ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis Cardinals snapped a losing streak by Sam Jones. It was the first Cardinal victory at Busch Stadium this season.

Stan Musial, seven hits away from his 3,000th safety, was held hitless for the first time in 18 Cardinal games this year. He hit into a force play and bounced out on infield grounders three times.

Wally Moon, brought off the bench to start the game in another revamped lineup, drove in the second Cardinal run with a triple in the fourth and then scored on Hal Smith's single. Joe Cunningham walked ahead of Moon.
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wes Cov-

Milwaukee Braves from behind as they won their fifth straight by beating Cincinnati Redlegs 5-3.
It was the fifth victory for unbeaten Warren Spahn who was making his sixth start. Spahn, first in the majors to post five victories this season, also had three hits — a double and two singles. He drove in Milwaukee's first run.

NEW YORK (AP) — Big Bob Turley stayed unbeaten with his fourth victory Friday night, giving up seven hits, striking out nine and belting his second major league homer as the New York Yankees knocked off Washington's "contending" Senators 9-5.
DETROIT (AP) — Ray Boone broke out of a batting slump with a three-run homer in the first inning and the Detroit Tigers went on to defeat the Kansas City Ath-

Paul Foytack's four-hit pitching.
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ted Klu-zewski broke up a tight pitcher's battle with a lead off solo homer in the bottom of the 12th and earned the Pittsburgh Pirates a 1-0 victory Friday night over the Philadelphia Phillies and Robin Roberts.

Five World Records Are In Jeopardy At Relays

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Five world records seemed in jeopardy Friday as a huge field awaited tonight's 32nd running of the west coast relays.
Three world record-holders are competing in field events and might eclipse their marks in the pole vault, shot put and high jump. Other records in danger are the discus and mile relay.

Bob Gutowski, who cleared 15 feet 9 3/4 inches in the pole vault last year for a world record, heads the field in his event. The occidental college star faces at least three others who have cleared 15 feet—Ron Morris, for-

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

Bob Scheffing, manager of the Chicago Cubs, throughout most of 1957 would hardly have made people sit up and take notice had he made many public utterances.

Right now he's very much in the limelight because his Cubs are snarling at everybody they encounter in the National. To Scheffing certainly must go some of the credit for the club's lofty perch. So when he makes a statement these days, it's natural that folks pay more attention to him.

After his Cubs were subdued in the opener of their recent series with Fred Haney's Milwaukee Braves, Scheffing was out to give credit where credit was due. Warren Spahn had beaten them but he hadn't overpowered them. The Cubs got four runs and nine hits off Warren but the Braves finished up with double that number of runs.

"If he ever has to quit pitching," Scheffing said of the Braves' ace, "he ought to be able to make a living as an outfielder." Scheffing's point was well taken. For Spahn did not beat the Cubs solely with the left arm that has made him one of baseball's greatest pitchers. He also beat them with his bat, getting three hits in four times up and driving in three runs.

Yes, that afternoon Spahn was a better hitter than a pitcher.
He doubled twice, singled once and even laid down a sacrifice bunt.

In the words of Scheffing, "the guy gets better as he goes along."
Handy sort of gentleman to have around.

You certainly have read plenty about the Dodgers' famed Coliseum but we feel you can still stand a wee bit more. So here we go.

Statistics for the first nine games played there show that 82% of the balls hit to left field fall for base hits and of those hits, every sixth one is a home run. Thirty homers had been hit in those nine games.

Only 18% of the fly balls hit to left field in those games at the Coliseum were caught. In centre and right field, 67% were caught. All 30 home runs were hit either to left field or left centre.
In other National League parks, only 10% of all base hits have been homers. In Los Angeles, every sixth hit was a home run.

Of the first 111 fly balls hit to right and centre field, 38 fell safe and 73 were caught by fielders roaming in the Coliseum outfield.

Home runs? None.
Horace Stoneham, president of the San Francisco Giants, has turned down an offer to televise away from home games on a non-profit basis.

Westinghouse Broadcasters said they were willing to handle the games through its San Francisco station on a non-fee basis, paying only line charges and staff salaries to sponsors.
Stoneham shrugged his shoulders and said the club wasn't interested.

The old saying that a ball game is never over until the final out was more than proved this week on two occasions in the major leagues.

San Francisco went into the ninth trailing Pittsburgh Pirates 11-1 and folks got up and left the park in droves. They missed the best part of the afternoon show as the Giants rallied for nine runs, just missing tying up the encounter by a single tally.

Thursday afternoon the first moving Chicago Cubs held an 8-2 lead as the Cincinnati Redlegs came to bat in the top of the ninth. The Cubs had split a doubleheader with the Reds to open the five game series, then had proceeded to take the third and fourth games and seemed certain to win the series by a 4-1 margin. But the Birdie Tebbets coached gang finally came to life with a display of power that had been previously predicted of them. They sent eight runners scampering across home plate to take a 10-8 lead which the Cubs couldn't overcome in their half of the ninth.

The Cubs themselves did a bit of overhauling last week and they picked on the Milwaukee Braves for the humiliation. They traded the Braves 7-0 as late as the sixth yet they won the battle by an 8-7 score.

It's happenings such as these that make baseball the great game it is.

Milwaukee Braves must certainly feel that they need Wes Covington's bat to stay in the thick of the National League race.

Was returned to the lineup in time to see the Milwaukee club blow that 7-0 lead to the Chicago Cubs. Covington celebrated his return by slamming a home run but it wasn't enough to hold Bob Scheffing's boys in Check.

Was injured his knee in an exhibition game April 8 and the husky left fielder had plenty of trouble with it ever since.
He made no errors, no fly balls fell for hits that shouldn't have.
But the effort it took to get moving and his wobbly gait once he did get underway were proof that the Braves desperately needed his bag bat.

One writer covering this game said of the outfielder wearing a heavy steel ribbed brace to support his knee, that "he ran like a man crossing a bridge of wet spaghetti".
Now what would that be like?

Washington Senators continue to amaze the experts as well as the rest of the American League. Their now lofty position was certainly not expected by those "in the know" and we think probably manager Cookie Lavagetto is as amazed as anyone else.

They were sure a mean crew Thursday afternoon when they trimmed the disappointing Detroit Tigers 4-1 at Griffiths Stadium.
The fellow who undoubtedly thought them anything but genial hosts was young Bob Shaw, the starting hurler but with genial hosts were tuned in on that game and heard the story of the retiring first thirteen Senators he faced. Then the roof fell on top of him as the Nats came up with four base hits in the fifth, good for a pair of runs. They kept at him in the sixth, chasing him to an early shower with another brace of tallies.

Shaw was hurling a masterful game and the Nationals looked as if they were going to be muffed all day. The young hurler was half way to a no-hitter but he ended up with being charged with the loss.

Yes—real hospitality.

Parry O'Brien faces an old foe, Bill Neider, formerly of Kansas

The third record holder, high jumper Charlie Dumas, shoots at his recognized standard of 7 feet, world records have been broken or tied during the 31 years the relays were held here.

Softball League Holds Meeting

The City Softball League held its first meeting this year in the Union Hall on Queen Street last evening. Four local teams were represented at the meeting and two representatives from Summerside Air Force were in attendance. The representatives were from Barry's Flyers, Shamrocks, Junior B.Y.C., and Rollaway Aces.

There was considerable discussion on the matter of the Air Force team joining the league.
Everybody agreed that it would add more interest with an outside team participating.
The drawback on the matter of Summerside Air Force entering the league was the question of travelling expenses. Suggestions made by the Summerside representatives were that a higher registration fee be charged to an outside team, and that the extra charge be put in the league fund to defray expenses. A tentative agreement on the matter of schedule was made in that each team would play at Summerside once a month. In other words each local team would take their turn travelling to Summerside on weekends for a doubleheader and the airforce team would travel to

S'side Fight Card Real Thriller

Bud Ramsay of Alberton won a unanimous decision over Al MacKay of New Glasgow in the main event of a four-bout card at Civic Stadium last night. The fight was one of the best seen in Summerside in the past few years. Ramsay started slow, was behind MacKay in the early rounds but came strong and floored the New Glasgow boy for eight counts in the seventh and tenth rounds. MacKay looked to be out on his feet in the seventh but rallied to hold Ramsay fairly even until he was knocked down for the second time just before the bell that ended the fight.

"Peanuts" Arsenault had too much fire-power for Jimmy Stewart of New Glasgow who substituted for "slugger" Turnbull, in the semi-final.

Len Durelle of Bale St. Anne fought a draw with young Tiger Steele of Charlottetown in the special six-round go.

Wilf MacCluskey referred the special six-round bout and the main event. Bob Lund was the official in the ring in the curtain raiser and the semi-final bout.
The judges were W. MacCauswas the announcer, and Eric Sheen, the timer.
