PRAISES AIR FORCE

CAIRO (AP) — Air Marshal Mohammed Sidki Mahmoud said Thursday "Egypt now owns the greatest strike air force in the Middle East." He told a press conference to mark preparations for celebrating air force day Nov. 2. "Our air force matches any world air force with ultra-modern equipment and up-to-date training techniques." Egypt has a large force of Soviet transport planes, bombers and supersonic fighters.

Soviet Lull In Buying Is Marked This Year

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — Western businessmen here report a sharp reduction in Soviet orders for commercial products and industrial machinery.

There is always a lull in the weeks before the annual Soviet budget comes out in late November or December, for the budget gives purchasing agencies a line on how much they can spend. But the lull is more marked than usual this year.

Some representatives here have been told frankly that there is a shortage of funds due to the need to spend nearly $1,000,000,000 for foreign wheat.

"The hold-down is about 50 per cent due to the budget and about half due to the need to buy wheat," a Western diplomat said Wednesday.

One exception is machinery to make chemical fertilizers. Increased use of fertilizers is one point in Premier Khrushchev's program to boost agricultural production.

British, Italian, Japanese and West German firms are among those feeling the pressure. All are chary of mentioning figures.

West Germany, however, is not suffering greatly. It has been providing the Soviet Union about $330,000,000 worth of equipment a year. Representatives here indicated that much of that will continue because the machinery on order is so important to Soviet industry.

Soviet purchases outside the Communist bloc normally run about $1,000,000 to $1,200,000,000 a year.

Just how much spending money the Soviet Union has is always carefully guarded. Gold production is reputed to run from $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 a year.

That amount of gold has been sold annually on the European markets for several years to make up the chronic deficit between what Russia sold in the West and what it bought.

Some diplomats were taken recently on a tour of the Siberian gold mines. They said production is being stepped up. The mining is difficult and expensive since many of the deposits are in areas where the ground is permanently frozen.

Canada Turning To Movies In Drive For Export Sales

By KEN SMITH

MONTEBELLO, Que. (CP)—Canada is turning to the use of movies in the drive to obtain a larger share of overseas markets for Canadian-made products.

With the help of the National Film Board in Montreal, the federal department of trade and commerce has produced a series of 13 color and two black-and-white films, showing Canadian products ranging from prefabricated homes to vaccines and beef cattle.

Showing the 15 films to the annual meeting of the Canadian Exporters Association, Leslie Brown, assistant deputy minister of trade promotion, said the new films are entirely different from anything the department has tried in the past.

"They are designed to stress, briefly and with impact, the skill and know-how of Canadians and the high level of quality and the usefulness of Canadian finished products."

Businessmen who saw the previews were mostly enthusiastic about the possibilities of the new venture.

GET WIDE DISPLAY

The films, lasting five to 10 minutes, are to be distributed to trade commissioners around the world. Commentaries in various languages have been prepared for the benefit of foreign businessmen.

To be sent out with the films is a supply of background information on the various industries so the trade commissioner will be able to deal with any questions that might arise.

The films are planned, Mr. Brown said, for showing to individual businessmen or small groups who are looking for a particular product.

Mr. Brown said the department hopes the films will encourage private firms to produce their own for showing to prospective overseas clients.

"Whether we should continue the series by adding other subjects will depend entirely on their usefulness in practical terms of obtaining business abroad. . . .

"The expenditures of substantial sums of money cannot be authorized unless we know pretty well that it brings returns commensurate with the costs."

REACTION GOOD

General reaction among the scores of exporters who viewed the films was favorable. There was almost unanimous agreement that the films could do what they're intended to—excite interest in potential customers.

But there was also agreement that any firm hoping to make a sale will have to follow up with a direct approach to a buyer.

"Films by themselves won't sell anything," Mr. Brown said. "But they may be another aid."

Tried Drug, Girl Dies Of Cancer

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Diane Lindstrom, 18, who chose treatment with Krebiozen, a controversial cancer drug, rather than have her leg amputated, died in hospital here of cancer.

Diane was scheduled to undergo amputation of her right leg last Feb. 14. Her father told reporters he had conferred with Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, Krebiozen backer, about his daughter's bone cancer and then let her decide the choice of her future treatment.

"It's her life and her leg," her father said. "She is almost an adult. The decision was hers. She's the one who said she'd like to give it (Krebiozen) a try."

After her decision, Diane's physician, Dr. Robert E. Heerens, withdrew from the case and called for a government ban on Krebiozen in clinical use.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration recently banned Krebiozen from inter-state shipment because the drug's developers withdrew an application regarding experimental drugs. The FDA had described Krebiozen as an inexpensive and common body chemical called creotine and said the drug was worthless in treating cancer.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1♦	1♠	?

What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠84 ♥96 ♦AJ752 ♣KQ83
2. ♠92 ♥AKJ5 ♦Q6 ♣KJ954
3. ♠KJ93 ♥QJ6 ♦3 ♣AJ842
4. ♠KQ2 ♥AJ83 ♦Q95 ♣KJ9
5. ♠— ♥KJ872 ♦KQ84 ♣AJ63

1. Two clubs. The hand is too good for a simple raise to two diamonds, and not quite good enough for a jump raise to three diamonds (forcing). The best way to handle hands that are in between a single and double raise is to bid a side suit first and then raise partner's suit. Such a sequence is not forcing and permits partner to go on or stop, depending upon whether or not his opening bid was a minimum.

2. Two clubs. Here the intention is to arrive at a game contract eventually, since there is an opening bid facing an opening bid, but what will ultimately prove to be the best contract is at the moment in doubt. All we can do in this situation is try to tell partner as much as possible about our high-card values and distribution.

The first step in this direction is to bid the longer suit, clubs, intending to follow this with a heart bid next. Partner will thus learn of the high-card values, since we plan to bid twice, and will also learn at the same time that the clubs are greater in length than the hearts, since, otherwise, we would have named the hearts first.

3. Double. If partner has a normal opening bid, there is a good chance of collecting a fat penalty. The double is for business, but partner is not required to stand for it if his values are offensive rather than defensive.

There is every indication that we can take four or five tricks against a spade contract, and partner will normally have three or four defensive tricks. The double is therefore likely to produce the best possible result, especially since there is no assurance that our hand can produce a game.

4. Three notrump. Game is a practical certainty and notrump is clearly the best denomination. The jump to three notrump shows 16 or 17 high-card points and notrump distribution. At the same time, the bid invites partner to go on towards a slam if he has the appropriate values.

5. Two spades. The cuebid shows first-round control of the opponent's suit and expresses great interest in reaching a slam contract. Obviously, there are excellent prospects here for a diamond slam, and the best time to convey the good news to partner is right now.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
