one. We feel sure that the public also agree.

Mr. Delaney refers to a 12" well, which is misleading, as the 12" only goes down to bed rock and the well itself continues to 10". We agree with Mr. Delaney's information that a pump 50 gals. per minute from an 8" well but it can be pumped cheaper from a 10" well as less turbine bowls would be required on the pumps, hence less horse power required and the draw down is less on the larger well, resulting in less column and less bowls; this would make the price of the pump cheaper and the operational cost on the larger well, which is the larger affair from day to day, is therefore much less.

Mr. Delaney refers to a visit he had from a representative of a well digging company who, he says, gave him certain quotations and that upon being informed by us that the party he referred to was not competent, we proceeded to overrule him and gave the contract to the Trask Well Co. We cannot imagine Mr. Delaney or anyone else wishing to give a contract to a party who according to our information and belief was not competent. The party Mr. Delaney had reference to was a one-man company in Nova Scotia who was doing certain work on the mainland but whose work would not meet our requirements.

If Mr. Delaney were consistent in his expressed desire to save money, we are at a loss to understand why he gave work and contracts to the previous mentioned company, of which he was a large shareholder, and involving many thousands of dollars of the Town's money, without the consent or even the knowledge of the rest of the Board. In conclusion, Mr. Delaney expresses the hope that his facts and figures will refute the statements made by us. We regret that his hope is doomed to disappointment for we have shown the true facts and figures which show conclusively that the facts and figures stated by him were fallacious.

Returns From Meetings Of Farm Groups

A past president of the Provincial Federation of Agriculture, Mr. R. Allison Proffitt, Freetown, returned home Friday evening after attending the annual meetings of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture in Calgary and the Dairy Farmers of Canada in Winnipeg.

Mr. Proffitt, the Island director on the Canadian Federation executive and also the Island representative to the Dairy Farmers Association, was in western Canada for about two weeks.

Highest problem the Federation of Agriculture executive dealt with, was that of opening the live hog market to the United States, he reported. The western farmers were strongly in favor of this move while those in the east opposed the matter. The resolution was temporarily shelved to be considered at a later date.

Calgary Highlight Highlight of the Calgary meeting was the speech of the Federal Minister of Agriculture, Hon. James Gardiner, he stated. During his speech the Federal Minister stated that serious consideration was being given to the active support of potatoes in certain communities, said Mr. Proffitt. Mr. Proffitt was one of the members on a panel discussion at the Dairy Farmers meeting and one of the three men appointed to the policy committee of the association. This committee drafted the policies which will be sent to the Federal Cabinet through the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Highlight of the dairy farmers policies was one asking for a floor price on butter of 62 cents a pound, he stated. The meeting also asked that a high tax be placed on foreign oils which are used in the manufacture of oleomargarine. They will also press for other policies which will protect the dairy industry, he said. Mr. Proffitt continued from Calgary to the western coast. While in British Columbia he visited the Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association plant, one of the largest of its kind in North America.

To Use Potatoes In Paper Making

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., Feb. 3 — Will a mixture of potatoes and wood pulp produce a better grade of paper? Potato growers and state agricultural officials, encouraged by a preliminary test, intend to find out. Maine's big paper industry is co-operating.

An experiment in which refuse from the manufacture of potato starch was used showed that the combination with wood pulp made a paper of greater strength and finer quality, Agriculture Commissioner A. K. Gardner said yesterday. Now a full-strength potato mixture will be tried out.

If the process is successful and industrially feasible, it would provide a welcome boost to the potato industry. This season, half the state's 61,000,000-bushel harvest remains to be disposed of. Five million bushels were dumped.

Three paper mills will make trial runs of wood pulp-potato pulp paper. The University of Maine's paper and pulp department also will make pilot tests.

Joseph T. Wright, a technical consultant, investigated the potato-paper idea. Seeking a use for waste from potato-starch factories, he got a paper mill interested enough to mix it with wood pulp. Then he turned to whole potatoes.

Gardner said the potatoes will be put through a hammer mill to beat them up. Then they'll be homogenized. The resulting creamy mixture will be cleared of grit and mixed with the wood pulp.

The potatoes, he said, would replace only a small amount of wood but important to the industry would be the additional outlet for off-grade stock.

Big Ships

rumors in Halifax cafes and taverns that some crew members still were unhappy and that attempts at damage were more serious than was apparent. There was a rumor that a party who held board ship under suspicion.

A naval spokesman pooh-poohed these reports tonight and declared: 1. There is no truth whatever in the report that any section of the ship's company has had leave stopped because it is under suspicion. Such people as stokers were required to remain aboard merely to make necessary repairs and checks. 2. Damage was confined to the main bearings and pumps associated with them. There was no attempt to damage any other part of the ship. He said the Maggie saboteurs apparently got their idea from similar incidents aboard the British warships Vengeance and Thesus at Portsmouth last year. Sand and filings had been found in the main bearings of those vessels just before they were scheduled to sail on exercises. Maggie's most serious trouble came June 4, 1946, when she went aground at White Point Beach, 70 miles southwest of here, during exercises. She was re-floated after four hours. Damage was estimated at $75,000. Her commander of that time, Commodore G. R. Miles, and the navigation officer, Lt. Cmdr. W. D. F. Johnston, were convicted of "hazarding" the ship, Commodore Miles lost his command.

Joint Tuxis - C.G.I.T. Week Observance

Davison in the morning service at the Charlottetown Baptist Church yesterday morning as the C.G.I.T. of that Church attended in a body in observance of Tuxis and C.G.I.T. Week. Also assisting in the service was Miss Ruth Good, Charlottetown.

National observance of the week from February 4 to 11 is being carried out throughout the Dominion as these groups of young men and young women meet to discuss their aims and objects. The Canadian Girls in Training, commonly known as the C.G.I.T., and the Tuxis movement with its Trail Rangers and Tuxis boys are two organizations which are training leaders to assume tomorrow's responsibilities.

Formed in 1915 by a group of interested people who met to discuss the teen-aged girl and her problems, the C.G.I.T. has grown up today there are more than 30,000 members in Canada, with groups in India, China, Japan, Bermuda, Africa and Trinidad.

Both the Tuxis and the C.G.I.T. follow a program based on a Bible verse — Luke 2:52, "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

Major MacRae is married and has one son. The bride, given in marriage by her brother Philip wore a street length dress of plum colored velvet with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses and maiden hair. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls with matching earrings and she carried a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The groom was ably supported by Mr. W. M. Gallant. The bride's mother wore a dress of black tulle and a corsage of white mums. The groom's mother also wore black with a corsage of white mums.

Following the ceremony breakfast was served to approximately seventy-five guests at the home of Mrs. W. M. Gallant sister of the bride. The dining room was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers, and from a large bell suspended from the ceiling tiny streamers of white ribbon descended to a three tier wedding cake, which adorned the breakfast table. Toasts to the bride were proposed by Rev. T. P. Butler and Rev. L. P. Callaghan. Later in the day the bride and groom left on a short honeymoon trip through the Maritimes, the bride travelling in a winter white coat and hat with black accessories. There were a number of guests assembled to welcome the newly married couple. The evening was very pleasantly spent in music and dancing, the music being furnished by Mr. Lorne McKay. Many and beautiful gifts were received by the bride and groom including a substantial sum of money. Preparing For B.I.S. Concert

At an enthusiastic meeting held recently in the Whelan building, much progress was made with the preparation of the play "The Irish Professor", to be staged March 16th and 17th, by the Benevolent Irish Society in the Prince Edward Theatre.

Several scintillating specialties for afternoon and evening performances, were carefully selected from the numbers submitted by Bros. Joseph Costello and A. A. Dowling of the specialties committee. Bro. Preston Curley, ticket committee, reported the printing of a large number of tickets in anticipation of the capacity crowds of previous years.

Concerted effort is being made to ensure a dramatic comedy of that fine quality for which the Benevolent Irish Society is noted.

R.C.A.F. Officers To Receive Decoration

Four Prince Edward Island men are included on the list of R. C. A. F. officers and men throughout the Dominion who will receive the Canadian Forces Decoration. The men listed include Group Captain H. G. Richards, O.B.E., Commanding Officer of Summerside Station, and three others who enlisted in Charlottetown. These are Sgt. C. H. Pickard, Cpl. J. W. Chambers and Cpl. E. W. Fairbairn, ferrier.

The Canadian Forces Decoration is awarded for 12 years service in either the Permanent or Reserve Forces, and is the first purely Canadian decoration for service of this nature. It is common to all the armed forces and supercedes various long service and good conduct awards peculiar to individual services, and which had no distinct Canadian connection.

Long-McNally Wedding

St. Patrick's Church, Fort Augustus was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, November 22nd, at 8.30 a.m. when Mary Josephine daughter of Mrs. Long and the late John Long of Midgell, was united in marriage to James E. son of Mrs. McNally and the late David McNally of Port Augustus.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. P. Butler who also celebrated the Nuptial Mass. The wedding march was played by Mr. Martin Power who also sang appropriate hymns during the Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Philip wore a street length dress of plum colored velvet with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses and maiden hair. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls with matching earrings and she carried a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Nutritionist Says Modern Housewife Is Poor Cook

TORONTO, Feb. 2 — (CP) — Many housewives are giving their husbands a diet which nutritionists would recommend to shorten Joseph Stalin's life, Dr. Gaylor Hauser, Chicago nutritionist, said here yesterday.

Addressing the Women's Canadian Club, Dr. Hauser outlined a diet of animal fats, white bread, boiled coffee and no vegetables or fresh fruit which is calculated to make anyone die younger.

Modern wives who don't stay home long enough to prepare sound meals for their husbands may soon be widows, he added.

Author of the book "Look Younger, Live Longer", Dr. Hauser said things growing on trees and saturated with sunshine "help to give you the three things doctors have found all people over 95 have: Slow, rhythmic heart beats, good digestions and happy dispositions."

Dr. Hauser said that in a tour of the British Isles, people complained they were forced to eat a protein-less diet. But they were ignoring one plentiful and cheap source of protein—skimmed milk. "A half cup of skim milk contains as much protein value as six lamb chops," the nutritionist said. "But what are they doing with their skim milk? They are making buttons and false teeth?"
